

John Crowe Ransom To Lecture Here; Sophomim Sponsors Visit To Sewanee

Jones To Leave; Webb Will Resume Teaching

Mr. Charles Thomas, Admissions Director, Recalled Into Navy

Speaker Founded Kenyon Review

Ransom One Of Foremost Living American Poets

By G. Dent

On February 28 Mr. John Crowe Ransom, distinguished scholar, poet, editor, will present a lecture on a particular phase of English literature to students, faculty, residents here. Sophomim literary society is the sponsor of this unusual event, which brings to Sewanee one of the foremost living American poets.

Mr. Ransom, who is at present editor of the Kenyon Review, the literary magazine of Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, has long been a friend and associate of Mr. John Palmer, editor of the Sewanee Review. Robert Penn Warren, author and close friend of Sewanee, was at one time a student of Ransom.

Born in nearby Pulaski, Tennessee, Mr. Ransom began his literary career at Vanderbilt University from which he received his A.B. degree in 1909. The following three years he spent as a Rhodes scholar at Oxford, taking his Bachelor's degree in 1912 in Classics and Mathematics at Christ Church College.

Returning from England in 1914, he became a professor in the English department of Vanderbilt where he remained until 1937. The same year he joined the English staff at Kenyon and the following year he founded the now-famous Kenyon Review.

The honors accorded Mr. Ransom are both noteworthy and numerous. He was a professor at Kenyon throughout this country and abroad. In 1931 he was a Guggenheim fellow at the University of the Southwest, Exeter. In 1929 he was Phi Beta Kappa poet at Harvard.

Mr. Ransom has always been regarded as a writer of the South and instigator of Agrarianism in writing. He worked with twelve other authors on the publication, 77 Lake Myraid, a defense of Southern agrarian traditions.

His poetry became known chiefly through his interest in Christopher Morley. Also Ransom was the founder and editor of the Fugitive, a Southern journal devoted to the publication of original verse. Among his posthumous works are: Poems About God, Chills and Four Poems, and Two Gentlemen In Bonds.

The lectures presented by a series of literary organizations by the Sophomim chapter of Sigma Upsilon, national literary fraternity. Mr. Ransom, a member of the fraternity since 1907, has been recognized by some leading critics as one of the greatest living poets. Meeting and hearing him should prove a memorable experience for all on the mountain.

CORRECTION: DEBATERS RANK SH AMONG II

Due to an incorrect statement made in an interview, the Purutz mistake-keenly reported last week that "Sewanee finished near the end of the standings" in the Debate Tournament here at Sewanee. Actually, Sewanee placed fifth in a field of eleven, ranking higher than Washington and Lee, Vanderbilt, and Davidson, among others.

The records of the Sewanee teams of Patterson and L. Myers and Lachmon-R. W. Thomas were bettered by last year's team of 34 teams entered in the tournament.

Five of the six Sewanee teams contained one freshman member whose first tournament this one. The sixth was made up of two freshmen.

Hal McIntyre and his saxophone will be the feature attraction at the Friday night dance of the Mid-Winter Set Feb. 9-10. The German Club is the sponsor of the orchestra. Clyde Frank and his orchestra will follow on Saturday night. The largest attendance of the year is expected at this set.

Vice-Chancellor Goes To Atlantic City And Washington To Confer

Believes ROTC Unit Will Be Installed Here by July 1

In an interview Sunday afternoon Dr. Boylston Green announced that he had received assurance that an ROTC unit would be established at the University of the South by July first. His official announcements of such installations properly come from an armed services. Dr. Green made no further statement for publication at this time.

Formal notification is expected some time between February 20 and March 20.

Dr. Green returned to the campus Saturday after an absence of more than a week.

In Washington he talked with Senators Kafauver and MacKellar and John A. Winfrey, of the Naval Bureau of Personnel, and Mr. R. N. Thurston, civilian coordinator for Air Force units.

Dr. Green attended the annual meeting of the American Association of Colleges in Atlantic City. About 650 college presidents were present. After meeting with many other college presidents, Dr. Green came to the conclusion that the situation at Sewanee is better than at many other schools and especially the larger universities. He believes that in Sewanee, students, through more intimate and frequent contacts with deans and advisors, receive more factual information about the draft situation and about the possibility of remaining in college.

Dr. Green expressed the opinion that the best thing for Sewanee students to do now is to remain in the University. Recently he has advised the parents of several students to that effect.

In New York he conferred with the General Education Board of the Rockefeller Foundation, and with Mr. Albert Wood, a member of the Board of Regents, and Mr. Tom Ware, Secretary of the New York City Alumni Association.

Kline Flies Sewanee ROTC Bid To Macon

Captain Kline has recently returned from a trip made at the request of the Vice-Chancellor to establish direct liaison connections with the general of the 14th Air Force, whose area includes Tennessee. Dr. Green directed contacts on behalf of an ROTC unit with the U. S. Air Force. He also wanted calls to be made on the commanding general of the 3rd Army, with headquarters in Atlanta. At Macon, Ga., Capt. Kline presented Sewanee's application for an ROTC unit to Major-General Charles E. Thomas, commander of the 14th Air Force. The general suggested that the University's application be taken directly to Washington from his headquarters, in addition to the negotiations already being personally conducted by the Vice-Chancellor.

Upon the orders of the Vice-Chancellor, Sewanee's application was modernized by Dean Baker and the Sewanee staff, and was flown to Washington. These matters required two flights to Macon, Ga. and one to Washington by Capt. Kline in his private plane. They all were completed within three days.

Georgetown Crushes Sewanee Debaters

Last Friday night proved fatal to the members of the Sewanee Debate Team as they lost four out of four debates against a well-trained group from Georgetown College, of Georgetown, Kentucky.

The topic "Resolved, that the non-commercial nations should form a new international organization," was argued negatively for Sewanee by two teams consisting of Mike Fullerton and Clifford Davis, and Al Reynolds and Bill Roberts. Arguing the affirmative for the Mountain debaters were Jerry Stallings and Frank Hill, and Brown Patterson and Lucas Myers.

Al Reynolds, President of the Sewanee Debate Council, had nothing but praise for the debaters from Georgetown. "They were just plain good," he stated.

Mr. John Rison Jones will receive a leave of absence from the University at the end of the current semester to attend the University of North Carolina where he will receive his masters degree at the end of the summer. In the fall Mr. Jones plans to attend the famous Russian Institute of Columbia University in New York. This institute was established in 1946 by the Rockefeller Foundation for the purpose of the development of research in the field of social sciences and humanities as applied to Russia. Mr. Jones is vitally interested in Russian diplomacy, a field which first interested him at the University of North Carolina in preparation for the writing of his thesis. Upon completion of his Institute work Mr. Jones plans to pursue his teaching career.

Since his graduation from Sewanee in 1929, Mr. Jones has been an instructor in the history department of the University. While a student at the University Mr. Jones took an active part in the Sigma Nu fraternity. Blue Key, Sophomim, Pan-Hellenic Council, and Phi Kappa Psi, and one of the founders of the Wellington Club. Mr. Jones also served abroad in the infantry of the U. S. Army during the last war.

Mr. Jones leaves the University in February. Mr. John Webb will again resume his position on the faculty as an assistant professor of history. Mr. Webb has been at Duke University for one semester and is scheduled to receive his Ph.D. in history this month. Mr. Webb holds a B.A. degree from Duke University and an M.A. degree from Yale.

Bishop Welles Will Preach In All Saints

The Rt. Rev. Edward Randolph Welles, Bishop of West-Missouri, will preach at the eleven o'clock service at All Saints' Chapel Sunday, January 21.

Bishop Welles received his A.B. degree from Princeton University in 1929 and was awarded his B.A. degree from Oxford University in 1930. He then attended General Theological Seminary in New York, receiving his diploma in 1931 and his S.T.B. in 1932. He earned his M.A. in Oxford in 1934.

It was in 1950 that Bishop Welles attained the height of his career when he received his S.T.D. from General Seminary and his D.D. from Missouri Valley College and Nashotah House, Wisconsin.

Bishop Welles made a preaching tour of English cathedrals in 1939 and preached the last sermon in Westminster Abbey before the outbreak of World War II. On the National Day of Prayer, January 1, 1942, he preached at a service attended by the late President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill prior to their signing of the United Nations Pact.

Speedy Texas Campaign Reaches Campaign Goal

Within a period of eight days $105 in cash donations was turned in to the campaign office by Col. Paul R. E. Sheppard, Guerray Campaign chairman for the Territorial. It has been announced by Campaign Director W. Porter Ware.

Col. Sheppard is the first chairman to finish his task. Mr. Ware stated for his goal was $100. Other summer over the country are now engaged in similar efforts in this latest phase of the five million dollar campaign.

Mr. Charles Thomas, Admissions Director, Recalled Into Navy

By The Times
Mr. Charles E. Thomas, Director of Admissions, leaves January 20 to resume his duties as Lieutenant-Commander in the U. S. Navy in the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

During the war he held the rank of Lieutenant Commander in connection with his work in the Navy's V-12 college training program. He was officially commended by the Secretary of the Navy for his work in this field.

Receiving his B.A. degree from Sewanee in 1927, Mr. Thomas was an active member of the Sigma Nu fraternity. In the year after his graduation, he remained at Sewanee to teach English and supervise building of the Sigma Nu fraternity house, which he designed.

He has served as national vice-president of the Associated Alumni, National Secretary of Sigma Upsilon literary society, member of Omicron Delta Kappa leadership fraternity, and member of Psi Gamma Mu honorary social fraternity.

From 1929 to 1939 Mr. Thomas was vice-president for endorsement, he assumed the duties of Director of Admissions the next year.

Long recognized as an authority on the American collegiate scene, he is the author of Sewanee, the Orford of America and Europeans Universities. His works are the result of observations in more than 300 universities in this country and abroad. In addition to these works, Mr. Thomas has contributed to Time Magazine.

Upon the occasion in 1939 of Mr. Thomas's resigning as editor of the Sewanee Journal, he dedicated the magazine devoted five pages to a farewell article. In that article Sigma Nu Cott Handed expressed the secret of Mr. Thomas's success. He said, "That is why is the reason Charlie Thomas is successful. He remembers names and is really interested in what people are doing."

Summer Session Seen

After consulting with a faculty committee, Dr. Green announced today that plans are being forwarded for a summer session this year.

Details remain to be completed in the near future. Announcements will be made concerning dates, courses, cost, and credits.

THE WILL

Jambalaya

By Bob Fowler

JANUARY 19th, 1807

"UPON THAT DAY was born the noblest character that has lived in mortal flesh since the Babe was born in Bethlehem of old Judea."

"Upon that day was born Robert Edward Lee of Virginia."

Few men have ever been accorded such high praise and great respect. This man was, to those who knew him, "the proof and indication of the belief that it was possible for a man to live up to the loftiest level of all human ideals . . . the ideal and the example of a perfect creed met and mingled in one man"

Lee was not only a soldier and a statesman . . . he was also an educator. After the War as President of Washington College he advanced his convictions on education. The development of character through teaching and discipline and not merely the act of becoming informed. Later, when Washington College became Washington and Lee University, he received his just tribute as an educator. It is interesting to note that the two greatest names in American history, Washington and Lee, should be chosen as a name for an institution of higher learning. It might seem that the two names symbolize the struggles for the union and disunion of this nation. We, however, tend to consider that they represent an assimilation of two ideals into a stronger and more lasting allegiance.

One of the greatest tributes to Washington was paid by Lee in a letter in which he declined an offer of the Vice-Chancellorship of the University. He wrote:

"I have followed with deep interest the progress of the University of the South from its origin, and my wishes for its success have been sincere. Its prosperity will always be to me a source of pleasure, and I trust that in the Providence of God its career may be one of eminent benefit to our Country. That it has survived the adverse circumstances with which it has been surrounded and has surmounted the difficulties with which it has had to contend is the cause of great rejoicing to me, and I am glad to learn that it has so fair a prospect of advancement and usefulness. . . ."

Names such as Kirk, Kirby-Smith, Elliott, Otes, Gallor, Quintard, and Hodgson have illuminated Sewanee's existence. Such names and many others stand as monuments to a cause they believed in. It is not a lost cause but instead, one which we must constantly struggle for. It is that ideal possessed by Robert E. Lee that we must strive for in our own shoddy way.

TEXAS Propaganda?

Historical Marker To Commemorate Victorious Battle Of Sewanee

By JIM REANEY
Because a Texan wrote a letter 88 years ago, the state of Tennessee has appropriated funds to erect a historical marker on the University domain. The monument, which is to be placed at Sherwood crossing, will commemorate the Battle of Sewanee, a Civil War cavalry engagement in which the Confederates were victorious.

Retreating from Stone's River to Chickamauga on July 4, 1864, the infantry of the Army of Tennessee crossed the University Domain, guarded from rear attack by the Eighth Texas Cavalry, "Terry's Texas Rangers." At the edge of the mountains near the present railway station, this unit was suddenly attacked by three Kentucky regiments.

Outnumbered three to one, the Texas War as it first threw into confusion, but stopped the Unionists with a volley of buckshot and pistol fire after they had approached within five

ABBO'S SCRAPBOOK

Immortality has already begun. With the help of Apollo, we have attained to the bright constellations of light, we are already involved, and immortality will not stay for us. It has already begun.

"The day of our death," said the priest, "will be a day of surprises." But of one thing we can be certain: no man's soul will be a stranger to him.

An Australian evangelist has objected to Mr. Truman's plan for a day of prayer. "It sounds fine," he said, "if Mr. Truman were endeavoring to get God on his side. A much greater American president once said that he was most concerned with being on God's side. . . ." What the Australian fails to comprehend is that prayer in its highest sense is an endeavor to get on God's side.

Whoso rises from prayer a better man, his prayer is already answered.

Good men have long been baffled and troubled by the question of the origin of evil. One explanation that caught our fancy is that offered by the wise men of Tibet: evil enters into the world, the Tibetans say, with the invention of the round wheel. If the first wheels were square, as their explanation seems to imply, the Tibetans may have a point. Imagine setting out for Smarkand or Montenegro in a vehicle equipped with square wheels. The mountain men would turn back before he got to the first traffic light.

Some people have thought of America as a sort of "criticism of Europe" (to paraphrase Matthew Arnold). I prefer to think of it as an extension of Europe. In our own lifetime we have seen it become the defender and preserver of the values alike of Europe and of antiquity: "Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness." Are these words "a poem to ourselves"? In contrast with "the right to work, the right to free medical care, and the right to a vacation with pay!"

Remember the days of the "forgotten man"? O dolor si niente!

PLUTO'S DIALOGUES

By LUCAS MYERS

On the mountain this weekend was slower than the feverish work on the Union. Students left for parts unknown with speed equalled only by the ATO shifts on that project, whizzing down their ledgers at the sound of the times. The fog was as thick as the 430 plumb, who couldn't think of the capital of Abyssinia.

The ATaus and SAOs celebrated the opening of the National by Kinder Than Hell Week with various festive games. The Sig Alpha sent out a message to count the railroad ties between here and the Montego side gate. The kids won't win a prize for originality, but it had a new twist. Ed Heath and opportunists chased them 1 and 1/2 miles; the pledges thought their pursuers were ogres, a very natural mistake, the freshmen later agreed. Gumbo made a big hit with the gleeft ATO pledges by lavishing out calling cards to his charges located at Main gate Park at 2:30 Sunday morning. Recruits under Sergeant Gunby and others then withdrew to their houses for party games. A good time was had by all. Sufficiently enough, on the same evening, the Kappa Sigma and Phi houses were generously presented with a supply of paint.

Olds ends

Jack Nicholas and John Hodgkins rushed in when George Bromberg feared to tread. The omission of angels is played back. Bill Briggs has the hot for one, a picture of another, a letter and complications from a third. Fluo, Rio del Spice, and Ghost painted Chattanooga red to announce that what was left was in his own shoddy way.

The Saddest Story Ever Told

Dedicated to all potential panickers. Brooks Boyd, who decided to join the Air Force when he could get away with it, has returned from his vacation, is now living (or using the term loosely) at Lackland Field in a pup tent. Since there wasn't even room for one of them, they threw him back the puppy out. It isn't land that he's in, it's a pup tent. He was up for 10,000, but it actually is holding 30,000. He eats lunch on the 65 p.m. shift and supper on the 9:30. Brooks expects to be transferred to Puerto Rico, which locks both legs and arms. The moral: enjoy yourself, you're better off the way you think.

Easy Way Out of the Draft Department

Taking the fatal steps in the near future, will be the first of the last year's students. The last year's students, Walter Parker and Buck Bell.

TIGERS SPORTS

TIGERS WIN AND USE ON ROAD; FACE M.T.S.C. TOMORROW

Just Stalling

By JERRY STALLONE

COACH LON VARNELL, Sewanee's versatile basketball coach, has now added sports writing to his crowded field of activities. A series of articles on basketball will appear in several papers, including the Nashville Banner and the Chattanooga Times. In fact the first article appeared on Jan. 12, and was a story on Kentucky coach Adolph Rupp, who is one of Coach Varnell's favorite subjects.

Certainly, Coach Varnell is well qualified to deal with the subject. He is a native of Tennessee and attended Bethel College where he lettered in football, basketball and basketball. As a coach, his record is impressive, and many regard him as one of the really top coaches of the country. In four years at Bethel, his teams won a total of 76 games while losing only 17. His last team at Bethel had a record of 20 wins and 1 loss, which is the best record in the history of the school.

From Bethel, Coach Varnell went to SMU at Dallas, where he did work on his masters degree, and was a member of the coaching staff. Most of us know of his record here at Sewanee. Here, too, Varnell's teams have won more games than any team in Sewanee history.

Basketball coaches have a great deal of respect for Coach Varnell's ability as a coach by the fact that he is often invited to attend coaching schools and basketball clinics. Varnell has had some experience also as a writer. Last year, he wrote several articles which were printed in well known athletic journals. But don't take our word as to his coaching ability, just go out to the gym Thursday and Friday nights and take a look for yourself.

INTRAMURALS

Already, the young intramural basketball season has provided plenty of thrills. The SAE-PH Delt game recently provided a season's worth of thrills. This one was extended into two overtime periods with the SAEs finally coping it by one slim point. We are lucky to have an intramural league which is so well matched, and those who venture out to the gym are usually well rewarded for their efforts. The SAEs and Phis, by the way, appear to be the teams to beat. But not anything can happen in this league; just take last year for an example.

IT'S NEWS TO ME

Athletic Director Gordon Clark just returned from a meeting of the NCAA in Dallas, Texas. Sewanee supported the schools who succeeded in throwing out the so called "Sanity Code" which reminded one more of insanity. ... All of which must be sad for the Lily-purple Big Ten. ... The Globetrotters. These guys put on quite a show and should be worth seeing. Besides, they are supposed to have the best basketball team in the business. ... Coach "Red" Bridgers is singing the blues as more and more of his track team announce their intention of leaving at the end of the semester.

M.T.S.C., Transylvania FoTC for Tigers On Thursday And Friday

Coach Lon Varnell's Purple Tigers will play a home game on Thursday and Friday nights, after a road trip on which the Tigers batted 500 with Lambuth and Bethel, Thursday and Friday, respectively. The road trip will be furnished by Middle Tennessee State College. Sewanee will be gunning for a win after an early season loss to M.T.S.C. in Murfreesboro. The Raiders have a strong team with plenty of height, including Roy Cox at center who stands a mere six-foot seven.

On Friday, the Tigers will meet Transylvania, Kentucky. This will mark the first time Sewanee has met Transylvania, and Coach Varnell has teams to point out that most teams from Kentucky are plenty tough.

The Purple Tigers have shown lots of improvement, and should be in top shape for their encounters this weekend. Which means that their good games will be on hand for Sewanee fans.

Meet The Tiger Frosh Rowe, Eyer, Derby

This is the second in a series of articles profiling the freshmen members of the Sewanee 1950-51 basketball team.

By JOHN FOSSA

The tallest man on the squad is Jim Rowe who hails from Fort Thomas, Kentucky. Jim stands 6'5 1/2" and weighs 178 pounds. Although Rowe has had no college experience he played some years of first string ball in high school, and with a little seasoning should prove to be a valuable asset to Coach Lon Varnell's Tiger team. Rowe's best shot is from the center position and his height is a definite advantage under the boards.

Gene Eyer is only 5'7" and provides a sharp contrast to Jim Rowe. Although Gene is the shortest man on the team he is very fast and well coordinated. Eyer is a fine ball handler which makes him very valuable in setting up plays and in fast break. Gene is good on set shots from the guard position. In high school he was high scorer for his team, making most of his points from way out. Eyer is a natural athlete, won the championship of the Eastern prep schools last year and made the all-star team in touch football this fall. Stan Derby is a 17 year old freshman from Warren, Arkansas. He is "tall", and shows a great deal of muscle and drive. Sam's best shot is one-handed, and he is also a fine play maker in the fast moving variety type of basketball. Derby's weaknesses thus far has been on defense. Eyer's lack of height could break into the starting line-up at any time.

abandoned cabin on the mountain. The most unusual monument of the Sewanee campus is the field of Yankee Daisies near St. Mary's School. They sprouted, according to legend, from seeds mixed in horse feed spilled by Union convalescents.

(An article on the Battle of Sewanee written by the Rev. Edgar Pennington of Mobile, Alabama, appears in the current issue of Tennessee Historical Magazine. The dried reprints of the story, ordered by Mrs. Sarah H. Torian, University Archivist, will be on sale in the library at fifty cents per copy.)

Nashville with 31 tops the city representative list in enrollment this year, with Birmingham, Dallas, Houston and Winchester, Tenn., following behind.

Tigers Dump Lambuth By Score Of 64-58

The Purple Tigers turned in one of their best performances of the year Friday night in Jackson, Tenn., to down Lambuth College 64-58. Jim Rox provided the spark as he hit the nets for 21 points, which was high for Sewanee. Carter, of Lambuth, was high point man for the game with 27 points.

The first half was a nip and tuck affair with the Tigers holding a 33-27 lead at the intermission. In the second half, Sewanee pulled away to a 52-42 lead. However, in the fading minutes Crawford, Cain, Rox, and Jim Rox, Sewanee's top scorer, sparked the Tigers to a 64-58 win over Lambuth in Jackson last Friday night. Rox hit the net for 21 points.

Stowers all had four personal fouls, so the Tigers were forced to slow down. Lambuth took advantage of this to put on a desperate attack in the last four minutes to move to within five points of the Tigers.

Bethel Downs Tigers 69-52 In Paris, Tenn.

Tired from a hard game with Lambuth on the night before, Sewanee dropped 69-52 to a strong Bethel College team in Paris, Tenn., on Saturday night. Bill Crawford led the Purple Tiger attack with 16 points.

As on the night before, the game was extremely close in the first half. Bethel held a slim 25-20 lead at the half. At this point the Tigers began to tire, and Bethel pulled away to win by a two-point margin.

Along with Crawford, Bob Lockard was a bright spot in the Tiger attack. Lockard drilled in 10 points and played a brilliant floor game as well. For Bethel, Carter racked up 23 points, which was more than enough to provide the winning margin.

SAEs In Early Lead As Basketball Starts; KAs, Fijis Follow

By ANDY DUNCAN

Intramural basketball moves into the second week of play with the Minervina men of SAE leading the pack. The SAEs, with three wins to their credit against no losses, are followed closely by the Fijis and KAs, both with 2-0 records.

A three-overtime battle in which the SAEs score out on the top end and a 50-49 score against the Phis, proved to be the most spectacular game of the week. Bomar led the winners in points, while Patzer was close behind with 14. Dickerson, with 14, and Palmer, with 12, were the Phis big guns. Six men were ejected via the foul rule during the battle.

Led by the shooting of Thomas and Hughes, the KAs opened the season with a 41-22 win over the Independents. Ward was the stand-out for the losers.

The Sigma Nus handed the Deltas a 37-21 defeat with Keyser and Scott leading the winners, and Brown and Trewharth registering the biggest number of points for the losers.

The Fijis, led by a trio of high-scorers in Baker, Flodin and Gresh, plastered a 53-24 defeat on the Betas. Honey and Gay played well for a losing cause.

David, with 19 points, and Snell, with 13, sparked the Theologs to a 39-19 win over the Kappa Sigis, who were unable to unleash but one point-ster in Doctor, who couldn't make enough to keep his team ahead.

The ATOs overwhelmed the Deltas, 52-21, with a second half scoring spree, which netted them 27 points. The Deltas, who couldn't make enough to keep their team ahead, were led by the shooting of White, Thomas and Erchel showed up well for the losers.

The KAs trounced the Betas, 60-40, in their scoring battle with Thomas netting 23 points for the victors. Broome bucketed 15 points for the losing Betas.

The Sigma Nus had a chance to defeat the scoring SAE, but failed to make their foul shots count, and came out on the short end of a 35-29 score. Bomar led the winners and Keyser the losing Snakes.

The Phis counted their second win by defeating the Kappa Sigis, 29-23, in a low-scoring contest. Flodin netted 10 points for the Phi Gamers, with Vineyard making 7 for the losers.

The Phis set a number of high-scorers loose on the court against the Theologs and these helped bring about a 68-41 win. Dickerson, Palmer, Lucas and Keyser were the hot ones, while David and Snell held the Theologs scoring.

Ward and Higham led the Independents to a 49-27 win over the Betas. Honey showed up well for the losers.

A fourth-quarter drive by the ATOs left them with their last a close contest with the KS. 29-25. Patzer dropped 11 points through the hoop to lead the winning SAEs, while White counted 10 for the losers.

MAKE THE TOBACCO GROWERS MILDNESS TEST YOURSELF...

YES... Compare Chesterfield with the brand you've been smoking... Open a pack... enjoy that milder Chesterfield aroma.

And—tobaccos that smell milder smoke milder. So smoke Chesterfields—prove they do smoke milder, and they leave NO UNPLEASANT AFTER-TASTE.
