

Gen. Bissell To Address Woman's Club

Major General Clayton L. Bissell will address an open meeting of the Seawanee Woman's Club at the McCrady home on March 12. His talk will be on changes in the International Political Climate.

General Bissell began his career in the United States armed forces in 1907 when he enlisted in the Aviation Section of the Signal Corps. After World War I he served with the 148th Fighter Squadron and later as commander of the 65th Fighter Squadron in France and in Colombia with the United States Army of Occupation.

During 1912 he acted as an inspector of foreign aircraft in England, France, Germany, Italy and Holland. Between 1921 and 1924 he was an assistant to General Billy Mitchell. He was an advance officer for the first round-the-world flight, was with Lindbergh in China 1941-42; and from 1942 through 1943 he was Chief of Army Air Force Intelligence. From 1944 to the end of the war he was in England. Between 1945 and 1946 he was an assistant to the Chief of Air Attache for the American Embassy in London.

General Bissell is married and now lives in Washington.

He has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross, the Distinguished Service Medal, the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal, the Order of the British Empire, the British Distinguished Flying Cross, the Order of the Crown of Italy, the Italian War Cross, the Polonia Restituta, the Order of Merit from Chile, and the Abdon Calderon from Ecuador. He has written the book, History of the Army Air Corps (1923).

Church Plans Conferences

Seawanee's growing significance as a summer conference center for the Episcopal Church, received a boost when two of its most popular gatherings were scheduled to run consecutively this summer. The annual Laymen's Conference of the Seawanee Province, which for eight years has been meeting the weekend after Commencement, will be held June 21-24 under the leadership of Frank Engstrom of Port Gibson, Mississippi. It will be followed immediately by the Seawanee Summer Training School, which will meet June 24-30 under the directorship of the Rev. John M. Aldin of Monroe, Louisiana.

It is expected that many families to schedule their summer vacations to coincide with two of the most important Episcopal conferences in the Southern states. The new "Lake O'Donnell" with its mile of shore line, is expected to be ready for swimming and boating by then.

The most popular of last year's conference presentations, a course of church instruction for lay readers, will be repeated this summer. Bishop Girault M. Jones of Louisiana will be in charge. Bishop Albert R. Stuart of Georgia will be chaplain and direct the Bible study.

Radio Club Administers Code Classes

Code classes, given free by the Seawanee Radio Club, began March 1. About ten students have enrolled in the classes, which are held every Friday at 1:00 p.m. and Sunday at 2:00 p.m. in Magnolia Hall. These classes will be continued until the middle of May, and everyone is expected to have passed the requirements for an amateur radio license by that time.

To buy New Transmitter Although the club has without a transmitter at the present time, a new WBL 500A Globe King transmitter will be purchased sometime in early March. This, along with the novice station already established, will provide complete and reliable communication with almost all regions of the world. The new transmitter, which has a power of 500 watts, (twice the power of the broadcasting station in Winchester) is guaranteed against interfering with television sets. Its purchase is being financed by trading in and selling old equipment.

Hathorn is President The club, which hopes to have a new location with better facilities and more room in the near future, is composed of Dr. A. T. Pickering, trustee; Charles Hathorn, KA, president; Jim Adams, RTV, vice-president; and Jim Hyde, KS, secretary. Those enrolled in code classes are John Albright, Walter Morris, Chuck Tyson, Pete Knapp, Jim Budd, Syd Cameron, Randy Richards, Ellison Conrad, Don Fielding, and Mike Ingram.

ATOs Initiate Two

On Feb. 28, Alpha Tau Omega initiated two more of its pledges: Everett McCormick and John Gibbs.

Theologs Get Financial Aid

Bishop Dandridge states that his discretionary fund to aid theologs who lost all their personal possessions in the Powhatan fire has increased to over $10,000. In his opinion, this amount, along with gifts made personally to the students, should come close to offsetting the losses in books, clothing, typewriters, and other articles. Students at two other seminaries, General and Virginia, have contributed substantially to the fund, and other benefactors range "all the way from New York to New Mexico, and from Idaho to Florida."

The National Red Cross has declared the fire a disaster, and will provide each seminarian with a complete outfit including a suit, shoes, and hat. This should amount to about fifty or sixty dollars of aid per student.

A disaster, as defined by the Red Cross, is an emergency condition affecting five individuals, or families. Aid is given only to the extent of providing food, shelter, and clothing. In the case of the residents of Powhatan, only clothing had to be provided.

Actors Prime For 'St. Joan'

All 32 male roles have now been filled and rehearsals are nearing completion for the Purple Masque's production of George Bernard Shaw's Saint Joan. The six scene play will be presented at the University Auditorium on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, March 14, 15, and 16.

The production is under the direction of assistant English professor Brinley Rynes and will feature Miss Barbara Thines in the role of Joan.

Culprits Remain At Large In Recent Campus Thefts

Crime, not of much importance at Seawanee until recently, has struck frequently during the last few weeks on the campus. Clothes thefts in Johnson Hall, including the loss of a sport coat by Bill Moorey, and petty thefts in crowded Barton Hall have been the latest crimes.

While Dr. Webb was out of his office last week, a set of text papers was stolen from his desk, resulting in another hour quiz having to be given. Dr. Webb says, "We will punish whoever we catch doing it obviously." He says that clothes can be traced rather easily, but that money is relatively impossible to recover. He thinks that the culprit is either a student or someone who is very familiar with the dormitories.

Janon was robbed by professional burglars, and when, the night before Christmas holidays, someone who was believed to be a student entered several rooms in Gallow and Ellis and made off with around $75, which had been withdrawn for Christmas holidays. Harry Edwards lost about forty dollars in this robbery.

Another major robbery occurred one night in Gallow, when a false fire alarm was turned in for the KA house; during the confusion, a good bit of money disappeared from the KA treasurer's room.

Phi Betes Elect Ten

Tulane Scholar To Give Address

Ten new members were elected last week to Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honor society. Their initiation will take place on May 11 in a meeting on the campus of the Old State University, is a Rhodes Scholar and received his law degree from Yale. He has been professor of law at the University of Wyoming, and since 1937 has been at Tulane University. He has visited Greece, Italy, and other European countries on a Rockefeller Grant, and has written Handbook of Law Study. At present he is Director of Tulane Institute of Comparative Law.

The eight seniors who were honored were: MASON THOMAS MORRIS, PGD, Louisville, KY., editor of the Mountain Goat, president of Sophomore, writer for Seawanee, and has been associate editor of the Cap and Gown, corresponding secretary for his fraternity, and a member of the Debate Council. He is a member of the University Scholarship Society and is majoring in English.

EDWARD L. SALMON, BTP, Natchez, Miss, is a member of Pi Gamma Mu, was clerk to Who's Who in the American Colleges and Universities, has worked on the Purple, Cap and Gown, Mountain Goat, and is a University Scholarship winner. He is a history major, and has been president of his fraternity.

STEARLING BOYD, KS, Little Rock, Ark., is Chairman of the Ring Committee for Seawanee, and has been secretary of the German Club. He is majoring in political science.

CHARLES MARION WOOLFOLK, SAE, Birmingham, Ala., has been a member of the Ring Committee for Seawanee and has been secretary of the German Club. He is majoring in political science.

THOMAS W. WALKER, AOT, Charleston, S. C., is a member of ODK, Blue Key, Pi Gamma Mu, Who's Who in the American Colleges and Universities, and the Debate Council. He is a political science major, he has been business manager of the Mountain Goat, and has a Kemper Scholarship.

THOMAS WERTH THAGARD, PDT, Greenville, Ala., is currently president of Pi Gamma Mu and Green Ribbon. He has been secretary of the Order of Gnomes, a member of the Pan-Hellenic Council, and has been a member of the Debate Council, fraternity editor of the Cap and Gown, and a member of the editorial staff of the Mountain Goat. He is a major in science.

JON JONES is a Spanish major from San Angelo, Texas. He placed third in this year's competition for Rhodes Scholar nominee from Texas.

BRYAN DALL AXESS, LEA, El Paso, Texas, has been a member of the German Club, is a member of the Order of Gnomes, is in the Aoyake's Guild, is a member of science, and has been a member of the Order of Gnomes. (Continued on page 4)

Harb Suffers Knee Injury

Last Wednesday, while walking along the edge of the bluff at Foster's Falls, college sophomore Dick Harb slipped and fell over the edge. After being about twenty-five feet, he landed feet first on a steep dirt slope which broke his fall. This allowed him to escape with a cracked knee-cap, suffered when he slid on into some rocks. Harb was carried back to a car and taken to the Emergency Hospital. He put for treatment. After his discharge, he went home to Knoxville.

PGD, SN Pick Best Pledges

Two more fraternities have announced selections for best pledges. Phi Gamma Delta and Tau Pi Peterson, Sigma Nu. Kappa Sigma has elected its best pledge, but the selection will not be announced until this spring. Sigma Alpha Epsilon has not yet chosen a best pledge.

DTDs Plan Tea To Honor Lewis

The Delta Tau Delta fraternity will honor Senor Lewis, professor emeritus of the University Spanish department, with a tea on the first Sunday after spring vacation, April 8. Senor Lewis is an alumnus of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity and is an ex-faculty adviser of the Seawanee chapter.

Calendar

- WEDNESDAY, MARCH 7: 4:00 p.m. Board of Regents meets. 7:15 p.m. student Vestry meets at Chaplain's House.
- THURSDAY, MARCH 8: Board of Regents meets.
- FRIDAY, MARCH 9: Board of Regents meets. SMA spring vacation begins.
- SUNDAY, MARCH 11: 8:00 a.m. Holy Communion. 11:00 a.m. Morning Prayer and Sermon. Student Chapter meets at 6:00 p.m. Evensong, All Saints' Chapel.
- MONDAY, MARCH 12: 3:00 p.m. Seawanee Woman's Club.

Theologs Plan German Study

At the request of several senior seniors, the University is now offering an afternoon course in reading German taught by Dr. Bentley. No credits are given for the course, which is offered only to seminarians and exceptional college seniors. The class has been meeting since the second week of this semester on Monday and Wednesday afternoons from 1:30 to 3:00 in Magnolia.

McCrady To Attend Texas Convocation

Following the meeting of the University's Board of Regents on Friday, Dr. Edward McCrady is scheduled to fly to Midland, Texas, for the Convocation Meeting of the Diocese of North Texas, Dr. McCrady was invited by the Rt. Rev. George Quartermaster, Bishop of North Texas.

College Holiday To Follow SMA's

S. M. A. will be dismissed for spring vacation on March 9, and will begin classes again on March 20. The practice of the University's giving vacation at a different time from that of S. M. A. so that everyone won't be leaving the Mountain at once has long been in practice.

Fifty Men Turn Out For Rinder Practices

Eight Lettermen Return To Team Led By Kinnett And Tranakos

Almost fifty men turned out last week for the first official track workout, led by co-captains Ken Kinnett and Arthur Tranakos. Eight other lettermen will bolster the predominantly young squad for its first dual meet, with Howard in Birmingham March 22.

The sprints and hurdles will probably be weakest. Sonny Spore and Dave Hays, both freshmen, and Bill Veal, a sophomore from last season, will run the 120-yard highs. In the lows will be Bob Keck, a letterman, and Kim Kinball, plus Bill Maddux, who ran for Howard last year.

Keck will also be in the 100, along with Maddux and Martin Moore, another freshman. Mike Veal, who ran 1:00, and Keck will handle the 220. The 440-yard dash, along with the mile relay, should be one of the Tigers' strongest events. Veal, defending TIAC quarter champion, and letterman Bob Donald are back, and freshmen Spore and Wiley Creech both have recorded fast times in high school competition.

Ken Ben, veteran track and cross country man, will run the half mile. Others in this event will probably be freshmen Spore and Sam Fowlkes.

In the distance events, mile and two mile, Kinnett will probably score many points. Others in these races will be Ronnie Palmer, who last year suffered a pulled muscle before the season was under way, Al Nisley, Fairfield Butt, Paul Stout, Bill Brettman, Bob Marsdorf, and freshman John Nichols.

Tranakos, who last year set a new Sewanee district record of 411 feet 11 1/2 inches, will lead the way in the field events. Martin Moore has also looked good in practice so far with the discus. Phil Jones will throw the shot again this year, with freshmen Moore and Arnold Bush.

Penn Bowers, another returning letterwinner, will probably be Sewanee's top javelin man. Martin Mitchell, a new man, will also be in this event. Halsey Werten, Jim Scott, and Dave Claude will represent the triple in the pole vault. In the high jump, Bowers is the only man with college experience. Fred Daniels and possibly Hays will back him up. Moore may brood jump, along with Bowers and Spore.

Bryant Holds Links Tryouts

Twelve golfers, including five lettermen, began competition for places on Coach Walter Bryant's golf team as practice sessions opened last week.

Last year's captain Jay Butler is too busy studying for comprehensives, and Sparky Brice graduated, but the rest of last year's team, Bill Stallings, C. J. Savage, Jackie Thompson, and Ralph Birdseye, are all returning. Buckley Carter, who lettered his freshman year but did not play last year, is the fifth letterman out for the squad.

Coach Bryant has a promising crop of newcomers, headed by freshman Francis Crawford, who is considered a sure bet to make the first four. Freshmen Beta Slinguff, Charles Schweinle, and Bud Edens, transfer students Robert Cochrane and Jay Jacobson, and perpetual candidate Bob Tomlinson round out the list of hopefuls.

The starting positions will be determined in qualifying rounds to be held later this month, with the first four men making the travelling team and the next two substituting when one of the others cannot make the trips and playing in the two or three six-man matches which will be played at Sewanee. The complete schedule has not yet been released.

Tiger Netmen Begin Practice

Sewanee's tennis team began indoor workouts under the direction of Dr. Guston Bruton last week in preparation for their opening matches of the season against Tennessee and Maryville, both away from home, April 5 and 6.

Three lettermen, Captain Dick Briggs, Howard Pritchard, and Ralph Troy, return from last year's team which compiled a 12-4 season's record and won the T.L.A.C. tournament with a three to one margin over their nearest rivals. Last year's No. 6 man, Jim Drexell, who is now a part time student and an instructor at S. M. A., also may have time to see some action. Not returning are Pete Stewart, No. 2, who transferred, and 1955 Captain Keith Fort, No. 3, who graduated.

Heading the squad at the No. 1 position for the second straight year will be Dick Briggs. Last year Briggs won the T.L.A.C. singles title in straight sets and lost only to Western Michigan and Tennessee in match play. Western Michigan is not on this year's schedule and Tennessee's Jim Robinson has graduated, so Briggs has a good chance to go undefeated this year.

Pritchard will move up from No. 4 to No. 2 and will join Briggs in doubles for the fourth straight year. Last year, their first as Sewanee's No. 1 team, Briggs and Pritchard won the T.L.A.C. doubles over their teammates Stewart and Fort.

Junior Ralph Troy will move up to No. 3 from last year's No. 5 position. The remaining three positions will probably be filled by Larry Heppes, Bill Marks, and B. B. Sory, possibly in that order. Heppes, twice intramural singles champion, and Sory both had mixed success last year but did not letter, and Marks is the most promising of several freshmen candidates.

TRACK PRACTICE BEGINS—Track Coach Ernie Williamson talks over prospects for the coming season with co-captains Ken Kinnett and Arthur Tranakos.

Nunn But The Brave

By DAVE NUNNALLY
Purple Sports Editor

The weather lately has been the kind that inspires fivers of one kind or another: spring fever if you have a kid, spring sport fever if you don't. Either type is infinitely preferable to the plain old fivers we usually get in the dead of winter, and if you are a golfer who doesn't have many labs, you're in good shape indeed to have a five in time.

Tennis players are less fortunate. Sewanee's courts, you may remember, are rubber, or some such composition, substance, which gives a good playing surface, but one that requires a lot of work and care to keep in decent condition. Bad weather, such as we have had before the first pallid tennis player steps on them in the spring, which means, in this case, after spring vacation.

So far, so good. The tennis team itself, meanwhile, can be practicing indoors, at least after the basketballers and wrestlers are through with the gym. But where does that leave Dave

Duff? Obviously, if he wants to play any tennis on these sunshiny days in March he's got to go out to SMA and vie with the cadets for the use of their cement courts. I haven't looked into the economics of the matter, but I suspect that it wouldn't cost too much for the University to build three or four flat slabs of concrete with steel uprights here and there to stretch net between. Maintenance costs, I'm sure, would be nil, except for the occasional replacing of a net torn down by a wrathful duffer. This isn't a new idea, and since there probably aren't any ardent opponents of increased athletic facilities in the Athletic Department, and more than likely not any very good reasons why such courts shouldn't be built, I'm sure it's simply a matter of finances.

The intramural track meet, still over a week away, is an interesting sort of phenomenon. Probably not one contestant in twenty is in any kind of shape at all, but the entry lists are crammed. Even in the 400 and 800 two of the most punishing events in the book, there are long line-ups of eager youths just asking to give their first for old Hevea Psi. The fact that their all usually includes their last meal, and the aching becomes quite literal the next day, doesn't seem to disturb them. A few, of course, are always out for track, and consequently in better shape than the rest, and a few are just naturally clean living American boys. But most run like everything set back, hurt for a week, and then run again next year.

Don't get the wrong impression from this: I'm not trying to tell anyone not to run in the meet. The more the merrier, and I'm a guy who likes merry track meets. But please, if you've got to participate, try to get in shape. If you can't get in shape, don't run the two-mile. And if you have to run the two-mile, don't seem telling me how sore you are.

It's surprising how smoothly the track meet goes off, in spite of the number of people who don't show up to run their events. Walker Bryant and his crew make a fast-moving, competent presentation of the whole thing. This, as I said, is surprising in view of the disorganization inherent in a disjointed sort of series of events like a track meet. At least since I've been at Sewanee, there has been a minimum of confusion and delay involved in running the boys through their paces. With the intramural shirts for color and 40 intramural points for tension, it adds up to a good show. You'll come!

Pic Of Flicks

By KEN FOLLOWILL

Wednesday, March 7: Trouble in Store, a J. Arthur Rank presentation, stars Norman Wisdom and Margaret Rutherford. Those of you who saw the sneak preview of this one last year will agree that, though it is not the typical dry English comedy, its slapstick is quite refreshing. Top honors go to the heartily elegant shoplifter played by Miss Rutherford in Of Bitter Spirit fame! Although Wisdom's wisfling genius compares favorably with that of Harold Lloyd or Bobbi Clark.

Johnnie Frank, with Vera Dalston, Forrest Tucker, Joan Leslie and Pat O'Brien, is Republican's version of Gwen Bristow's best selling novel of a couple of years back. It is neither good enough to be enjoyable nor bad enough to be funny, so it appears as though Hollywood has cranked tricked the Wednesday Club's Secklers again. Thursday and Friday, March 8 and 9: Glenn Ford, Frank Lovejoy, Caesar Romero, Ursula Thiess and Abbe Lane buckle down their swastikas and merrily wad their way through the Stygian novewhers of The Americano. Glenn, transporting cattle from Texas to Brazil, is Brazil's exotic dance by handi queen Ursula. So much for the love's interest. Refusing to be cowed by encounters with dreaded reptiles and compromising proposals by piracy, he delivers the cows to the cowardly Lovejoy, who turns out to be Caesar Romero. By far the most enjoyable sequence is Abbe's exotic dance wherein heretofore unseen expanses of broad rolling countryside are revealed to the audience.

Owl: Country Girl is the week's best. Bing Crosby, a slave to John Barkley, is auditioned for a Broadway musical by Bill Holden, a poor man's Earl Carroll, but the singer's wife, Grace Kelly, an addict of Lydia Pinkham, wants a more lucrative deal. Bing hands Bill a line about wife's inebriant ineptitudes since a family tragedy but Grace proves that her husband is really the guilty one. Crosby manages to shape up, the show is a stunner and everybody repairs to their corners to prepare facing life which America has such a good way of.

Saturday and Monday, March 10 and 12: Paul Gregory presents Robert Mitchum, Shelby Winters and Lillian Gish in Night of the Hunter. The film has been well-reviewed, the plot seems gripping enough and anything directed by Charles Laughton should be well worth the while, so it is recommended without reservation.

Sunday and Tuesday, March 11 and 12: Three for the Show are Betty Grable, Gump Champion and Jack Lemmon, with Marge Champion willing to take what's left over. Jack returns after having been reported killed in action to find that his wife Betty has married a fellow dancer. She, sensing disapproval in the eyes of both men, gets about to make up her mind as to who gets the prize. There is some excellent dancing, a little singing, a few good lines, so if this is all that is required of a typical musical comedy, it stands the test satisfactorily enough.

Intramurals

By MIKE VEAL

Badminton and handball doubles were the only events in intramural competition last week, with the exception of the basketball game between Vanderbilt and Sewanee intramural champions. The Vanderbilt SAsE won that one 24-27 over the Sewanee SAsE. Finals here last Wednesday.

Finals for both badminton and handball are scheduled for next week. As it stands now, the Phi and Phi Gams are ahead in badminton with three and two wins respectively. It looks as if doubles may end very much as singles did, with PGD first followed by KA and PDT. The KAs have lost only one and still have a chance to finish first since this is a double elimination tournament.

Handball doubles are at the same stages of completion. PGD and Theologs are both still undefeated, and the Betas are right behind with only a loss to the Theologs. The singles results were Theologs, Betas, and Phi Gams in that order.

Tennis will be the next intramural sport to be run off March 17. Tennis and golf, both minor sports, will be played in April, and the last major sport, softball, will also start in April. The intramural swimming meet will probably be held in May.
