Campus Hub is the new name of the sandwich shop in the Thompson Student Union. This announcement was made yesterday by Mrs. Clara Shomate, new manager. Bob Oliver submitted the winning name. This is the fourth Clara institution to be named by a Seewanee student. A group of students named the original Clara's in 1929. Bill Grainger named Clararoom in 1948. Tupper Sussay named Clara's home, Randlestone, last year, and now Bob Oliver has named Campus Hub.

Andrew Lytle to speak at Sopherim meeting

by TOMMY KIRBY-SMITH
Special to the Purple

Andrew Lytle, a well-known southern writer and historian, will speak at the annual open meeting of Sopherim literary society in a lecture titled "The Working Novelist and the Myth-Making Process." The meeting will be at 8:00 p.m. on the night of Friday, April 17, in St. Lytle's auditorium.

Mr. Lytle is presently lecturer in Creative Writing at the University of Florida in Gainesville, where he has been since 1948. He has taught history in Southwestern College and at Seewanee, where he edited the Seewanee Review for the year 1942-43. He has published, in addition to several novels, numerous essays and stories; his latest novel is The Velvet Horns, published in 1957. Most lately he has had published a volume which includes one of his earlier novels and several stories.

Mr. Lytle was born in Murfreesboro, Tennessee, in 1902. He attended the Seewanee Military Academy when he was thirteen graduating as valedictorian in 1920. He studied successively in France, at Oxford University, and finally at Vanderbilt, where he graduated in 1925. It was while he was at Vanderbilt that he established relationships with the members of the Vanderbilt group of poets and writers who were still there, and after spending several years away from Nashville he returned to join with other writers in the agrarian symposium which produced the controversial book of essays, I'll Take My Stand.

Mr. Lytle still maintains his Seewanee connections, has visited here frequently, and has a daughter, Pamela Lytle, who is currently attending St. Mary's.

Board tells publications' nominations

Nominations for positions on the student publications were released by the Publications Board Monday afternoon.

Fred Jones and Bill Nichols are nominated for editor of the Seewanee Purple. Nominations for business manager of the Purple are Bill Bullock, Stewart Elliott, Tom Tierney, Scott Welch.

Doug Evert and Bob Gregg are nominated for editor of the Cap and Gown. Business manager nominees for the annual are Josh Forehand, Bruce Keenan, Charles Powell.

Candidates for editor of the Mountain Goat are Lloyd Elie and Don Porter. Bob Carter, Randy Parker and Tom Tidwell are nominated for business manager of the Goat.

Elections for these positions are scheduled to begin on Monday, April 27. The entire student body of the College of Arts and Sciences may vote.

Jones has served as associate editor of the Purple the past year and was previously copy editor and a member of the Cap and Gown staff. Nichols has been on the staff of the Purple for the past year, as has been on the staff of the annual for one year, and has been on the Goat staff for three years.

Bullock has served on the staff of the Purple for the past year. Elliott has been on the Purple staff for three years serving as sports editor this year; he has been on the Cap and Gown staff. Tierney has been on the advertising staff of the Purple. Welch has been on the advertising and news features staffs of the Purple.

Evert has served as news editor on the Purple this year and has been on the staff for three years. Gregg has served on both the Purple and Cap and Gown.

Forehand has been on the Cap and Gown staff and is junior representative on the Publications Board. Keenan has been on the staff of the Purple. Powell has been on the Purple staff the past year.

Elie has been on the Purple staff and has been business manager of the Goat this year. Porter has been on the staff of the Goat the past year.

Carter has been on the staff of the Seewanee Purple for one year. Parker has been on the staff of the Purple, Cap and Gown, and Mountain Goat. Tidwell has served as administration editor of the Cap and Gown this year.

Room assignments available this week

The Office of the Dean of Men has asked that all students be reminded that, beginning on April 15, rooms will be assigned on a first come, first served basis. Dr. Webb said that Cleveland is now filled to capacity, but that there are many choice locations remaining in the basement of Seiden and on the third floor of Burton Arms Apartments. If one anticipates having a fire in his room next year, he is asked not to request a room in these two buildings.

'The Tiger' opens

The Tiger is now open according to Mr. Eric Chespe, owner and Seewanee manager. It is located between Seewanee and Monteale, Beer, soft drinks, and barbecue will be served nightly except Sunday at the establishment, which is at Chesapeake, just across the Franklin-Grand county line. The hours are probably going to be 4 to 12 p.m.

Seewanee dedicates new Polk Carillon

Dedication of the Leonard Polk Memorial Carillon was held Sunday afternoon, April 12. After a short service with a benediction by Bishop Barth of Tennessee, Arthur Lynds Bigelow, bellmaster, played a few tunes on the new carillon.

The program follows: Concert Program for the Dedication of the Leonard Polk Memorial Carillon. The University of the South with comment by Arthur Lynds Bigelow, Bellmaster, April 12, 1959, at 3:30 p.m.

The ringing of the Bourdon, Proclamation. This huge bell, weighing four tons, is the foundation of the carillon. "Grandeur," resonance can only begin to describe its tonality. We ring out the old bell in Brevin and ring in the new at Shapard Tower.

The National Anthem, Gloria in Excelsis. An introduction to the Bells. One by one the bells will be sounded, from bass to treble, then in chords and arpeggios in all registers of the instrument, to acquaint the listeners with its extensive range and tone.

ANDREW LYTLE will speak to Sopherim on Friday night.

OG discusses library thefts

At the last meeting of the Order of Gownsmen, it was brought up that an increasing number of reserved books are being taken from the Library without signing for them. Also books are being taken from the stacks without checking them out, and reference books, which should never be removed from the building, have been taken out. This is just as great an honor Code offense as cheating on a quiz, and all students are hereby reminded of their duty to watch for violations.

The rule was not discussed and is therefore still in effect, that knee socks must be worn at all times with Bermuda shorts. Violations are subject to action by the Discipline Committee.

In other action, recommendation was made to the administration that some positive action be taken on the purchase of a new fire truck. It was pointed out that the reason for attaching the hose to the library fire plug during the AVO fire rather than at Johnson was that the pump will only function when the truck is in an elevated position, not to mention the fact that the propeller blade in the pump is on the verge of flying out at any time and severely injuring the operator.

Candidates seek OG, Honor Council posts

Elections are to be held beginning Monday, April 20 for Honor Council Representatives and for officers of the Order of Gownsmen.

Sophomores nominated for Junior Class Representatives are Blake Reed, Barry Thompson, Jim Wood, Will Jenkins, John Stuart, Dave jazz education within the society itself, chiefly through concerts. There will be several concerts each semester with the eventual goal of one per semester with a big name group.

Fair, Charlie Rond, Ernest Cheek, Pat McGowan, Pete Bailey, Walter Chastain, Bobby Cathcart, Larry Chandler, John Rothpletz, and Ed Ehrig. Two are to be selected.

Those nominated for Order of Gownsmen officers are for President Bob Gregg, Bob Carter, Bill Barnwell, Bill Quarterman, Bob Howard, Steve Elliott, Mike Boss; for Vice-President, Fred Jones, Tate Greenwald, Gray Haines, Bill Bullock, Lloyd Elie, Moss Young; for Secretary, Paul Goodwin, Charles Powell, Doug Evert, Clay Farham, Jan Nelson, Bob Kane, Charlie Kelley, and Clayton Farham.

Seewanee Jazz Society forms

About three weeks ago, following the success of the jazz concert, a group of students and faculty banded together to form a Seewanee Jazz Society. It is to be an honorary organization with student membership limited to twenty. However, faculty membership will be unlimited in number.

The founders have designated that new members will be admitted only with the approval of three-fourths of the present society. They have established that its general purpose will be to further the jazz consciousness and enthusiasm of the community, and to strive for extensive

Pollard to speak here next week

The Rev. Dr. William G. Pollard will give a series of lectures in St. Lytle's Auditorium Tuesday and Wednesday, April 21-22.

The first lecture will be Tuesday at 4 p.m. followed by the second one that night at 8 p.m. The topics respectively will be "Communications Versus Subject Matter" and "Science and Religion in the Community." "Nature and Supernature" will be the topic at 4 p.m. Wednesday followed by "The Problem of Knowledge" at 8 p.m.

Pollard is executive director of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, priest-in-charge of St. Francis Episcopal Church, Norris, Tenn, and secretary-treasurer of the Oak Ridge town council.

He holds a B.A. degree from the University of Tennessee and a Ph.D. from Rice Institute in physics. In addition he has been awarded numerous honorary degrees including a Doctor of Science from the University of the South.

del's measured grace lends itself easily to the carillon. It can surely be said that Handel, in this number, approaches the sublime.

Moment Musical-Schubert. A direct contrast to the number above, "Sacred Heart" is the best-known chorale from that work. The second number, with its catching lilt, is from the "Peasant Cantata."

Greenleeves, Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes, Old English. Two traditional melodies particularly well suited to the carillon. "My Lady Greenleeves," originally a tavern song, has long since been elevated and is now sung as a Christmas number, "What Child is this, Who laid to Rest."

Swing Low, Sweet Charity, Nobody knows the Trouble No One Can Spirituals. The chorale of bells gives new meaning to folk tunes, whether secular or religious, and spirituals are no exception. They seem to "fit" the bells.

Track, tennis teams face foes

The track team will be after its fourth win this week when they travel to Nashville for a meet with David Lipscomb College. The tennis team, still looking for their first win, will host the University of Tennessee tomorrow and the University of Cincinnati on Friday. The golf team will return to action when they play Florence State at Florence, Alabama, on Saturday.

Softballers see play this week

by CHARLIE POWELL

Intramural softball begins this week with a full slate, although inclement weather may force postponements. The league picture is hazy at this point, pre-season games being based mainly upon general athletic strength shown thus far. Last year's winners, the Phi's, seem sure to be contenders although possible weak pitching could be a drag. Good teams are expected from the KA's, Phi Gam's, Theolog's, ATO's, and Beta's, although their relative strengths are presently unsure. Spoiler roles generally have been assigned the Snake's and K's for overall lack of depth and experience. The other two league participants collide on Tuesday in a tussle to avoid Hottensville, the Delta's seeming odds-on favorites to save their annual award for Futility. Overall, the league appears to be weaker than usual, generally in depth and experience, and specifically in pitching. Also most teams have had too little practice, and their opening games may be somewhat sloppy affairs. However, despite the unimpressive pre-season view of probable league play, the games themselves will undoubtedly provide a great deal of enjoyment for players and their spectator brothers, not to speak of the opportunities for Apollonites to soak up Vitamin D.

As this copy went to press, the Phi Gams seemed to be about to pick up bodimintin honors, with only a match with the Phi's in the way of a first place sweep in both singles and doubles. Dave Hayes seems to have proven himself top request waddler again this year, although the awaited meeting with the Theolog's Gordon Ward failed to transpire with the Theolog's non-participation. The various organizations should begin immediately to ready their entrants in golf, tennis, and swimming, with these sports next to come in intramural competition.

Tiger talk

Stev Elliott

The Tiger cindermen racked up win number three in an undefeated season Saturday, and they accomplished this before a poorly number of spectators. Your reporter realizes that the "three ring circus" aspect of a track meet hardly enhances its spectator appeal, so it was very gratifying to see people out in the damp mist last week-end. There is one remaining home meet on the Tiger schedule on May 2 with Tennessee Tech. Their team features one of this area's leading pole vaulters in Robert Innan.

This spring has until this past week-end been a very warm. Unfortunately this locale sometimes has a very late spring which hampers the conditioning of the track team. The team doesn't begin workouts until the first of March and some men don't reach good condition until very late in the season. Maybe some indoor track facilities can be fitted into Sewanee's overall plans for expansion.

In the elections for S Club officers last week Snuffy Gelston was selected as President, Ernie Check as Vice-President and Fred Brown, Secretary.

Bitondo runs swim course

An innovation in the physical education department this year is the swimming instruction course being given by coach Ted Bitondo. Thirty-two boys are currently enrolled in the full semester course which will enable them to get summer jobs paying twice the amount received by an ordinary lifeguard.

The class which meets three to five times a week has just finished the lifesaving part of the course and will now proceed into the swimming instruction phase.

Tigers win rainy meet

The Tiger track team won its third straight meet of the season defeating Howard College of Birmingham 85-43 on the Hardie Field track. Due to an all day rain on Friday the track was very slow and had a decided effect on the shorter races.

Bill Barnwell paced the Sewanee team with firsts in both the 440 and 220 yard dashes, and an anchor lap on the winning mile relay team. He surrendered high scoring honors to Denaberg of the visitors, a very active athlete who garnered 13 $\frac{1}{2}$ points for the day.

Grand Illusion will be shown by the Cinema Guild on Monday at 4:30 and 9:30. In a recent poll, European cinema critics cast the second largest number of votes for this film (first was The Cruiser Perimela). The plot concerns the incarceration of three French soldiers in a German war camp during World War I. Erich von Stroheim is the camp commandant whose strength and immense vitality are no longer contributing to the main stream of the war. Among his prisoners is a captain (Herr Frensky), who in a way is the aristocratic counterpart of Stroheim, and two enlisted men (Jean Gabin and Dallo). All four protagonists are well out of the terrible blood letting and could wait the war out in comparative safety. But the Captain sacrifices his life so that the two enlisted men can make their escape and the commandant was at all times fighting to prevent the event. Their flight back to France almost completed, Gabin and Dallo are sheltered by a German widow. Gabin falls in love with her. This too is cast aside and the prisoners continue their journey to France and the slaughter of the war. The point of all this seems to be that man has a noble illusion which leads him to forget his significance and to think that he can, by his individual commitment, influence the pattern of great events such as the First World War. Regardless of how hopeless it is to struggle, man, says Director Jean Renoir, must continually assert his will to live or he becomes subhuman. Also there is an insistence of the basic universality of man and it is from this that the flic makes its pacifist plea.

The regular flics are: Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Bell Book and Candle which is a viewable comedy about witches and their sons.

Owl Flic—Anastasia with Ingrid Bergman, Yul Brynner, and Heintz Hayes.

Saturday and Monday—The Trap which I hope only ensnares Richard Widmark, Tina Louise, and Lee J. Cobb.

Sunday and Tuesday—Roots of Heaven is a hellish journey through a forest of elephant trunks.

Representative to interview seniors

Dean Webb has announced that Donald M. Johnson, who received his B.A. here in 1948 and is a member of Phi Delta Theta, will be on the Mountain on Tuesday, April 21, representing the Insurance Company of North American Companies to interview seniors interested in career opportunities with his companies. Sewanee gets anonymous $26,000 gift

The Development Office has announced a gift of $26,000 from an anonymous benefactor. The sum was determined as the result of a matching offer by the donor.

This matching offer was a gift of $1,000 given to each class that had at least half of its members sending a contribution of any size to Sewanee during 1958. Also $10,000 was given to each Sewanee club that met a certain designated quota. The classes receiving the prizes were the classes of 1894, 1895, 1896, 1898, 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902, 1907, 1908, 1910, 1913, 1914, 1916, 1920, 1921, 1926, 1929, 1931, 1934, 1944, 1947. The Sewanee clubs receiving prizes were Atlanta, Los Angeles, Chicago, St. Louis.

The Development Office also announced that church support of Sewanee was increased during the past year. Sewanee continues to be the best supported educational enterprise in the history of the Episcopal Church in America. Tennessee led the owning dioceses in contributions and was followed by South Florida and Atlanta.

THERE'S AN IMPORTANT FUTURE AHEAD FOR THE MEN WHO WEAR THESE WINGS

The Air Force pilot or navigator is a man of many talents. He is, first of all, a master of the skies—and no finer exists. In addition, he has a firm background in astro-navigation, electronics, engineering and allied fields. Then, too, he must show outstanding qualities of leadership, initiative and self-reliance. In short, he is a man eminently prepared for an important future in the new Age of Space. Find out today if you can qualify as an Air Force pilot or navigator.
