Spring Weekend To Give Great Cultural Horizons

by CHARLES TERRELL

This Spring Weekend will indeed be a great triumph of culture over the trivial at the University of the South.

The Sewanee Gentleman can look forward to a seemingly never-failing succession of enlightening and edifying offerings, the likes of which have never before been visited upon this foggy plateau.

The agenda is constructed around the performance of Louis Armstrong, an old-line proponent of America's only great contribution to the musical culture of the world. He has been rated by Playboy (a folio comparing to our Sewanee Review, concentrating on a little more worldly cultural aspect) as second with his trumpet only to the fantastic Miles Davis, and was assigned second trumpet in Playboy's All Star Band.

Another jazz feature will be presented Saturday afternoon, again through the auspices of the Jazz Society. The progressive sounds of the Britton Banks Quartet and the Tupper Sausy Trio will emanate from the natural amphitheatre of the fifth hole on the golf course; thus the title "Jazz from the Fifth Hole." It has been decided that the acoustics of the golf course are superior to those of any campus building.

The usual parties will be held by the various exotic societies, as part of their never-ceasing endeavors to perpetuate their respective British, Hispano-American, and Scottish cultures.

All the brotherhoods of the Mountain are striving to keep this Spring Weekend in the proper vein. The Phi Delta Theta fraternity has decided, in the interests of culture, to completely abstain from intoxicating liquors for the duration of the weekend.

This blow for temperance, and the assertion that to enjoy the better things of life alcohol is not necessary, will certainly be applauded by the other institutions of Sewanee. The Dean of Men has been appointed to observe this exercise in abstinence so that he may instruct the faculty in just exactly how it is done.

The Phi Gamma Delta fraternity is devoting an entire evening to a symposium covering the culture of some remote tropic island of the Fiji archipelago. Minute attention has been paid to the accurate reproduction of the island's interesting topography, native dress, and native customs of dance, imbibing, et cetera. This "Evening with the Fijis" could prove to be educational.

The Delta Tau Delta men have, as usual, varied plans for the weekend. One activity on their agenda for Friday is a Punch Party. The Deltas in the midst of a punch party present a different aspect from any other organization on the Mountain—in the pursuit of cultural discussions, of course. However, the Delt party is closed.

Sigma Nu is having an evening convocation in an open-bedded convocation, strewn with Arcadian gramineae on which they may comfortably lie and study the constellations and minions of the universe. Away from the frantic pace of the University Domain, they hope to effect their scientific observations undisturbed—by all. And we must recognize that science is a cultural art even though it is slightly frowned on by some of our extra-learned humanitarians on this purple rang over the valleys of Tennessee.

Most of the other fraternities are planning equally far-sighted and constructive cultural activities. All plan, in the name of temperance and good health, to be tucked away in bed by two in the morning. Culture will now be rightly recognized here as the only worthwhile endeavor.

Exhibit and Tea

Ecclesiastical art, vestments, and religious art objects of Sewanee will be exhibited from May 10 to 15 at the University Art Gallery in Tuckaway Inn. On Wednesday, May 11, from 3-6 p.m. a Tea, honoring Prof. and Mrs. Gianetto Fieschi, Mr. George Myers, Mrs. Jones, and Mrs. Stewart, will be held in Tuckaway. Students are invited.

Group Offers $13,000 Grant

Recently the Research Corporation, an organization dedicated especially to the encouragement of research work in science, made a grant of $13,000 to the college for the 1960-1961 session, for the purpose of providing better research facilities at the University. After a representative of the organization had contacted University officials in connection with such a grant, members of the faculty of the science departments drew up proposals for the use of funds should they be granted. These proposals included such things as extended use of paid laboratory assistants, extension of library facilities to include equipment such as microfilm and filmstrips, and purchasing of needed laboratory equipment.

The Research Corporation grant will benefit not only all the divisions of the science department, but also the mathematics department. Dr. Lancaster Dean of the College expressed great appreciation on behalf of the college science and mathematics departments for the grant.

Five Students Are Delegates To MIT Science Workshop

The Biophysics and Biophysical Chemistry Study Section is an organization which especially encourages undergraduate students in science to participate in an integrated course of study which touches on all branches of science. Dr. Walter Kulture, an official of the organization, will be here May 3 to discuss such a program with University officials.

Recently a number of students were chosen by the organization for a workshop and seminar at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology this summer. Students chosen were: E. Wiley Johnson, Jr., Barry H. Thompson, Larry S. Varnell, and Gordon T. P. Wright. Chosen as an alternate delegate was Robert S. Cathart.

New Cinema Club To Meet Tonight

Tonight at 7:15 in the Professor's Common Room the organizational meeting of the Sewanee Cinema Club will take place. This club is planned so that it will undertake the work now done by the Sewanee Cinema Guild. All interested students are urged to attend.

The Sewanee Cinema Guild, started a few years ago, has been on the campus in one form or another since its beginning. Dr. Scott Bates directed the proceedings until this year, when Dr. Stephen Puckette and Mr. William Cielie became in charge.

The productions, presented by the Cinema Guild, have been so successful that even Mr. Soliace Freeman, manager of a rival theater, was heard in the variety show to mention his concern.

Mr. Cocks said that due to the success of the Sewanee Cinema Guild Dr. Puckette and he felt that it was time for the operation of it to be turned over to the students.

The club will be student operated. The duties of the members will include the selection of movies to be shown and the actual projection of the film.

Purpose of the initial meeting will be to bring the interested students together at which time election of officers will possibly be held.

OG Chooses DC Members

In recent Order of Gownsmen elections the following men were chosen to serve on the Discipline Committee for the year 1960-1961: F. R. Freyer SAE, Chairman; Bert Glover SN, Secretary; Bill Shastean PGD; Roy Flynn KS; Bart Rogers KA; Philip George ATO; Tom Greer BTP; George Wright Independent; George Freeman DTD; Dusty Baker PDT.

These men will serve as an advisory council on disciplinary matters to the Dean of Men and shall recommend to the Dean of Men punishment for conduct by any student which it considers not in keeping with the traditions and principles of Sewanee. This Rules committee is designated to relieve the Discipline Committee shall serve for the same period of time as the officers of the Order.

An amendment to the Constitution will provide for a Freshman Rules Committee composed of five sophomore gownsmen to be selected by the Discipline Committee. This Rules committee is designated to relieve the Discipline Committee of petty violations of the Freshman Rules.

After a long series of run-offs last week, the Order of Gownsmen finally managed to elect three of its members to the offices of this, the students' governing body. Those chosen to lead the Order of Gownsmen during the next academic year are: Ed Williamson, president; Jim Link, vice-president; and Bob Rust, secretary. Next year will be the first year that the OG officers will hold their positions for both semesters.

Ed Williamson, SAE, is a Political Science major from Darlington, South Carolina. Williamson has been president of his fraternity this semester. He has served as a Junior class representative to the Publications Board. He is a member of the Red Ribbon Society, ODK, and the Highlanders. Presently he is serving as a Proctor and as president of the German Club.

Jim Link, KA, hails from Hogsenville, Georgia. He has had much experience in the OG, having served as vice-president, secretary, and as a member of the Executive Committee. He is an English major.

Link has been a member of the Arnold Air Society and the Student Vestry. He has also worked on the staffs of the Mountain Goat and the Cap and Gown. He is a member of the Red Ribbon Society and Los Pones. Link has served his fraternity as vice-president and secretary. He is also a Proctor. Bob Rust, BTP, is a Political Science major from Arlington, Virginia. Rust is president of the newly organized Sewanee Caving Society. He has served his fraternity as warden, rush captain, and pledge trainer. Rust is presently vice-president of the Intramural Council. He is also a member of the "S" Club.

All three of the newly elected OG officers are rising Seniors. Others in the final run-offs were Jim Wislowski, Danny Woods, and Al Elmora.

Alumni Office Hosts ACPRA

On Sunday, May 1, the Development Office, located in Elliott Hall, entertained The America College Public Relations' Association of five Middle Tennessee colleges and universities with an open house.

The Association is designed to increase cooperation among public relations' offices of colleges and universities. Almost every American educational institution belongs to the Association.

During the open house the machinery, operations, and organization of Sewanee's public relations office were shown and explained to the visiting members of the Association.

ROTC Will Give Awards Thursday

The annual Awards Ceremony of Sewanee's ROTC unit will be held one p.m., Thursday, May 5, on the intramural field.

Recognition will be given to the most outstanding cadet in each class as well as to those who have demonstrated superior leadership, scholarship, and military achievement. Those cadets who participated in such activities as the Sabre Drill Team, Rifle team, Band, and other ROTC activities will also be cited.

An invitation is extended to all interested.

The main feature of the Spring Weekend which is now upon us will be tomorrow night's performance by Louis Armstrong, Satchmo and ensemble will appear in the Juhon Gymnasium, starting at 8 p.m. Their appearance here represents a major attraction for the Sewanee Jazz Society, which only last winter presented the Dave Brubeck Quartet here on the Mountain.

Tiger Talk

by STEVE MOORHEAD

Sewanee's fighting baseball team, urged on by the Casey Stengel type antics of base coaches Varnell and Majors took their first two home games and proved themselves very worthy of our support. The diamond record now stands at 2-2, and we feel sure that the win column will increase steadily during the four remaining games. The scarcity of home games this year was due in part to the lack of adequate facilities. Home games were played on a field little better than a clay tennis court. It is hoped that this condition will be corrected in the near future.

Outstanding Athletes.

We think it appropriate at this time to devote some space to some of the year's outstanding Freshman jocks. During football season, the fine running of Sam Gill, Jim Frye, and Wallace Pinkley from the tailback slot was observed and applauded by everyone. The hard-hitting line play of Neil Nunno, John Turner, and Wayne Rushton, along with many others, contributed much to the grid effort.

Very capable rebounding by big Josh Nunn, together with the accurate jumpshots and hustle of John Smith pulled the Tiger hoopers over many rough spots. Wallace Pinkley and Jack Munn are patrolling the keystone corner for the baseball team, and doing fine jobs.

Jim Davenport has been playing in several events each track meet and has lately gotten out some very spectacular broad jumps. Freshmen Hank Bonar and Wayne MacGreggor run on Sewanee's record-breaking mile relay team. Bonar, in addition, has been regularly copying firsts and seconds in the quarter. Eaton Govan in the half mile and Ed Nash in the sprints have also been outstanding. Record-breaking swimmer Dick Wolvertson was of course, a mainstay of the tank team.

Ed Hatch has combined with Phil George to create one of the finest tennis doubles teams in the state. Tom Wice and Townsend Collins, swinging from second and third spots on the golf team, have helped the linksters build up a winning record.

Full slate on Spring Weekend.

Spring Weekend is also, unfortunately, the time of the last full slate of athletic events before the close of the season. The golf team is in Athens, Georgia, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday to play in the Southern Intercollegiate. Thursday and Friday will see the tennis team in Chattanooga for the T.I.A.C. tournament. They will play their next to last match one week from today against Mississippi State on their home courts. The basketball team will journey to Cookeville for the T.I.A.C. track meet Friday and Saturday, completing their season.

Coch Shirley Majors' baseball squad open to Nashville Thursday for a return game with the Vandy Frogs. They travel to Jackson Monday to play Lambuth College, and finish their season Tuesday with a doubleheader in Memphis against Southwestern.

Cindermen Defeat EK To Finish Season 3-2

by CARL CUNDIFF

This past weekend the Sewanee track team defeated Eastern Kentucky State College 74-57, thus completing the season with a 3-2 record. Weather conditions were favorable and the track was beyond any doubt the best it has been this year. Best individual times of the season were given by Jerry Moser with a 1:53 victory in the high hurdles; Jack Mitchell with a 10:52.2 in the two-mile run; Ed Nash with a 1:01.1 in the hundred yard dash; and Eaton Govan with a 2:04.5 in the 880 yard run.

Eastern Kentucky pressed Sewanee hard during the entire meet. Never more than 10 points separated the two teams as each strove to get the edge over the other. Near the end, Jack Mitchell's first in the two-mile event widened the gap which Sewanee's mile-relay team then turned into a chasm. Despite precious seconds lost in passing the baton, the mile-relay team still succeeded in having a winning time of 3:29.

The Tiger Cindermen have suffered all season long due to injuries and illness. Successful come backs were staged this week by Ed Nash and Jerry Moser. Ed Nash had been hampered by a muscle pulled earlier in the season, but came back to win the hundred yard dash. Jerry Moser had been hampered by an injured knee, but took three firsts to finish as the high point man of the meet. Still out are low-hurdler Walter Chastain, who received a leg injury at Southwestern two weeks ago, and sprinter Dave Barr, incapacitated by glandular fever. Coach Moore has high hopes of having these runners back on the squad in time for the State Meet next week.

The Sewanee Track Team completed the season with a 3-2 record in dual meets, placed fourth at the Howard Institutional, and will go to Cookeville, Tenn. next weekend for the T.I.A.C. meet with much optimism. Event to watch: the mile relay.

Tigers Lose Golf, Tennis

The Vanderbilt tennis team defeated Sewanee last Saturday on the Commodore's courts in Nashville by the lopsided score of 8-1. Sewanee's lone win was recorded by the number one doubles team of Phil George and Ed Hatch. They resumed their winning streak Friday having it interrupted by the Western Michigan team. Sewanee's record now stands at two wins and five losses.

Two tough Southeastern conference powerhouses were too much for Sewanee Saturday as they lost to Vanderbilt University 23-4 and to Mississippi State 18-9 in a double match. It was Sewanee's first double match of the season and also their first six man match.

Harcourt Camp, number two man for Vandy, took medalist honors of the match as he breezed around the sand-greened Sewanee course with a three under par 69.

Saturday was the last regular-season match for Coach Bryan's linksters this year. Thursday, Friday, and Saturday the team will be in Athens, Georgia, at the Southern Intercollegiate Golf Tournament, where they will be in stiff competition to meet also against golf teams from all over the South.

Tiger Diamondmen Win Home Openers

Sewanee's first baseball team in twenty-two years treated fans to a pair of impressive victories in their first home stands.

Their hitters pounded two unfortunate Bethel College pitchers for sixteen hits and thirteen runs Monday in a well-balanced display of team power. Walt Wilder led the sluggers with a double and three singles, followed by Larry Chandler, Jack Munn, Sparky Edgin, and Bill Stewart, each with two hits. Stewart pitched a complete game, scattering nine hits and giving up only four runs.

Vandy's "bonus baby" frash fared no better against the aroused Tigers. Led by the big bat of Denny Thompson, who poked two clutch singles to drive in five runs, Sewanee scored thirteen runs. Headly and opportunistic ball-playing was the keynote Friday, as the Tigers stole five bases and capitalized on every mistake made by the Junior Commodores. The game was hotly contested all the way, but each time Vandy closed the Tigers rallied and put together a big inning. Diminutive Bill Stewart again handled mound chores and went all the way, settling down after a shaky sixth inning and finishing very strongly.

Athletes Cited By Rupp At Banquet

Sewanee's basketball and swimming banquet was held at Clararom restaurant last Thursday night. The highlight of the evening was the speech of the guest of honor, Adolph Rupp. Mr. Rupp talked on the importance of academics, as well as athletics, in college life.

Forward Sparky Edgin was named captain of next year's basketball team, to replace senior Soufley Gelston. Larry Varnell was named alternate captain. Gelston was presented a trophy for his leadership in the Tiger's 14-8 season, second best in the school's history.

Bob King, a distance man, was named captain of the 1960-61 swimming team, with sprinter Charles Robinson to serve as alternate captain. Sprinter Tony Veal received acclamation as the most outstanding member of the swimming team.

In their first two games at home, Sewanee's glovemen have shown themselves to be a very skilled and aggressive team. They have all the ingredients necessary for playing a good, exciting ball game. Good team speed was shown by the stolen bases and the extra bases always taken by base runners on a hit to the outfield. Also very gratifying was the ability to get the big hit when it counted, a virtue no winning team can be without. This baseball team will be one well worth watching in the remainder of its games.

Phi Gams Hold First Position In IM Circuit

The Phi Gams retained their lead in the intramural softball race, winning one game during a week marked by very little action. The Phi knocked off the KSU to entrench themselves in second place, half a game out. The Beta tripped the ATO's to gain undisputed possession of third place. The Kappa Sigs, KAs, and SAs fell closely, still within striking distance. The ATO's seem out of contention, but they could still make trouble. The rest of the league is mathematically eliminated.

Alpha Tau Omega To Hold Annual Mother's Day Tea

The Alpha Tau Omega fraternity will have its annual Mother's Day Tea on Sunday, May 8, from 4 to 6 p.m. at their newly remodeled fraternity house.

Social co-chairmen Pelzer and Greene are in charge of the activity. Numerous invitations have been mailed and a large crowd is expected. Snacks and punch will be served. Those present will be shown through the new house by members of the fraternity.

The new house will be formally dedicated Friday afternoon, May 6. The large chamber room will be dedicated in memory of the late Cleveland brothers of Texas, who donated a large sum for the rebuilding of the house which was destroyed by fire last year. The "Dance Room" will be dedicated to "Uncle" Bob Elliott. Dr. McCrady will assist in the dedication services.

Wednesday: Long Hot Summer

Adaptation of William Faulkner's The Hamlet and another work or so in an attempt for the full Faulkner flavor, but his hard liquor qualities are considerably diluted in filming. . . . English majors will detect the general rotting out of his intentions.

However, a talented cast generously compensates—Orson Welles plays a "Big Daddy" type role . . . impatiently tries to marry his daughter (Joanne Woodward) to arrogant young stud (Paul Newman) and is exasperated by his spiteful son (Anthony Franciosa) who fails to fill his large uncouth footprints.

Concerned primarily with "the spiritual development of human beings under the stress of highly specific and dramatic circumstances" (Saturday Review). . . . Lack of conventional plot is la Faulkner. . . . Filmed in Clinton, La. . . . Care was exercised to saturate the cast with magnolia accents. Orson Welles overdoes it a little. . . . Southern-born and reared, smoky-voiced, blonde, demure, green-eyed Joanne Woodward needed no lessons. . . . Tough Flick. . . . It is long and hot-exciting and sufficiently sexy. Thursday and Friday: This Happy Feeling.

Typical plot—cute naive secretary (Debbie Reynolds) thinks she's in love with suave mature actor (Curt Jurgens) instead of boy next door (John Saxon) whose age and style are more appropriate for her. . . . Innocent young girl moves in with aging sophisticate. . . . Disappointingly little happens, spoiling chances for big success at Union Theatre. Jurgens does some pretty good clowning. . . . Debbie might be accused of being a little too Popocently coy. . . . Saxon is cool but slightly greasy. . . . Estelle Winwood plays Jurgens's babbling, boozed-up housekeeper.

Too much of a peanut butter and jelly comedy. . . . Not substantial enough to gratify the more critical members of the flick team. . . . Nevertheless amusing.

Based on F. H. Herbert's "For Love or Money?" Friday Owl Pic: Fiend Without a Face.

Not recommended for those in pregnancy, with heart palpitations, high blood pressure, neuralgia, rickets, scurvy, etc. or sane people. . . . I couldn't dig up any more on it. . . . Sounds adequate medicine to insure an animated Owl Flick.

Saturday and Monday: Journey to the Center of the Earth. An adaptation of one of Jules Verne's books which Time calls "preposterous pseudo-scientific poppycock" . . . a four and a half million dollar 20th Century Fox production. . . . Starring: Thayer David, Peter Ronson, Ariene Dahl, and Gerude (a duck). Also along for the trick, clad in short pants, is Pat (Twist Twelve and Twenty) Boone. . . . All the earth's center they find, much to our relief not Hell but an offensively imaginative and colorful wonderland. . . . They scramble down volcanic tunnels, bathe in a miraculous pool lined with glittering quartzes, slay through regions of mystical fumes and luminous algae, survive an attack by lizard monsters, sail on a craft over an underground sea. . . . Fantasy and fun. . . . Bring your entire family.

Sunday and Tuesday: Happy Anniversary.

David Niven plays husband (upper bourgeois, not overly fond of children or dogs—Good Niven medium). . . . He valiantly shields his suburban homestead from the evil encroachment of the "silver screen" . . . But, woe, stuffy in-laws confront the family with a deluxe TV on the thirtieth anniversary of Niven and wife (Mitzi Gaynor) . . . Niven is horrified. . . . His bratty children are elated. He retorts by telling his wife's parents that before their marriage he and their daughter were living in sin in various Manhattan pads . . . pandemonium follows, with lively subsequent developments. . . . entertaining mattress farce full of nouveau cliches, piquant dialogue, and funny situations.
