

Premiere Performance

The Sewanee Wind Ensemble will present its premiere performance on Friday, February 9, at 4:30 p. m., in the auditorium of Querry Hall. The program will consist mainly of works composed specifically for contemporary band performance. Among these are Tchaikovsky's Andantino Marziale, and Purcell's Trumpet Tune and Air, which will be rendered.

In an attempt to find music suitable for its particular size and instrumentation, and realizing the general failings of orchestral transcriptions, the Ensemble has turned to modern band composers for most of its repertoire. Of special interest is the Prelude and Fugue in F Minor, by Huxton Bright, and The Black Cannon of the Gunnison, by Frank Erickson.

Featured in program will be a Tympani solo given by Julian Brockwith, and Leroy Anderson's Bugler's Holiday, with Terry Nickel, Jim Kendig and David Mead making up the trumpet trio.

The Wind Ensemble has this year shifted its emphasis from being a football game pep-band, (though it still appears at all home football and basketball games) to a musical organization and of artistic standing, according to director Robert Weston.

Koch Advocates Sexual Freedom In C I Article

"Sexual Intercourse, with modern contraceptives and medical advice readily available, should be condemned among college students sufficiently mature to engage in it," says Dr. Leo Koch in his January Campus Illustrated, the new monthly magazine for collegians.

A biology professor, ousted from the University of Illinois for his views on sex and the colleague, Dr. Koch advocates "a great deal more freedom for college students to decide for themselves, when and how, they are to indulge their sexual desires." He also believes, "there are excellent reasons why collegians should engage in heterosexual relations before marriage."

Dr. Koch's reasons are mainly centered around individual health. "A healthy mature personality—healthy physically, emotionally and intellectually, is impossible without sexuality," says the professor. "Sexual organs are so basically integral to the human organism that they influence human behavior profoundly and inevitably. Sexuality cannot be warped without also warping the personality."

In Campus Illustrated, Dr. Koch states that the chief's first outcry is that greater sexual freedom among unmarried would seriously increase the incidence of contagious venereal disease and of illegitimate pregnancy. Dr. Koch submits that "greater sexual freedom, when accompanied by intelligent educational measures, will decrease the incidence of both disease and illegitimacy. This has been the case in Sweden. Besides which, neither venereal disease nor pregnancy are major tragedies unless they are exaggerated out of all proportions and are not properly handled."

In Campus Illustrated, Dr. Koch states that the most important goal of liberalizing attitudes toward sex is not much more sexual experience for all, but rather a greater sexual self-responsibility and education about sex. "College students can no longer avoid sex," opines Dr. Koch. "They should participate selectively. To be sperm donors and not sex without contraindications, they should not sex with strangers; and they should not sex for the wrong reasons."

Selections from Bridgton, by F. Lowe arranged by F. Gordon, and the all-time favorite Sousa March, The Stars and Stripes Forever, will highlight the program.

Publications Nominations

Nominations for the positions of EDITOR OF The Mountain Goat, BUSINESS MANAGER OF The Sewanee Public and Junior Class Publications Board REPRESENTATIVE must be submitted before 8:00 p. m. on Friday, February 9 to Mr. Arthur Ben Chitty, Chairman of the University Publications Board.

These written nominations must cite the nominee's experience on the publications, particularly the editorial experience of candidates for editor and the business qualifications for candidates for business manager. Experience on one of the University publications carries over to another. The nominees must be gownsmen.

The election will be held February 15.

Poss Retires; Served 58 Years

When the students who room at Hunter Hall returned from their semester break this year they found something missing. Poss Trigg, the friendly janitor, had quietly retired from active service.

Poss, as he liked the students to call him, had been working at the University for as long as most people can remember. He actually began work here on March 15, 1904, and has continued in the service of the school since that time.

The alumni all remember Poss for his cheerful and willing attitude. He was always ready to help someone who was in any kind of need, and was indignant at the thought of remuneration. A man like this is a rare find. An example which typifies Poss's attitude is his relationship with Senor Lewis, a former University Spanish professor. For thirty years Poss has been helping the Senor with whatever chores needed done and this is only one of many instances of his charitable spirit.

Sewanee means a great deal to Poss; it has been his life since 1904. He has watched the school develop into the institution it is today, and is proud of the part he has played in its growth. In his fifty-eight years of service, Poss

Houses Arrange Festivities

Final plans for Midwinter parties have been made by the Mountain's ten fraternities. All are having a dance and party Saturday night, and some have plans for Friday and Sunday.

The ATOs are partying with the KAs Saturday afternoon at the ATO house from 4 to 6 p. m. Entertainment will be provided by the Satellites of Deched. Saturday night the ATOs will have a Negro band from Atlanta with the party lasting from 10 p. m. to 2 a. m. The KAs will have Spider and the Blues-benders from 9 to 1 at their house Saturday night.

DTD will have a beer and dance party at their house Saturday afternoon with a banquet that night and entertainment by the Buenos Band.

FGD plans a mixer party Friday evening before the Chuck Berry program with another party after the dance. Saturday afternoon there will be a combo and party, and from 9 to 2 a dance featuring the Bossesville of Knoxville.

The KSs will begin with a meal at noon Saturday followed by a joint party with the SAs at the SAE house from 8 to 6. Saturday night the party will move to the KS house from 10 to 2 with music by the Orzofds of Athens. Ga. Sunday morning the KSs will have a tomato juice party as will the SAs, after chapel.

BTD will have a dinner Saturday night at 7:30 with a dance following at 9 and lasting until 1. Entertainment will be by the Empires of Athens, Alabama.

SN will have a hamburger served at 6:30 Saturday with a dance from 9 to 1 featuring the Lancers from Nashville. PDT plans a mixer party Friday afternoon, a picnic Saturday afternoon, and a dance Saturday night with the Delays of Florence, Alabama. A breakfast follows the dance. Sunday morning there will be a tomato juice party.

LCA will have a combo made up of fraternity members Saturday afternoon with a meal and professional band from 9 to 1 Saturday night.

The Independents plan a buffet supper Friday night before the German Club dance and a party Saturday with a combo.

Checklists were on sale last week, and Chairman Hatch has announced that sales are moving quite well. He wishes to have it made known that because of fire precaution rulings, only a limited number of tickets can be sold, and he urges that prospective buyers should act now in order to be assured of admission. Any remaining tickets will be sold at the door Friday night. Tickets can be purchased from any German Club member. Checks should be made payable to the German Club.

Tigers Claw Panthers in Boring Battle

The few fans present on the night before finals witnessed one of the most boring games on the Mountain all year. It was not as low-scoring a game as the famed Millsaps game earlier in the season, but there was also a definite lack of excitement which was present that night against Millsaps. A great deal of this diminished desire was owed to the pre-exam tension.

The Birmingham-Southern Panthers showed none of the fight that they showed down on their home floor either. Their star player, M. Breakfield, hit for a very poor percentage and continually threw the ball away. S. Edgin was back on keel after his sub-period showing against Southwestern, and he poured his hook shot through the net for a total of 23 points.

The Tigers made only three field goals during the last 15 minutes of the second half. The final score had Sewanee on top 48-38. The Tigers outscored the Panthers 20-10 in the second half and this proved to be the decisive factor in the game.

The Sewanee five have maintained a flawless record on their home floor thus far. They met Huntington from Montgomery, Alabama last Monday night. Their final home game will not be until the 17th of February when they meet the BSC Panthers for the third time this season.

Betas, Phis, Fijis, and Taus Lead Race in IM Basketball

With the completion of the first week's schedule in the Intramural Basketball League, four teams emerge as leading contenders for the important forty points towards the intramural trophy. If we look at the results of the initial games the Betas and Phis definitely look like the two strongest teams in the race. The Phi Gams and ATOs both suffered defeats this week but they were beaten by the Betas and Phis respectively and both must still be considered leading contenders.

In the opening games of the season played Thursday, February 1, the SAEs, led by ex-football player Phil Frontier and Phil Hickey, defeated the Deltas and the KSs won by forfeit over LCA. EDT whipped the Independents and the Betas took advantage of the Phi Gams cold shooting to defeat the Fijis in a low-scoring contest. On Saturday the KSs used a balanced attack to down the SAs while last year's most valuable player, Jerry Delbois, paced the ATOs over the KAs and the Phi Gams picked up their first victory of the season by whipping the LCA's.

Sunday afternoon found the Independents fielding a much stronger team with the addition of Woody Wood as they administered a second defeat to the Deltas. Marty Webb hit well with long one-handers and jump shots to pace the Betas over the KAs. In the most exciting game of the week last year's champion, ATO, was defeated by the Phis in what might be considered a mild upset. Mike Martin controlled the boards and along with Joe Owens and Chris Williams paced the Phi offense against the ATO zone. Ed Elzey bore the offensive burden for the ATOs as usual high scorers. Jerry Delbois and Bill Stevens, were held down by the Phis though Tom-to-man defense headed by Hayes Noel.

TIGER TALK

by STEVE MOOREHEAD

Lynxes Dropped By Tigers 73-71

On January 13, 1962, just five days before exams, the hoopsters played host to Southwestern, our arch rival from Memphis, Tenn. This was probably the most exciting game witnessed here at Sewanee in many years as the Lynxes forced Sewanee into double overtime. They finally lost their drive, and the Tigers edged them 73-71.

The Tigers were quite cold from the start as the Lynxes opened up an 8 point lead with only 7 minutes gone in the first half. Fitzsimmons finally got hot for five baskets in a row, and this coupled with Dyke's drilled pulled Sewanee up to within 2 points of Southwestern at the close of the half. Carl Fischer hit 18 points to put the Lynxes on top with a 31-29 edge.

J. Smith scored 12 quick points to even the score during the first part of the second half. With only 4 and a half minutes to play, the Tigers had opened up a 4 point lead. At this point the Lynxes attempted to freeze the ball. The Lynxes repeatedly stole the ball and evened the score at 59-59 within one minute to play. S. Edgin sank his old reliable hook shot to put the Tigers on front. Then once more Varnell's freezing tactics failed to work as an alert Southwestern guard picked up the loose ball and tied the score as the buzzer went off.

The first overtime ended with the score decreed at 65-65. M. Fitzsimmons then scored two baskets in the second overtime, one a tap-in, to tie the game on ice. Each overtime lasted a full five minutes. C. Fischer finished the game as the high man with 30 points. He was the main spark on a rather mediocre Southwestern five. The Lynxes, however, never falls to 0 plays injured when they come to the Jahan Gymnasium.

Sewanee's winter sports program has been quite successful thus far and may possibly be one of the best yet.

Leading attraction this winter has been the wrestling team. Rated high by many observers, this team is one of the best in the Southeast. In their two outings this season, the matmen did extremely well in the Chattanooga Invitational and crushed Emory in a dual meet.

Tonight the University of Georgia wrestling team will appear at Sewanee. The Bulldogs will be tough, but we predict a victory for the powerful Tigers. This will be a very exciting match, and will be well worth watching.

The basketball team was hard-hit by drop-outs after first semester grades came in. They are having a good season, though, and should finish well. The record is now 7-4, with five games to go.

The next swimming meet is Friday night, against Eastern Kentucky. The Tigers should take this one, and we recommend that everyone who can spare an hour before Chuck Berry attend the meet. Starting time is 7:30 p.m.

Summer Jobs Listed for '62

The new enlarged 1962 Annual Summer Placement Directory, the largest and most comprehensive listing of actual summer jobs, fellowships, and apprenticeships, is now available. This is the same Directory used each year by over 1500 college placement offices. Copies can be examined in Dr. Webb's office.

This directory, completely revised and brought up to date each year, is particularly prepared for college students, teachers, professors, and librarians. Jobs for which high school seniors may also apply are clearly indicated.

Some of the over 15,000 unusual summer earning opportunities listed throughout the United States and many foreign countries include leading bicycle trips, grants-in-aid to study numismatics, working on farms in Switzerland, theatrical apprenticeships on a show boat on the Ohio River, conducting tours to Europe, camp counseling aboard a ship in the Bahama Islands, trainees for the Coast and Geodetic Survey, museum exhibit demonstrating.

Mountain Goat's Winter Issue to Appear on 15th

Thursday, February 15 is the projected publication date for the Winter Issue of The Mountain Goat, University literary and humor magazine and the unofficial organ of the student body.

The Winter Issue, devoted entirely to humor, is being edited by Gene Dickson, Ewing Carruthers, and Don Timberlake. It will contain contributions by James Ertter, Mike Carr, Jody Trimble, Johannes de Silencia, Lobos Sutor, Norval Yrigoin, and others (who prefer anonymity).

Dickson, who was appointed by the Publications Board editor of the Winter Issue in the absence of a qualified editor during the first semester, collected and edited the issue's copy with the help of Carruthers. The lay-out and actual production of the magazine is being done by Timberlake.

Students who have pictures or humorous cartoons for The Goat's picture section should submit them to Carruthers or Timberlake until Friday night, February 9.

Dr. Puckette Speaks in N. C.

Dr. Stephen E. Puckette spoke to the Sewanee Club of Charlotte, North Carolina at a dinner meeting held on Friday, January 26, at the Stark Restaurant on Independence Boulevard in Charlotte. A social hour at 7:00 preceded the dinner at 8:00. The Club is composed of alumni and friends of the University.

Dr. Puckette graduated from the University in 1949 and is now assistant professor of mathematics in the College of Arts and Sciences. He did his graduate work at Yale University, where he received his M.S. in forestry and M.A. and Ph.D. in mathematics. He spent a year in France as a Fulbright Scholar and also studied in Germany.

Dr. Puckette showed some color slides of Sewanee scenes. Chairman of arrangements for the meeting was Stuart Childs, Charlotte attorney, and Dr. Fred N. Mitchell is president of the club.

archeological work in the Missouri River Basin, leading canoe trips through northern Quebec, construction work in Belgium, wrangling in Colorado, and lecturing on a sight-seeing boat.

This year's Directory offers many special student training programs or openings of a permanent nature in hundreds of firms such as Eli Lilly Co., Ingersoll-Rand, Travelers Insurance Co., Aerojet-General Corp., Singer Sewing Machine Co., Devoe and Raynolds Co., etc.

Study projects, camp positions, job and apprenticeships with summer play houses and music theatres, and work at inns, resorts, restaurants, hotels, motels, lodges, and dude ranches are some of the other varied offers made to students and educators. Many branches of the U. S. Government in Washington and throughout the country have also requested their openings to be included.

All openings have been submitted directly to the Institute and include job descriptions, dates of employment, necessary qualifications, number of openings, salaries, and the names and the addresses of the employers. Helpful information is given on how to apply for positions and each Directory contains a simple resume to assist applicants.

The Summer Placement Directory can be obtained for $3.00 directly from The Advancement and Placement Institute, 169 North 9th St., Brooklyn 11, N. Y., or at book stores everywhere. A new companion guide, Summer

Opportunities for Teen-agers (1962 edition) is published each year in March. It provides teen-agers with authoritative information on thousands of ideas and activities for a really worthwhile, interesting, and useful summer. Hundreds of individuals and organizations have contributed to this tremendous compilation of teenage activities. It includes jobs; part-time work; selling opportunities; travel, sport, special interest, work, and foreign camps; community service projects; farm work; hosting; etc. ($3.00).

THE MANY LOVES OF THORWALD DOCKET

When Thorwald Docketster—a sophomore, epicure, and sportsman—first took up smoking, he did not simply choose the first brand of cigarettes that came to hand. He did what any sophisticate, epicure, and sportsman would do: he sampled several brands until he found the very best—a mild, rich, flavorful smoke—an endless source of comfort and satisfaction—a smoke that never palled, never failed to please—a smoke that you could not without your custom stake—a filter cigarette with an unflattering taste—Marlboro, of course!

Similarly, when Thorwald took girls, he did not simply select the first one who came along. He sampled. First he dated an English literature major named Elizabeth Barrett Schwartz, a wisp of a girl with large, luminous eyes and a soul that shimmered with a pale, unearthly beauty. Tippingly, trippingly, she walked with Thorwald upon the beach and sat with him behind a windward dune and listened to a coach sputter and sizzled sweetly and took out a little gold pencil and a little morose notebook and wrote a little poem:

*I will lie upon the shore,
I will be a dreamer,
I will feel the sea once more,
Pounding on my femur.*

Thorwald's second date was with a physical education major named Peaches Glendower, a broth of a girl with a ready smile and a size 15 neck. She took Thorwald down to the cinder track where they did 100 laps to open the pores. Then they played four games of squash, six sets of tennis, 30 holes of golf, nine innings of one of 'em, six chukkers of lacrosse, and a mile and a quarter of leaping. Then they went ten rounds with eight quarter gloves and hand leaping towels of wiley and exchanged a firm handshake and went home to their respective whirlpool baths.

He did not simply select the first one who came along...

Thorwald's final date was with a golden-haired, creamy-browed, green-eyed, red-haired, full-curved girl named Toti Sigafoss. Toti was not majoring in anything. As she often said, "Gee whillikers, what's college for anyhow—to fill your head full of ticky old facts, or to discover the shining essence that is YOU!"

Toti started the evening with Thorwald at a luxurious restaurant where she consumed her own weight in Cornish rock hen. From there they went to a deluxe movie palace where Toti had popcorn with butter. Then she had a bag of chocolate covered raisins—also with butter. Then they went to a cozy hall-room and did the Twist till dawn, tipping the land every eight bars. Then they went to a Chinese restaurant where Toti, unable to translate the menu, solved her problem by ordering one of everything. Then Thorwald took her to the woman's dorm, boosted her in the window, and went downtown to wait for the employment office to open.

While waiting, Thorwald thought over all of his girls and came to a sensible decision. "I think," he said to himself, "that I will stick with Marlboro. I can not risk enough for girls."

Marlboro, however, is rich enough for anybody. It takes mighty good makin' to give you unflattering taste in a filter cigarette. That's the flavor you get in the famous Marlboro recipe from Richmond, Virginia. You get a lot to like.

has witnessed the administration of several Vice-Chancellors, and the passing of many great men, all of whom he remembers well.

He spent his first eighteen years at St. Luke's and was of service to many prominent clergy men. Poss points with pride to the time a Bishop of the Church of England stayed at St. Luke's, and Poss made him tea every day, promptly at four. When he left St. Luke's, the students there gave him a scroll which expressed the gratitude they felt for his kind service.

Here he has worked at Hoffman, Gailor, and other dormitories, and waited on tables up until the change in policy which instituted student waiters. Poss came to Hunter Hall with its first students, and finished his career here.

His cheerful countenance and genuine desire to help has earned Poss a niche in the memory of many Sewanee students. He has become somewhat of an institution here. Every man who comes to Sewanee can learn a lesson from the example set by Poss. In talking with Poss one can't help but note his happiness with his life here, and his sincere gratitude for the opportunity given to him by the University to help others.

Folk Singers Archer and Gile Give Much-Appraised Show

A program of songs in ten languages was presented by Frances Archer and Beverly Gile, soprano and contralto, with guitar, at Guerry Hall in Sewanee, Wednesday, January 31, at 8 p.m. The major portion of the program was devoted to American songs, including some well-known spirituals, sea chanteys, and folk songs. Also they sang songs they have collected from Ireland, Wales, France, Germany, Scotland, Sweden, Finland, Spain, England, China, Japan, and Israel.

These world-travelled artists have developed a new concept of an entire art-song program based on folk-songs as a means of liberating their concerters from the sameness that has plagued so many singers. They base their work firmly in the rich field of Anglo-American songs adding a spice of such varied languages as Chinese, Hawaiian, Pueblo Indian, and Yiddish. In all, they sing in eighteen languages in which they have been coached by experts. Their authentic pronunciation of these tongues can be sampled on many records made on the Deaneysland and the new ST AND labels.

Archer and Gile have toured Europe to the same enthusiastic audience and press response they have received in this country. Television's "Omibus" chose them to set the stage of the Federalist Period in songs for the show on the American Constitution. Serious music critics have been much impressed with their programs in such great halls as Washington's National Gallery of Art, Mexico's Palacio de Bellas Artes, and New York's Town Hall.

Miss Archer, from Texas, and Miss Gile, from California, started their collaboration in an all-guitar quintet, but soon gave up popular work to concentrate on folk songs that they both loved. They experimented with the blending and contrasting of the high soprano with the deep contralto voice, and Beverly Gile polished her guitar playing with the tutelage of Vicente Gomez.
