THE SEWANEE ALUMNI NEWS

The SEWANEE ALUMNI NEWS takes the place of the Associated Alumni Bulletin as the official publication of The Associated Alumni. It is patterned after the alumni publications of other institutions and will be published quarterly. We hope that it will meet with the approval of the alumni and will receive their support. One of the chief features of this type of publication is its unlimited size. When our membership is sufficiently increased it will be possible for us to publish a bigger and better SEWANEE ALUMNI NEWS. Alumni personals are the life of any alumni publication and we plan to make this department twenty-five per cent of our future issues. To make this possible the cooperation of each alumnus is needed. The Alumni Office will welcome any suggestions in regard to this publication.

Beginning with the next issue (August) the SEWANEE ALUMNI NEWS will be sent only to the active members of the Associated Alumni. We have some 3,000 alumni in our files and only about 300 are active members of the association. As the financial support of this publication comes from dues, it can readily be seen that the 300 active members cannot finance the remainder of the 3,000.

Attend Commencement

A complete program of Commencement events is given on the front page of this issue. Every alumnus who possibly can will, of course, return to the Mountain for another Commencement celebration. There will be ample accommodations for all who attend. Reservations may be made through the Organizing Secretary. All alumni are requested to register at the Alumni Office in Walsh Hall upon arrival.

STUDENTS FOR NEXT YEAR

This year's freshman class is one of the best classes in the history of the University. Help make next year's class even better by interesting some worthwhile boy in Sewanee. Investigation proves that over half of our students were influenced in their choice of a college by alumni. We must rely on our alumni, friends, and present student body for new student material.

In The Sewanee Tradition

A survey of the records of students who enrolled in the University for the 1933-34 session shows a number of sons of Sewanee men. In addition to the students whose fathers attended the University more than fifty have other relatives who are alumni. It is hoped that an increasing number of students will answer "Family tradition!" when asked why they come to Sewanee. We are listing below the present members of the second generation of Sewanee men and their fathers.

On the Mountain

Interesting Visitors.

Mr. William Crandall, nephew of Professor Lewis, entertained the student body several weeks ago with comments on Oxford, which he attended for three years . . . George Fort Milton, editor of the Chattanooga News, was guest speaker at E. Q. B. . . Dr. Edwin Mims, English Department head at Vanderbilt, spoke to E. Q. B. His talk was so well liked that he was asked to repeat it to several classes the next day. Subject: Purposes of Education . . . Dean Helen Taft Manning of Bryn Mawr, daughter of former President Taft, spoke to student body while on visit to Tennessee.

Social.

The German Clubs gave the dancers treat at th midwinter affairs by hiring nationally known Joe Sanders (formerly of Coon-Sanders' combination) to furnish the music . . . Easter brought Buddy Miller from Knoxville, not so well known but still enjoyable . . . A comparative stranger is signed for Commencement—Mal Hallett, a New Englander . . . More than the usual number of fraternity parties have been given this year. Must be pointing toward renewed prosperity.

Scholastic.

The Scholarship Society continued the sponsoring of lectures by faculty members this winter, to the delight of students and residents. . . First of comprehensive exams for degrees will be given to some of this year's seniors. . . The State Philological Society was entertained on the Mountain in March. Papers were read continuously for two days and two nights . . . The debate schedule for the year was extensive, resulting in contacts with many other universities. Sewanee's teams came through in good style . . . Reports from Sewanee's graduates at Harvard showed good results. Fort, '33, was seventh in a class of four hundred.

Odds and Ends.

A faithful servant was lost to Sewanee when Henry Woods, colored bell-ringer, died on February 11. . . FERA aid has given some twenty-two students regular aid in working off part of their tuition . . . Much discussed activity fee is passed for next year, and Gownsmen have arranged its apportionment. The fee may not go into effect, however, as a question of administration has arisen that complicates matters . . . Another faithful negro, Willie Six, passes quarter century mark as trainer of Sewanee teams . . . 1934 annual will appear by Commencement Day, which is new idea, in past few years at least . . . Sewanee entertained high-school editors of Tennessee at newspaper conference. They formed permanent association, to meet at Sewanee as the University's guests each year . . . Prep schools of Mid-South Association also held declamation contest here . . . Pan-Hellenic rulings are changed in regard to rushing of freshmen, in attempt to secure better system . . . "Admirable Crichton" presented by Sewanee Players with great success . . . A loss to the

WOODROW CASTLEBERRY

A new Sewanee record in the 16-lb. shot-put of 45 ft. 2 1-2 in. was set this year by Woodrow Castleberry in the meet with Vanderbilt on May 5. The old record of 43 ft. 9 in. was set by F. L. Skidmore in 1921. Castleberry also bettered the old record with marks of 43 ft. 10 in. against Southwestern and of 44 ft. 10 in. in the State Track Meet.

NEW ORGANIZATION FORMED

The Tennessee Intercollegiate Athletic Association was formed this year among the four-year colleges of the State, the purpose being the promotion of track and minor sports. The association held its first track meet and tennis tournament in Knoxville on May 11 and 12, and both were very successful. The University of Tennessee won the track meet and Southwestern, the tennis tournament.

This organization is a permanent one and should help increase interest in track and the minor sports among the member colleges. It is the plan of the association to hold meets in all minor sports in the future in addition to the track meet.

campus is the old Swiss house back of the Library and Walsh. It was torn down because it was no longer any use . . . General attractiveness of campus improved by cooperation of Blue Key and Civic League in planting flowers . . . Fitz still attends Chapel, although his class attendance has dropped off, as it is hard for him to climb stairs. His age reputed at anywhere from fourteen to eighteen years at present.

Intercollegiate Track Resumed

After an absence of two years from intercollegiate competition, track was resumed this year. A great amount of interest was displayed and the season was fairly successful. Credit is due Coach Lincoln for his work with the team and to Prof. Willey who worked with the middle-distance men. Three dual meets were held with results as follows:

Sewanee—55	1-2	-----	Vanderbilt—61	1-2
Sewanee—55	-----		Vanderbilt—62
Sewanee—68	-----		Southwestern—49

In the Tennessee Intercollegiate Athletic Association Meet at Knoxville, twelve men were entered. They placed fourth in the meet with 15 points, placing in 8 events with one first place and two second places.

TENNIS

The tennis team this year made a very respectable showing, winning 4 meets, losing 4, and tying 1. Alex Wellford was one of the outstanding college players in the South, losing only one match in dual meets. The record for the season was as follows:

Sewanee	4	Mississippi State	-----	2
"	5	Chattanooga	-----	1
"	2	Vanderbilt	-----	7
"	3	T. P. I.	-----	3
"	4	Vanderbilt	-----	5
"	5	T. P. I.	-----	1
"	0	Alabama	-----	6
"	5	Tennessee	-----	2
"	1	Southwestern	-----	4

The tennis team entered the Southeastern Intercollegiate Tournament held in Atlanta on May 10-12. Alex Wellford was seeded number two in the tournament and was defeated in the semi-finals.

FRESHMEN DEFEAT VANDERBILT

The freshman track team defeated the Vanderbilt freshmen by the score of 60-57 in Nashville on May 12. Camors of Sewanee was high-point man with 13 points. Camors, W. Brown, Colmore, Bolling, Thornton, Ravenel, and Turner were the point winners for the freshmen and should furnish good material for next year's varsity track team.

What Class Will Lead in 1934?

The Class of 1923 led the classes last year both in number of members paying dues and in those contributing to the Alumni Fund for the year 1932-1933. Hughes Schoolfield, leader of '23, deserves the credit of bringing his class to the front and he is planning to keep the place for 1923. However, Colonel Bull, leader of the Class of 1901, vows that his class, which led in 1931-32, will again come out on top. How about it? Will some other class challenge the supremacy of these two?

TWENTY-FIFTH PROGRAM OF SEWANEE SUMMER TRAINING SCHOOL

The Province of Sewanee and the UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH, partners in the maintenance of the Sewanee Summer Training School, have completed the arrangements and program for the 1934 session, celebrating the twenty-fifth year of the school. The personnel of the faculty is exceptional, being drawn from the National Council, from the Province of Sewanee, and from the UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH. The Clergy School will be conducted from August 7 to 17, the Adult Division from August 7 to 21, and the Young People's Division from August 21 to September 1. Inquiries concerning programs, rates, and other details should be addressed to the Executive Secretary, Miss Helen M. Averett, 1910 Twelfth Avenue, South, Birmingham, Ala.

TUCKAWAY OPEN FOR SUMMER

The new Tuckaway Inn, operated by Miss Johnnie Tucker, will be open during the coming summer for its first summer season. Splendid accommodations will be available, and alumni are asked to take notice for themselves and to pass the word along to friends who wish a vacation in the mountains or who may be traveling through Sewanee en route elsewhere.

NOTICE OF ELECTIONS

At the regular meeting of the Associated Alumni, Monday, June 11, the following elections will be held:

Three Alumni Members of Board of Trustees, (one Clergyman and two Laymen), one Alumni Member of the Board of Regents, one Alumni Member of the Athletic Board of Control.

Message From General Smith of The Sewanee Military Academy

Out of the work of the year comes a spirit of optimism characteristic of our patrons, to our good friends the summer campaign for even a larger and better school in 1934-35.

Coming out of the depression of the last few years, reflected in our minimum enrollment of 1932-33, through the coordinated work of the Superintendent, the staff, and the cadets, the Academy has been placed so well before our prospective patrons that we have had an increased enrollment of more than fifty-five per cent. this year.

Throughout the year every activity of the Academy has reflected that same spirit of good fellowship, intelligent effort, and loyal support characteristic of Sewanee. The work of every department and of every phase of cadet activity is praiseworthy and promising so that we approach another year in confidence and most hopeful of a capacity school.

(Includes one year's subscription to the SEWANEE ALUMNI NEWS.)

SUBSCRIBE TO THE "NEWS"

In order to comply with the Post Office regulations in regard to second-class mail, the SEWANEE ALUMNI NEWS will be sent in the future only to active members of the Associated Alumni or in other words to those who have paid their alumni dues which will henceforth include a subscription to the ALUMNI NEWS. The Post Office Department requires that a publication, in order to be entitled to transmission in the mails as second-class matter, must be circulated, in the main, only to persons actually subscribing for it. Our application for admission of the SEWANEE ALUMNI NEWS is being held up until we comply with these regulations, which we are doing with this issue. Some sample copies are being sent out in order to give those who do not now subscribe an opportunity to do so. It is hoped that all members of the Association will pay their dues promptly so they will not miss any issues of the SEWANEE ALUMNI NEWS.

The President's Cup

Beginning with this fiscal year 1933-34, the fraternity having the largest percentage of its membership enrolled as active members of the Associated Alumni will be awarded the "President's Cup." It will be awarded annually and will become the permanent possession of the fraternity winning it three times. The "President's Cup" is a thirteen-inch sterling silver cup and was donated to the Associated Alumni by Col. H. T. Bull.

Alumni Personals

The back page of this issue is filled with information and news about individual alumni. We have endeavored to make it interesting and to include members of as many classes as possible. We plan to enlarge this department in the future and are counting on the Class Leaders to furnish us with information about the members of their respective classes. Whether or not we can make this feature of the NEWS interesting depends upon the Class Leaders and upon the cooperation of each alumnus with his Class Leader.

MORE ACTIVE MEMBERS

Since the last issue was printed the alumni listed below have paid their dues for the current year and most of them have added a gift to the Alumni Fund. This is the last summons for 1934 dues. The alumni year closes on August 31.

Football Prospects for 1934

Coach H. E. Clark faces a difficult task in building a team to play the above nine-game schedule. The following ten lettermen have been lost from last year's team:

Lawrence, A. Thompson—ends; Castleberry—tackle; L. Thompson, K. K. Clark—guards; Hanson—center; Wellford, Cravens, Underwood, and D. Clark—backs. The returning lettermen are Blair—center; Hall—guard; Hayes—tackle; Young, Heathman—ends; Ruch, Pearson, and Poage—backs. Reserves from last year's team who are counted on to fill positions are: N. Kirby-Smith—center; King—guard; Sparkman—tackle; and F. Clark—back. Coach Clark is depending a great deal upon the following men from last year's freshman team: Lumpkin—guard; Colmore—tackle; Bolling, Dedman, and Shelton—ends; W. Brown, Camors, H. Eustis, D. Harrison, and Sneed—backs.

One of the high spots of the coming football season is our game with the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y. A great many alumni have indicated that they would be on hand for the game and the New York alumni group is laying plans for a get-together before and after the game.

"S" CLUB TO HONOR WILLIE SIX

This year marks Willie Six's twenty-fifth year as trainer of the athletic teams at Sewanee and the "S" Club is planning to honor Willie at the T. P. I. game on Nov. 3. All former members of the athletic teams at Sewanee will be invited back to the Mountain for the occasion.

Willie has made a place for himself in the hearts of all the men who have been connected with the athletic teams at Sewanee and his twenty-five years have been spent in real service. Willie has made every trip with the football team during the quarter century and is well known by football fans all over the South.

The good motoring roads into Sewanee . . . The reasonable railroad fares . . . The fine accommodations available either at low cost or furnished by the University without cost, and good meals for University guests at the commons . . . The tour of the University campus, domain, farm, and dairy, and the visit to the Memorial Cross . . . The drives and walks to the old views we loved so well . . . The talks with old college companions on the good old times . . . The meetings of the Board of Trustees and Regents, and service on committees . . . Commencement Sunday in All Saints' Chapel and the fine sermon of the Commencement Preacher . . . The busy meeting of the Alumni Council . . . The fraternity reunions with the reports of the chapter officers on progress, accomplishments, and ambitions . . . The meeting of the Associated Alumni with the ideas of the old and young grads for the betterment of their Alma Mater . . . The special class reunions at various meeting places on the Mountain . . . The Alumni Banquet at Tuckaway, so delightfully prepared by Sewanee's Miss Johnnie, and presided over by our beloved elder statesman, Bishop Gailor, with his wonderful stories . . . The heart throb as we rise to salute our Vice-Chancellor, about to speak to us about our University . . . The dances at Commencement and the lovely, lovely girls, bringing back the memories of those girls of ours, equally lovely and with beauty undimmed by the years that have passed . . . Commencement and those fine and Sewanee-inspired young men receiving their degrees . . . The firm handclaps of farewell with the resolves to come again soon and often . . . The thoughts as we wend our way homeward that all is well with Sewanee and that she will go on and on to maintain always her lofty place in this great country of ours . . . Ave, Sewanee, 'til we meet again!

THE 1934 FOOTBALL SEASON

It is a rather difficult job to write of the football season just ended, because there are so many years that your memories cover. To those of you of "way back when" and the "good old days of Skinny Shipp" it perhaps seemed a very disastrous year, and even the generation of the past ten years might (and not without reason) think that things are not like they once were. True it is that Sewanee lost all of her Conference games; true also, that she lost to Army, Southwestern, and Cumberland, but in all of these games Sewanee continued to play the brand of football that has made her name synonymous with "fight". She had only too little to fight with; that is the story in a nut-shell. As a speaker at the football banquet expressed it, "This team never felt any sense of inferiority when battling with her peers."

In the Army game, the score was 20-0 at the half, and strange to say, the boys grew stronger as the game progressed. In the Alabama game the score was 14-6 at the half. In the Mississippi game it was 6-6 with eight minutes to play. In the Vanderbilt game it was 6-0 with ten minutes left, and so it went. The boys gave all they had, but unfortunately it was not enough. To those of us up here, this team was one of the most remarkable of many years, and before the season started we looked forward to seeing some very, very bad Saturdays. They were light, inexperienced, and not too heavily endowed with football ability, and yet they came through a very hard season without a really bad defeat,

ANOTHER SEWANEE BROADCAST

Every alumnus should tune in at 650 kilocycles on Friday, December 21, at eight o'clock for the Sewanee broadcast. This broadcast will be different from the previous one, in that it will not be historical but will aim to present in song and drama the claims of the University for consideration at the present time. It is sponsored by WSM for the purpose of interesting parents in choosing a proper college for their sons and at the same time providing for the financing of this college course through WSM's insurance plan.

Credit for the writing of the scenario of this broadcast, as well as for the one presented last January, goes to Major W. H. MacKellar.

FOOTBALL SCORES

Last year the Graduate Manager of Athletics prepared and had printed a complete record of Sewanee's football scores from 1891 through 1933. During that period the team played 344 games, 191 of which were won, 125 lost, and 28 tied. The record is arranged by conferences with totals for each group. Copies were given to all alumni present at the alumni banquet on Alumni Day in June. It was not possible, however, to print enough to mail to each alumnus. The Alumni Office will be glad to send a copy to any alumnus who requests it, as long as the supply lasts.

Athletic Pictures

The Athletic Office is making an endeavor to secure pictures of all Sewanee athletic teams and now has hanging on its walls a very good collection. A special effort is being made to complete the football series in which pictures for the following years are missing: 1890, 1894, 1902, 1903, 1904, 1906, 1907, 1911, 1912, 1913, 1917, and 1922. If any alumnus who possesses one of these pictures is willing to lend it for copying or to donate it to the Athletic Office, he will be doing the office a great service.

STUDENT STATISTICS

The University opened its seventy-eighth session with an encouraging increase in enrollment of fifteen men. The total enrollment of the college and theological departments is now 249 students.

A geographical survey of the student body shows that its members represent 27 states and one foreign country. The students are affiliated with eleven religious denominations.

The new men number 89, and it is interesting to note that 57 of them were influenced to enter Sewanee by alumni and students. Twenty-seven new students have alumni relatives. Twelve new men are the sons of Sewanee alumni, making the total number in the student body 35. These new students, with their fathers, are listed below:

The 1934 Football Squad

A survey of the football squad of this year brings to light some highly significant facts which should be of general interest to Sewanee men, because they afford convincing evidence that football at this University is not exotic in character, but on the contrary constitutes a part of the warp and woof of the University's body politic.

In the first place, it may be noted that, while the entire student body had a general scholastic average of 80.63, for last year, the football squad of thirty men had a general average of 82.01. It is also interesting that the fifteen sophomore members of the squad attained a rating of 84.17, and that no member of the entire squad had to take a reexamination to enter the college in September. It is to be noted, moreover, that five members of the squad belong to the Scholarship Society, and one is a member of Phi Beta Kappa. That this condition is not peculiar may be realized from the fact that in only three years of Phi Beta Kappa's existence at Sewanee has a member of the squad failed to make the Society. Of the B.A. and B.S. graduates of 1934 exactly one-half made their "S" in some inter-collegiate sport.

The above alone is sufficient to show that football men at Sewanee are not merely athletes, but this conclusion is substantiated by some further facts. For instance, thirty of the thirty-one men who compose the squad are members of chapters of the national college fraternities represented at Sewanee. And again eight football men are sons of Sewanee men, two others had older brothers here, and one more, an uncle. This is more than a third of the squad.

BRESLIN TOWER

It may be pointed out further that the campus organizations, such as the German Clubs, O. D. K., Blue Key Sopherim, and Neograph derive much of their strength from football men who are always a part of their membership. The Glee Club and the Choir draw from them—on one occasion Coach Clark went to call off Spring football practice because the Choir went to Chattanooga to sing The Crucifixion. And finally, the inter-collegiate debate team has not been without a football man for a number of years.

Additional Dues

Since the August issue of the NEWS came out, a few additional checks have been received for 1933-34 dues. They were sent in by the following alumni:

C. G. Bowden, '14, Boise, Idaho.
Rt. Rev. Harry R. Carson, D.D., '97, Port Au Prince, Haiti.
Wickes Wamboldt, '20, Asheville, N. C.
H. H. Adams, '03, Washington, D. C.
F. L. Connor, Jr., '02, Eutawville, S. C.
P. C. Dinkins, '15, Atlanta, Ga.
Elliott D. Evins, '26, Atlanta, Ga.
Rev. G. Taylor Griffith, '92, Portland, Oregon.
Geo. J. Gunther, '06, Memphis, Tenn.
Hanson W. Jones, '91, Atlanta, Ga.
Roland Jones, Jr., '25, Beaumont, Texas.
R. H. Matson, '20, New York, N. Y.
F. Harvey Miller, '88, Montgomery, Ala.
Clarence A. Short, '08, Dagsboro, Del.
Rev. Charles L. Steel, '87, Philadelphia, Pa.
Rev. Charles F. Wulf, '26, Hickman, Ky.
Rev. W. Tate Young, '26, Hammond, La.
Walter Barnwell, '91, Long Island, N. Y.
Rev. Wm. E. Cox, '02, Southern Pines, N. C.
Rev. Edwin J. Skinner, '09, Denver, Colo.
Rev. Wm. P. Williams, '04, San Pedro, Calif.
J. Cooper Litton, '23, Memphis, Tenn.
Rev. Alfred Loaring-Clark, '25, Memphis, Tenn.
Rev. W. J. Loaring-Clark, D.D., Hon., Jackson, Tenn.
Dr. Andrew B. Small, '27, Philadelphia, Pa.
Rev. Hedley J. Williams, '34, Riverhead, N. Y.
Thomas B. Henderson, '33, Indianapolis, Ind.
A. H. Jeffress, '33, Cambridge, Mass.

Three envelopes, marked Savannah, Ga., Greenville, Miss., and Nashville, Tenn., were returned with no checks enclosed, undoubtedly through oversight. For this reason, alumni in these cities have not received acknowledgments of checks they thought they had mailed.

On the Mountain

INTERESTING VISITORS:

Captain Edmund Armes, '13, of Birmingham, gave a most inspiring speech on Sewanee Night in September . . . Miss K. Noel Paterson, the Walter Hines Page Senior Scholar from England, visited Sewanee for a week during her tour of America . . . Bishop Roberts of South Dakota, well-known throughout the Church for his work among the Dakota Indians, spoke to a large mission gathering in All Saints' Chapel on November 18 . . . Commander Thomas Parker, U. S. A., Retired, came to Sewanee as a representative of the League of Nations Association and gave an interesting talk about the League . . . Charlie Thomas brought first-hand reports of the army game . . . Dr. Lyman Chalkley, whose father was dean of the law department of the University from 1907 to 1910, visited the Mountain in November. Dr. Chalkley is connected with an advertising firm in New York City.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS:

The social calendar has been unusually full. There've been numbers of fraternity dances, and the German Clubs have reorganized themselves for efficient action . . . Red Kibler played for the Thanksgiving set with a large number of students and their dates in attendance. . . . Kay Kyser will provide the rhythm for the Mid-Winters on the 4th and 5th of February. Wyatt Brown is in charge of decorations and has splendid plans . . . Yes, the German Club (it's one club now) has come out of the daze and accomplished a few things.

SCHOLASTIC EVENTS:

The football team has startled everyone by making an average above that of the University as a whole—and there have been six Phi Beta Kappa's on the squad in eight years . . . Forty Juniors and graduate students were invested as members of the Order of Gownsmen . . . The Scholarship Society recently elected twenty-one students to membership . . . Six Sewanee students have entered the Rhodes Scholarship competition for this year and will try out in the January state eliminations . . . The Tennessee Committee on Rhodes Scholarships will meet in Sewanee on January 2 and 3. Dr. B. F. Finney and Prof. H. M. Gass are on the Committee . . . Pi Gamma Mu recently held a discussion on "The Church vs. the Movies", using a new panel method for organizing the various phases of the question . . . Sopherim is exceptionally active and is writing a short mystery serial now appearing in the Sewanee Purple . . . Neograph has just elected eight new men to membership . . . Students seem to be unusually studious this year—maybe it shows a new trend!

Dr. B. F. Finney and Dean George M. Baker attended the meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in Atlanta during the first week in December.

RALPH RUCH
1934 Football Captain

ODDS AND ENDS:

In a letter to the Purple, the football players say that they want to stay right where they are—in the South-eastern Conference . . . At a recent football banquet, letters were awarded to twenty-two men for their outstanding service to football. Ralph Ruch was made permanent captain of the 1934 team . . . Sam King is the newly-elected chief of the volunteer fire department . . . The Sewanee Union is all dressed up with fresh paint and an enlarged Sandwich Shop . . . The Sewanee Review started a heated controversy all over the South with its article Why Go South? . . . The Music Department has been working hard this year, and plans to present the cantata From Olivet to Calvary just before Easter . . . The University Choir sponsored a Christmas carol service in All Saints' Chapel on December 9 . . . The Shakespeare Players, composed largely of theologists, give their productions with all the finesse of professionals. The Merchant of Venice was presented on December 10 . . . The Sigma Alpha Epsilons have made an attractive new addition to their house, cleverly planned and beautifully executed in colonial style. The official dedication was held on October 3 with interesting ceremonies . . . The Pi Kappa Phi's have moved into a new home, the house formerly occupied by General Jervey . . . The Bengal fraternity has disbanded. The three active members of the chapter, A. Donaldson Ellis, John A. Johnston, and Willis Rosenthal, have been pledged by the Pi Kappa Phi's . . . Twenty-seven students have been working on F. E. R. A. scholarships. Jobs have been provided in the library, laboratories, and offices . . . The labor of several generations of numeral painters came to an end recently when the water tower received a new coat of paint.

FACULTY NOTES

Dr. Arthur T. Prescott of Louisiana State University came to Sewanee in September to become head of the Department of Government and political Science. Dr. Prescott had been head of this department at L. S. U. since 1899.

Mr. David E. Frierson returned to Sewanee this year after a year's leave of absence which was spent in study for his doctor's degree.

Dr. William S. Knickerbocker, head of the English Department, has been appointed by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace to give a series of lectures at the University of Manchester and the University of Aberdeen. Dr. Knickerbocker will sail for Liverpool in January, and at the conclusion of the lectures will spend the summer on the Continent. He will return to Sewanee next September.

Mr. Maurice Moore, '23, has been secured to fill vacancies in the English Department created by the absence of Dr. Knickerbocker. Mr. Moore served as English instructor from 1929 to 1931. He has received his master's degree from the University of North Carolina and has been working on his doctorate.

REGENTS MEET

The Board of Regents' meeting on December 4 was marked by an unusually large attendance. Those present were: Bishop Gailor, Vice-Chancellor Finney, L. Kemper Williams, Dr. Warren Kearny, Bishop Juhan, Bishop Bratton, Bishop Mikell, Judge Arthur Crownover, Rev. R. Bland Mitchell, Charles Nelson, Fred Bunting, and Charles Edward Thomas.

Matters of routine filled a large part of the time but plans were discussed looking forward to a larger place for the University in the educational world. To this end a committee, to be known as the Planning Committee, was appointed consisting of Bishop Juhan, L. Kemper Williams, and Col. H. T. Bull.

Charles Edward Thomas was elected secretary of the Board.

Vice-Chancellor Secures Assistant

At the request of the Vice-Chancellor, the Board of Regents has authorized the appointment of Mr. Harrold R. Flintoff as an Assistant to the Vice-Chancellor. Mr. Flintoff's duties will be those of assisting the Vice-Chancellor in the enrollment of students, financial matters, and in matters relating to publicity and the general relations of the University with its friends and patrons. Mr. Flintoff has been at work since June 15, 1934, and already the results of his work have shown the need of just such an officer. Mr. Flintoff has had many years' experience in various colleges in somewhat similar positions. Many of our alumni and friends will recall Mr. Flintoff in his former association with us in connection with the Expansion Fund, 1928.

FRATERNITY PLEDGES

At the end of the rushing period the fraternities on the Mountain received a fine group of new men into their pledge ranks. The names of the pledges are listed below with their respective fraternities:

ALPHA TAU OMEGA—

David Bywaters, Dallas, Texas.
William Faidley, Signal Mountain, Tenn.

William Hazzard, Birmingham, Ala.
M. F. Jackson, Sewanee, Tenn.
Leonard Knox, Winchester, Tenn.
Morgan McDowell, Winchester, Tenn.
T. T. Phillips, Jacksonville, Fla.
Dewitt T. Sneed, Pulaski, Tenn.

PI KAPPA PHI—

Mabra Barnes, Sherwood, Tenn.
Reiner Denmark, Savannah, Ga.
Norwood Harrison, Spartanburg, S. C.
John Harton, Tullahoma, Tenn.
Sidney Smith, Cowan, Tenn.
William Tipps, Winchester, Tenn.
Fred Williams, Monroe, La.
Elmer Zschoerner, Saginaw, Mich.

S. M. A. Continues Increase In Enrollment

The sixty-eighth session of the Sewanee Military Academy was officially opened on September 14. Registration of students took place on the 14th and 15th. The enrollment at present shows one hundred and five boarding Cadets and twenty-three day Cadets. The registration on the same date last year was eighty-four boarding Cadets and ten day Cadets.

Major General Wm. R. Smith, U. S. A., Retired, formerly Superintendent of the United States Military Academy at West Point and now head of the Sewanee Military Academy, has expressed satisfaction with the continued increase in enrollment since taking over his duties here. Several new students are expected to register immediately after the Christmas holidays and at the beginning of the second term on January 27th.

All members of the 1933 faculty have returned and two new men have been added. Major E. H. Shumate, a graduate of Citadel, has taken over the duties of Commandant and is Instructor in Military Science and Tactics. Major G. L. Reynolds, for ten years Director of Athletics at Castle Heights Military Academy, is now assistant coach and an instructor in Mathematics. The Junior Department of the Academy has enrolled at present more students than in any year in the past and one new teacher has been added to its staff.

The Academy football team has just completed a very successful season with a smashing 13 to 0 victory over its old rival, the Wallace School, of Nashville.

INTRA-MURAL ATHLETICS

In connection with the article on page 2 on the football squad, it may be of interest to set forth some facts in regard to the general status of athletics at Sewanee. We have here one of the first, if not the first, systems of intra-mural athletics originating in the whole country. This system has been so developed as to include 86.3 per cent of the whole student body. The sports offered are: Baseball, Basketball, Tennis, Golf, Track, Cross Country Runs, Volley Ball, Handball, and Swimming Championships are awarded annually to the fraternities winning contests in each of these sports and a general championship to the fraternity earning the largest percentage in all of them. This system secures the interest in athletics of such a large proportion of the student body that the whole body has come to regard athletics as a matter of course, and this fact has enabled us to take intercollegiate athletics in

FLASH

As we go to press, two important news stories "break." The first is the announcement by the General Education Board of a gift to the University of $25,000 to be used for the Library. The money will be spent in renovating, fireproofing, and general improvements upon the Library.

The second important news item is the death of Fitz, the canine campus leader. Fitz has been in failing health for some time and his death was not unexpected. He was seventeen years old. He was buried on the campus near the sundial with appropriate ceremonies.

our stride, as it were. Athletics is as much a part of the day's work as scholarship, and even though it is of the intercollegiate variety it does not arouse either hysteria or financial cupidity. Many recruits for intercollegiate teams are obtained from intra-mural teams, the effect being that intercollegiate teams really reflect the spirit of the student body, with the above indicated wholesome attitude toward athletics as a result.

Freshman Football

This year's freshman football squad numbered around 26 and only 17 or 18 of these had had prep school experience in football. The squad was unusually light with the largest man weighing 180 lbs. The starting lineup, averaging 170, had a fairly good man at every position and real football players at several. The squad should supply 7 or 8 men to next year's varsity and probably has more promising varsity material than any freshman squad of the past 2 or 3 years.

The freshmen who earned their numbers were:

Whitley, end, weight 160, Dallas, Texas.
Smith, end, weight 155, Cowan, Tenn.
Major, end, weight 155, Birmingham, Ala.
Schuessler, end, weight 150, Columbus, Ga.
Willien, tackle, weight 175, Johnson City, Tenn.
Thornton, tackle, weight 180, Mobile, Ala.
Coleman, tackle, weight 170, Uniontown, Ala.
Faidley, guard, weight 180, Chattanooga, Tenn.
Griffin, guard, weight 165, Winterville, Miss.
Walton, guard, weight 155, Lexington, Ky.
Phillips, center, weight 160, Jacksonville, Fla.
Jackson, back, weight 165, Sewanee, Tenn.
Tipps, back, weight 165, Winchester, Tenn.
Sneed, back, 180, Pulaski, Tenn.
Montgomery, back, weight 160, Memphis, Tenn.
Suggs, back, weight 150, Winchester, Tenn.
Gillespie, back, weight 145, San Antonio, Texas.

Results of Freshman Games:

Sewanee ..... 45 T. P. I. Freshmen ..... 0
Sewanee ..... 6 Vanderbilt Frosh ..... 25

Due to a Conference ruling the freshmen were limited to two games. This made the development of a team nearly impossible and was a handicap in many respects. It is hoped that this rule will be changed by next year. In the T. P. I. game the freshmen worked their plays at will and displayed a real running attack. Montgomery's running was an outstanding feature along with the play of the entire team. Vanderbilt presented one of the largest and most powerful freshman teams in her history, averaging around 190 lbs. and defeated the Sewanee freshmen handily. Our light, fast backs could not get under way due to the superiority of the Vanderbilt line.

SEWANEE AT WEST POINT

BY CHARLES EDWARD THOMAS, '27

Lt. Col. Clayton E. Wheat, Sewanee, '04, former chaplain of West Point and now head of the English department, is the "Major Mac" of West Point. Speaking at a pep rally held by the cadets the night before the Sewanee game, Col. Wheat told the corps of Sewanee's colorful history and its close connection with West Point through a number of outstanding men who have been associated with both institutions.

The Colonel reminded the Corps that he had always sat on the Army side of the field but said that on Saturday he would be not only on the other side of the field but on the Sewanee bench, rooting for the Army's opponent and hoping that Sewanee would win.

After referring to Sewanee's unique athletic history, Colonel Wheat said that a great problem confronted men in the South before death—whether to go to Sewanee or Heaven at the appointed time.

The cadets had scarcely finished their rally when the Sewanee men reached the Point. They had come by bus from New York City, having been greeted by an enthusiastic group of alumni at the Pennsylvania Station, and after a workout at Baker Field were the guests of Columbia University for supper. Upon its arrival at West Point the team was cordially entertained in Washington Hall by the Academy.

Saturday morning was the real beginning of the Sewanee celebration. Alumni were arriving constantly and by noon there was the largest gathering of Sewanee alumni, wives, and friends that we have ever seen outside the South. Luncheon in the grille of the Thayer Hotel overlooking the Hudson brought more than one hundred alumni together for one of the finest, most enthusiastic, and representative gatherings that we can picture. Laymen and clergymen came from points as far south as New Orleans, as far west as Chicago, and from many places in the east. The New York Alumni Association deserves much credit for the success of the occasion. A reception for the team and alumni at the hotel after the game brought another spirited group together.

The game in Michie Stadium climaxed a great day. The light Sewanee team was a bit slow in acclimating itself to the New York setting, but when it got underway there was no more scoring. Apparently the Army coaches felt that the game would be another set-up for it opened with the Army's second string team. Before Sewanee got the feel of the field a touchdown was made, then another, and in the second quarter a third. The score was 20 to 0 and then the Sewanee Spirit came out. Before the half Coach Davidson saw that his second team was gradually being outplayed by the Sewanee fighters. We don't know what happened during the half—what "Hec" Clark said to his team—but the game was resumed with the Army's first string, save two men, playing against Sewanee's same team, and the Army never scored again. Sewanee's fighting spirit in the second half won the support of everyone of the ten thousand spectators. There was no man on the Sewanee team who did not play his hardest. It was a great game. As one New York paper said, "Harry Clark had taught a bunch of fellows how to play the game and they had learned their lesson."

It was interesting to note that the West Point tradition of playing taps for the defeated team at the close of game was not kept on this occasion. It seemed that after the way Sewanee played in the last half the bugler, at least, felt that taps would be out of order and they were not blown over the Sewanee team.

The demonstration in the dining hall Saturday evening is another illustration of the impression Sewanee made at West Point. The Sewanee team had dinner with the cadet corps and was escorted the length of the dining hall before the corps finished dinner. The cadets gave the Sewanee men the finest applause that we have ever heard and we were told by senior cadets that it was the greatest handclapping they had ever experienced in the mess hall.

At the formal corps dance that night the Sewanee team was the guest of the corps and the fact that the men were received by each class and introduced to the dates of first, second, and third classmen was another special courtesy not shown all visitors to the Point. And when the Sewanee men left the Academy Sunday morning for their return trip to the Mountain, Sewanee had scored more than touchdowns and had made an impression which will not soon be obliterated.

The following is an excerpt from a letter received by the athletic department from an official at West Point:

"Everyone here was much impressed with the wonderful fighting spirit of Sewanee and the well-coached team you have. Knowing Sewanee to be a small school in number of students, some people had expected that your team might be a little weak, but they all agreed that your fighting spirit overcame this disadvantage."

WILLIE SIX DAY

Students, faculty, alumni, and residents gathered on the football field, alumni sent contributions, and the Athletic Board of Control provided a silver loving-cup to make "Willie Six Day", November 16, one to be long remembered at Sewanee.

The celebration took place between the halves of the Cumberland game. At a given signal, and led by the S. M. A. band, the occupants of the bleachers paraded down the field to the spot where the presentation was to be held. As soon as Willie was called from the gymnasium, where he was working over an injured player, Mr. Ralph Ruch, the President of the "S" Club, made him an honorary member of that organization by the presentation of a certificate of membership and also gave him an "S" sweater.

Next, Mr. Ruch presented Willie with a silver loving-cup, the donation of the Athletic Board of Control, with the inscription, "Faithful Service, 1909-1934."

Finally, Willie was given a substantial purse, to which nearly a hundred alumni from twenty-five states, students, faculty, residents of the Mountain, and friends contributed.

The commemoration of the fidelity of a trainer by such a celebration as this one was is probably unique in American athletic history. Two thousand letters were mailed to alumni, urging them to the Mountain for the occasion and inviting their contributions. The athletic organizations vied with each other in their gifts, and the crowd on the gridiron showed their enthusiasm and warm approval by their cheers. Old graduates who returned especially for the day came from Texas to North Carolina.

No one will deny that the recipient of these gifts and honors richly deserves them. The words "Faithful Service" on the A. B. C. cup sum up the reason for the place he holds in the hearts of all those whom he has attended. For twenty-five years he has never missed a Sewanee football trip or game, and the letters from the alumni testify to their eagerness to show their appreciation for this faithfulness. Contributions of from one to twenty dollars came in from all over the country; to say nothing of two gallons of Louisiana molasses.

VOLLEY BALL

One of the most popular intra-mural sports is volley ball and the interest shown this fall in this sport has been greater than ever. No one who is on either of the football squads is eligible for this sport and therefore other men have a better opportunity to participate. The Sigma Nu team won first place in the league standing without the loss of a game, the Phi Delta Theta team finished second, and the Delta Tau Delta, Pi Kappa Phi, and Alpha Tau Omega teams tied for third place. After the regular season several games were played between the Sigma Nu team and a picked "All-Star" team. To climax the season teams from the Nashville Y. M. C. A. and the Chattanooga Y. M. C. A. came to Sewanee on December 8 and a series of games was played with a picked team.

About Sewanee Alumni

Only Living Member of First Graduating Class

We are indebted to H. O. (Pete) Weaver, '28, for an interesting account of an interview with the only living member of Sewanee's first graduating class, Mr. Thomas H. Bringhurst, of Houston, Texas, who received his Bachelor of Arts' degree with the Class of 1874. Due to lack of space the interview cannot be reported in full here but it was printed in the PURPLE in the issue of November 14.

Mr. Bringhurst was born in Houston and has spent most of his life there. He is now 81 years old and is still physically and mentally active. He reads widely and discusses affairs of national and international interest. He was engaged in the real estate business until about fifteen years ago when he retired.

Although Mr. Bringhurst has not returned to Sewanee since his graduation, he was greatly interested in the news of the Mountain and the pictures which Mr. Weaver took him. He talked at length about his days as a student at the University. We are glad to have this contact with one who has the distinction of being a member of Sewanee's first graduating class and hope that it will be possible for him to visit Sewanee next Commencement.

REV. ARMAND DER MEARES died in Baltimore, Md., on October 12.

'83

JUDGE EDWARD SWANN of New York City died in October.

'84

RICHARD DOZIER died in Houston, Texas, in October. He was born in South Carolina and had lived in Texas since 1914. He was first a broker and then a shipbuilder.

'87

RT. REV. T. D. BRATTON, D.D., came to Sewanee to deliver the DuBosc lectures at St. Luke's Chapel in October.

'90

LEWIS H. MATTAIR has moved from Jacksonville, Fla., to Santa Barbara, Calif.

'91

DR. B. F. FINNEY was again elected national president of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew at the convention held in Atlantic City in October. The convention of the young men's division of the organization will be held in Sewanee next year.

H. H. EDGERTON visited Sewanee in November for the first time since his student days, and was greatly interested in the changes that have taken place. Mr. Edgerton has spent most of his life as a civil and mining engineer in the British Northwest, Alaska, and Siberia. He is now retired and lives in St. Paul, Minn.

THOMAS J. JOHNSON, of Louisville, Ky., visited Sewanee in December. Mr. Johnson is in the insurance business.

'94

DR. LEGRAND GUERRY, Columbia, S. C., spent several days on the Mountain in October. Dr. Guerry makes a visit to Sewanee every year to see the first home football game.

WILBUR B. BROWN died at Johns Hopkins Hospital of heart trouble on July 14.

Mr. Brown lived in St. Augustine, Fla., and for the past ten years had been connected with the Florida East Coast Railroad Company.

'98

DR. C. H. MARTIN received an appointment as ship's surgeon on the North German Lloyd Line in November.

'99

DR. H. L. FANCHER died in Chattanooga on November 12 after an illness of pneumonia. Dr. Fancher was medical director of the Provident Life Insurance Company. He was a past president of the American College of Surgeons.

MR. AND MRS. HUELING DAVIS, of Tulsa, Okla., were in Sewanee early in December.

'00

BENJAMIN H. HOWARD, of Selma, Ala., died on September 6.

ROBERT M. GRAY, of Baltimore, Md., died recently.

'04

FREDERIC H. RAND, JR., was killed in a motor accident on July 9. Mr. Rand was a resident of Miami, Fla.

'05

'07

An interesting article in the Sunday Magazine section of the New York Times on November 18 was written by Charles McD. Puckette, under the title "New Horizons in the Tennessee Valley."

'10

FRANK S. SHUPP was found dead in Chattanooga on December 11. He was familiarly known as "Skinny", and was one of the outstanding halfbacks in Sewanee's football history.

'11

CHARLES B. BRAUN, former assistant director of the Texas Relief Commission, has resigned that position to become administrator of relief in the State of Mississippi.

MR. FRANK M. GILLESPIE of San Antonio, Texas, spent a week-end on the Mountain recently. His son, Frank, Jr., is a member of the freshman class.

Alumni in Young Men's "Who's Who"

A directory of outstanding young men has recently been published under the title of America's Young Men. About four thousand biographies are given in the volume and 95 per cent of the men listed attended a college or university, 91 per cent receiving their degrees. An incomplete survey of the book has disclosed the fact that twenty-four Sewanee alumni are listed in it. There are probably a number of others and we shall be glad to have our attention called to them. Since the men listed attended more than a thousand institutions, we feel that Sewanee has a right to be proud of the number of her young men whose work has been thus recognized. The names that we have found are as follows:

James S. Allen, '23, clergyman, Austin, Texas.

Ellis G. Arnall, '28, Attorney, Newnan, Ga.

John C. Bennett, '18, aviation executive, Louisville, Ky.

J. Newell Blair, '29, lawyer, Joplin, Mo.

Lewis C. Burwell, Jr., '28, insurance, Charlotte, N. C.

Walter W. Capers, '27, lawyer, Jackson, Miss.

Francis D. Daley, '28, clergyman, Loch Haven, Pa.

Egbert B. Freyer, '24, chemist, Houston, Texas.

H. A. Griswold, '28, educator, Sewanee, Tenn.

Moulttrie Guerry, '21, clergyman, Sewanee, Tenn.

C. Fredrick Hard, '22, educator, New Orleans, La.

Henry F. Johnstone, '23, educator, Urbana, Ill.

Charles L. Minor, 20, lawyer, New York, N. Y.

B. Allston Moore, '23, attorney, Charleston, S. C.

Robert Phillips, '22, sports editor, Birmingham, Ala.

Early W. Poindexter, Jr., '25, clergyman, St. Louis, Mo.

James E. Sanders, '25, engincer, Chattanooga, Tenn.

Daniel D. Schwartz, '26, investments, Cincinnati, Ohio.

John B. Snowden, II, '28, attorney, Memphis, Tenn.

Charles Edward Thomas, '27, editor, Indianapolis, Ind.

William S. Turner, '27, clergyman, Atlanta, Ga.

Thomas R. Waring, Jr., '25, educator, Otowi, New Mexico.

HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

Coach H. E. Clark, '18

Coach Clark has been the chief mentor of the Sewanee football team since 1931. At a recent meeting of the Athletic Board of Control he and his assistant, Coach Allen Lincoln, were reelected to their posts for a period of three years. Coach Lincoln was also reelected as head basketball coach and head track coach.

REV. W. S. STONEY has moved from Gainesville, Fla., to Morganton, N. C.

W. CABELL GREET, Ph.D., Columbia University professor, was the subject of a recent article in the educational department of Time. He was a pioneer in the use of the phonograph to preserve regional dialects in the United States and is this year supervising a full graduate course at Columbia on the subject.

'21

REV. THOMAS N. CARRUTHERS, rector of Trinity Church in Houston, Texas, passed through Sewanee on his way home from the meeting of the General Convention and preached in All Saints' Chapel on Sunday, October 28.

'23

H. F. JOHNSTONE, B.S., who received his Ph.D. degree from the University of Iowa in 1926, has an article entitled "The Solubility of Sulphur Dioxide at Low Partial Pressures" in the November number of the Journal of the American Chemical Society. He is now associate professor of Chemical Engineering in the University of Illinois.

REV. FRANCIS B. WAKEFIELD, Palatka, Fla., is moving on January 1 to Gainesville, Fla., to take the church vacated by Rev. W. S. Stoney.

Sewanee, Tennessee.

SEWANEE ALUMNI NEWS, issued quarterly by the Associated Alumni of the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn. Entered as second-class matter May 25, 1934, at the postoffice at Sewanee, Tenn., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

President Roosevelt Invited to Sewanee

A committee from the Board of Regents of the University called on President Franklin D. Roosevelt on February 15 to present to him an invitation to be the commencement speaker at the University in June. The committee was composed of Bishop Thomas F. Gailor, Chancellor of the University; Dr. B. F. Finney, Vice-Chancellor; and Charles Edward Thomas, Secretary of the Board of Regents. The members of the committee were accompanied to the President's office by Tennessee's Senators, Kenneth McKellar and Nathan L. Bachman.

In a letter to the Editor of The Sewanee Purple, Mr. Thomas writes as follows concerning the interview: "Soon we were received by President Roosevelt, who was cordial, genial, and charming. He immediately evidenced his knowledge of Sewanee by telling how sorry he was not to have been at Sewanee for Bishop Gailor's celebration in 1933. He further said that he had never been at Sewanee and it was one institution he wanted to visit.

"As spokesman for the Committee of the Board of Regents, Bishop Gailor invited the President to be our commencement speaker, but said that if he could not be there in June we would arrange a special convocation and assure him of a great attendance at some time that would be convenient to him.

"The President assured us of his interest and said that he felt it could be arranged at some future date. He was then told of Sewanee's position in the South, the student body of representative and outstanding young men, her illustrious alumni, and strategic position.

"Dr. Finney gave the President pictures of the F. D. Roosevelt addition to the Public School at Sewanee, which interested him.

"Senators McKellar and Bachman supported the Committee's invitation and urged the President's consideration. It was an interesting visit and I believe he will visit the Mountain by Thanksgiving."

Since the visit of the committee to the White House, Bishop Gailor has received a communication from the President saying that it will be impossible for him to come to Sewanee in June, but it is hoped that he will be able to visit the Mountain by next fall.

SIGMA NU'S WIN ALUMNI CUP

After considerable figuring the Alumni Office has announced that the Sigma Nu fraternity is the winner of the Alumni Cup for 1933-34. The award is based on the percentage of the alumni of the fraternity who were enrolled as active members of the Associated Alumni for 1933-34.

The cup is a thirteen-inch sterling silver cup and was donated to the Associated Alumni by Colonel H. T. Bull, '01, who is president of the Associated Alumni. The cup will be awarded annually and will become the permanent possession of the fraternity winning it five times.

The figures used to determine the winner of the cup are given below. Those in the first column indicate the number of living alumni of whom there is record in the alumni files. They do not include the men who have left school but whose classes have not yet graduated.

Admiral Grayson Now Chief of Red Cross

"Cary Travers Grayson—Doctor to the Nation." So reads a heading underneath a picture of admiral Cary T. Grayson, '03, which is printed with an article appearing in the New York Times Magazine of February 24. Admiral Grayson was appointed by President Roosevelt to serve as National Chairman of the American Red Cross to succeed John Barton Payne who died in January. Admiral Grayson took office on March 1.

Admiral Grayson's first presidential summons came from President Theodore Roosevelt and for thirteen years he watched the health of three Presidents: Roosevelt, Taft, and Wilson. Now, another President Roosevelt has called him to safeguard the health of the nation.

Admiral Grayson has had a very active career and has been engaged in service to many medical, philanthropic, and educational institutions. He became medical director of the Navy with the rank of Rear Admiral in 1916 and retired from the Navy in 1928. He was born in Culpeper County, Va., and was awarded two degrees, Ph.G. and M.D., by the University in 1903.

SEWANEE'S SONS

(Letter in Time on March 4, 1935)

SIRS:

Your account of Roosevelt, II, lunching with Admiral-Squire-Doctor-Socialite Cary Travers Grayson, U. S. N., retired, newly appointed head of the Red Cross (Time, Feb. 18), recalls a breakfast with President Roosevelt, I, in the White House years ago when Dr. Grayson and two other men were guests of President Theodore R.

The President asked Grayson what his college was. He said, "The University of the South at Sewanee, Tennessee." Turning to his aide, Archie Butt, the President said, "Why, that is your college, too," and Major Butt nodded assent. Then turning to his third guest, the Surgeon-General William C. Gorgas, without whom the Panama Canal could not have been built, "And where were you educated, Gorgas?" the President asked. "Sewanee, sir," came the General's answer.

Associated Alumni Annual Dues.....$3.00
(Includes one year's subscription to the SEWANEE ALUMNI NEWS.)

President's Message to Alumni

During the last year, with the initiation of the SEWANEE ALUMNI NEWS, your officers have given you a quarterly publication of interest to all Sewanee men. The NEWS has been sent to all members of the Associated Alumni as a part return for their annual dues. Up to this time it has also been sent as a courtesy to all other alumni eligible to membership. We believe that it is an important step in the progress of the association and of the University, and we intend to improve and enlarge it as time goes on.

However, despite its small size and its appearing but four times a year, it is a large item of expense in our already meager budget. We badly need a larger paid membership to support this publication and our other normal alumni activities. Our paid staff consists of our Alumni Secretary and his assistant. The alumni office materially aids the University with its files and address lists and in many other ways. We need a paid membership of six hundred to support our necessary activities and we urge each of you to fill in the accompanying blank and mail it with your check to our Secretary.

HARRY BULL, '01
President, Associated Alumni

ALUMNI AND STUDENTS

Influencing the right type of student to come to Sewanee is one of the best ways in which alumni can help to advance the interests of the University. The following statement has been issued by the Enrollment Office of the University concerning the prospects for next fall.

Showing what can be done by alumni in the procuring of students for the University, a rather remarkable attainment has been made by some of the Birmingham alumni working in conjunction with Birmingham boys now in the University in the procuring of names of potential students to the number of about thirty. In most instances these boys have already been contacted either by students or the alumni in Birmingham, and three of them have already been enrolled. It is this kind of work that is leading us to expect that with such cooperation in some of the other centers, we will have a capacity freshman class this year.

There are on record at the present time in the Enrollment Office some 416 inquiries, the writers of 275 of which are in correspondence with Mr. Flintoff. There are five cities from which there are at least ten inquiries and a great many from which there are three or more. In all, the inquiries come from thirty-six states. There has also been an unusual number of inquiries with relation to transfers. In all cases literature has been sent in response to inquiries, and a daily graph or map is being kept on locations. Recently an educational magazine entitled "Education in the Southeast" carried a page on the University, its courses, and attractions, and as a result ninety-nine inquiries were had from seven states.

The freshman class this year will not exceed 125 new men, the total boarding capacity of the University being 250. If there are names to which you want literature sent it would be advisable to send them at once to Mr. H. R. Flintoff, Assistant to the Vice-Chancellor, in order that as many enrollments as possible may be completed before summer.

DUES ARE DUE!

We recently heard of an enterprising alumni secretary who coined a new word: "Doozerdoo." We wish we had thought of it first, but anyway it is a good idea and one that is particularly applicable right now. We are taking this means of saying to every alumnus of Sewanee that it is again time for him to be glad he came to Sewanee and to prove it by sending in his check for dues and whatever amount he can add for the Alumni Fund. We may be incurably optimistic but somehow we have a feeling that we are going to get so many checks that we won't have to send out another reminder that "Doozerdoo."

UNIVERSITY RECEIVES GIFTS

At the recent meeting of the Board of Regents in Atlanta, Vice-Chancellor B. F. Finney reported that the University has received $99,000 since September 1st in the form of legacies, gifts, grants, and payments on pledges. Of this amount, approximately $5,000 can be used for current expenses and the remainder is to be used for plant construction, endowment funds, and scholarship endowment funds. Among the larger gifts are: The Agnes Z. Carpenter Memorial Scholarship Fund of $51,112.00, the income to be used for scholarships for theological students, a grant of $25,000 from the General Education Board for the remodeling of the Library, and a musical set from the Carnegie Corporation valued at $2,500. In addition to these, a number of miscellaneous gifts have been received from friends and alumni of the University.

New York Alumni Dinner

The annual dinner of the Sewanee Alumni Association in New York was held on January 16. Judge Arthur Crownover, '95, of Nashville, and Dr. William S. Knickerbocker, head of the English Department at Sewanee, were guests of honor. Dr. Knickerbocker was stopping in New York while on his way to England and Scotland to enter upon the semester's exchange professorship at the Universities of Manchester and Aberdeen. Speeches were made by Judge Crownover, Dr. Knickerbocker, Bishop W. H. Moreland, '81, and Mr. Phelar Beale, '02, newly-elected Trustee of the University.

The following officers were elected for 1935: Charles McD. Puckette, '07, president; Robert W. B. Elliott, '94, vice-president; Charles L. Minor, '20, secretary; and Harding C. Woodall, '17, treasurer.

Alumnus Defends Fraternities

The recent discussion in the New York Times regarding the college fraternity elicited a defense of that organization from a Sewanee alumnus, Mr. Robert Gibson, '87, of Tappan, New York, who is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. Mr. Gibson's letter was printed in the New York Times on Sunday, February 24, and is as follows:

"It seems to me that your Sunday articles on 'College Fraternities' are too broad and not sufficiently discriminating. None of the objections noted apply, for instance, to the fraternities at the UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH, where the fraternities are thoroughly 'integrated with the institution.' They are most valuable adjuncts to the intellectual life of the students who live in halls presided over by gentlewomen. The chapter houses are merely meeting places for intellectual and social cooperation. The small expense is easily borne."

On the Mountain

JOHNSON HALL

SCHOLASTIC EVENTS:

Sewanee was represented by an unusually large contingent in the 1935 Rhodes Scholarship competitions. Stiles Lines, competing in Tennessee, and Croom Beatty in Alabama survived the state eliminations and took part in the regional competition. In Tennessee, Stiles Lines, Frank Morton, Willis Rosenthal, and James Kranz (B.A. '34) competed; in Florida, Edward Harrison; in Mississippi, George Hall (B.A. '34); in Alabama, Croom Beatty.

The Scholarship Society is following its ancient custom of sponsoring a series of lectures each year. The first lecture for 1935 was given at the Sewanee Inn on the evening of March 4 by Mr. William Crandall of Nashville, who is associated with an architectural firm there. Mr. Crandall's subject was "An Approach to Art and Architecture."

SOCIAL AFFAIRS:

The biggest social event of the present school year was the Pre-Lenten set of dances on February 4 and 5 which were praised highly as perhaps the finest ever given at Sewanee. Kay Kyser and his orchestra provided the music. The dances included two tea dances and two night dances, the first tea dance being sponsored by Pan-Hellenic. The first night dance was featured by the Blue Key lead-out, and at the second night dance a splendid rendition of the "Alma Mater," which evoked much very favorable comment, was given by members of the orchestra acting as a glee club. The motif of the gym decorations was a scene of the far north, designed by Wyatt Brown and well executed.

During the past few months several fraternities have had individual dances. Delta Tau Delta has maintained its social reputation and Sigma Nu has had at least one party. Recently Phi Delta Theta had an outstanding week-end dance. A student orchestra played for this dance, and also for one which the Phi Gamma Delta chapter had.

Some forty men have recently been initiated by seven fraternities on the Mountain. At last report, only Phi Gamma Delta and Pi Kappa Phi had not held initiations. Phi Delta Theta initiated the largest number, fourteen.

ODDS AND ENDS:

Johnson won the annual inter-dormitory competition for contributing relatively most to the Community Chest . . . Purple Masque has not functioned this year, but an outstanding production of "The Merchant of Venice" was given by the Shakespeare Players at the Union and later at Clarksville, and the newly-formed "Sewanee Union Players" are rehearsing for a presentation of Sheridan's "The Rivals" . . . All Saints' is now without a choir. That organization has been disbanded . . . Blue Key plans a sub-freshman week in May during which prospective students will be entertained on the Mountain . . . A meeting here of high-school editors of Middle Tennessee is also planned . . . A recent distinguished visitor was Dr. Francis Wei, President of Central China College at Wuchang, and honorary Sewanee alumnus. Dr. Wei spoke in All Saints' and St. Luke's Chapels . . . The Purple was chosen the best college newspaper when a state college press association was formed at a meeting in Cookeville . . . An aftermath of the excellent work of Kay Kyser's organization is a student Glee Club which is now rehearsing. Also rehearsing is a special chorus under the direction of Mr. McConnell . . . Bishop Abbott of the Diocese of Lexington and Bishop Wise of Kansas are on the program of chapel Lenten services. . . . We nominate as the only one of its kind in captivity a current squawk on the Mountain: Sewanee is suffering from an overemphasis of intramural athletics.

LIBRARY IMPROVEMENTS

Work on the library is going on steadily with the funds recently granted by the General Education Board. At present the basement is being finished off to provide a stack room for 100,000 volumes. The whole library is to be renovated and brought thoroughly up-to-date as a college library. The plans are being drawn up by Mr. A. M. Githens of New York, who has a national reputation as a library architect.

SUMMER SCHOOL REINSTATED

After an interim of five years, the University will again have a summer session. A term of six weeks has been decided upon, from June 17th through July 27th. The curriculum has been made more elaborate than in former summers and will include courses in Education and Sociology, not taught in the regular session of the University. Other departments will be: English, History, Economics, Philosophy, Modern Languages, Classics, Physics, Chemistry, and Mathematics. Courses will be of the value of two or three semester hours. Prof. Henry M. Gass of the Department of Greek has been appointed as Dean of the Summer Term. Plans for publicity are being rapidly matured and many signs point to immediate success for this very vital activity of the University.

Fitz Gets Extensive Publicity

The death of Fitz, Sewanee's famous canine scholar, which was announced in the last issue as occurring just as the NEWS went to press, was accorded a great deal of space by the newspapers. The story of the dog with the charge account was sent out over the wires of the Associated Press and was copied by newspapers all over the country. It made the first page of the New York Herald-Tribune, the Sunday edition of the New York Times, and was broadcast over the NBC network.

Dr. George M. Baker, who was Fitz's especial patron, received a large number of letters and newspaper clippings from alumni and friends, who expressed sympathy and regret at the departure of one of Sewanee's most colorful campus figures.

GERMAN CLUB RESERVE FUND

At a recent meeting of the Sewanee German Club, it was voted to establish a Sewanee German Club Reserve Fund for the purpose of stabilizing the financial status of the club and of enabling the club to reduce, gradually, the price of tickets for all dances. The club was reorganized last fall on a permanent basis and has a membership of over 125 students. Members of the club are entitled to a general twenty-five per cent reduction on dance tickets. The club closed the first half of the school year with over $500.00 in the bank and voted to set aside $300.00 of this sum in the reserve fund. The money in this fund is to be used in cases of emergency only. The club hopes to increase the amount in the reserve fund to $500.00 within the next year. After this amount has been acquired each member of the club will benefit through a further reduction in the price of dance tickets.

DEBATE COUNCIL

Debates are being held this year with thirteen colleges with which seventeen debates are scheduled. Beginning on February 27, the season ends with Bucknell at Sewanee on April 18. Seventeen men are used for these contests, it being the aim of the Council to present a different team on each occasion.

Under the direction of the Professor of Public Speaking, intercollegiate debating is managed by a Debate Council, which is composed of men who took part in debates last year. The members this year are: Harrison, President; Sears, Secretary; McKenzie, Allgood, Powell, Johnston, Lumpkin, and Franklin. There are eleven freshman members of the squad.

CONFERENCE CONTROVERSY

There has been considerable discussion this year about the proposal that Sewanee withdraw from the South-eastern Conference. While the discussion is a healthy thing, it is hard to see how the proposition can be seriously considered. Objections to it from both the practical and ideal viewpoint are very strong.

On the practical side, there is the fact that the means of support of minor and intramural sports and the physical education department would be cut off, unless special endowment were set up for them. Much publicity, which participation in a smaller conference would not give, would be lost. Nor is the present system deplored by the team members themselves; in fact, they unanimously put in writing their opposition to withdrawal, and many definitely resented such a proposal.

Ideally speaking, it would hardly be showing the Sewanee spirit to abandon the field to unbridled commercialism in college athletics. The background of Sewanee's glorious part as one of the three or four original promoters of intercollegiate athletics in the south alone gives her a proud place among southern colleges and universities. Whether we like it or not, Sewanee in its present stage is a small liberal arts college. When she ceases to aim at the best and compete with the best, in athletics as in other fields, she will be just another college. To sever one of the connections which keeps Sewanee out of this class would be a step that, once taken, would probably be irreparable. Something priceless that is part of her heritage would be lost.

Varsity Basketball Season

The season just closed was too true to the form of Sewanee's last few years of basketball. A rather encouraging start was made, despite a one-sided defeat by the strong Clemson five. The second game saw the Tigers win their first Southeastern Conference major sport victory when Auburn was downed by one point in a thrilling game. The team showed plenty of fight and flashes of fair basketball, but was inconsistent during most of the season. Beckley College (W. Va.) was defeated immediately following the Auburn game, but thereafter came a string of defeats. Union, T. P. I., and Oglethorpe were engaged outside of the Conference, and Vanderbilt, Auburn, Mississippi, and Georgia Tech within it. Coach Lincoln was seriously ill during a considerable part of the season.

A hopeful fact is that of the regular first string not a single man will be lost by graduation. Pearson, Craighill, and Sparkman are juniors, and Colmore, Shelton, and Dedman sophomores. These boys have possibilities, and another year should show distinct improvement. Only Tate and Chitty of the squad were seniors.

COACH ALLEN LINCOLN

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

The 1935 intramural basketball season well upheld the high standard set during the past few seasons. Interest was high, all nine fraternities entering teams. Each team played the others once, and each team won at least one game. Pre-season dope made Sigma Nu a slight favorite, with the defending champion, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Pi Kappa Phi rated just below. The other teams were more evenly matched than ever before, Phi Gamma Delta particularly showing improvement. Competition was keen and there were some notable upsets, but Sigma Nu outclassed the field, winning all their games by decisive margins. Second place went to Pi Kappa Phi with two losses when Sigma Nu in the last game of the season defeated Sigma Alpha Epsilon, who was thereby put in a tie with Kappa Sigma for third place.

At the end of the season an all-star squad was chosen by vote of the members of all the teams. On the first team were Yancey (SN) and L. Thompson (PKP), forwards; Rosenthal (PKP), center; and J. Kellermann (KS) and Peckham (PGD), guards.

Freshman Basketball

By virtue of winning five out of eight games, the freshman basketball team had a successful season. No college opposition was met, only preparatory and high schools being scheduled. The boys started the season in great fashion and then slumped, but ended up in good form again. While no stars were uncovered, some good material came to light that should prove very useful to next year's varsity. Lawrie Thompson was coach and Hiram Chamberlain manager.

Beside Manager Chamberlain, ten men received numerals: Warren, Milward, Kostmayer, Burgess, Coleman, Johnston, Ragland, Montgomery, Schuessler, and Hetch. Coleman was high scorer of the squad.

SPRING FOOTBALL

The first call for spring football, February 25, brought out the good number of twenty-five candidates for the 1935 team. There was a falling off from this, but the number came back up with the close of the basketball season on March 2. Work is starting a little earlier than usual, for Coach Hek Clark is especially anxious to get in a good spring practice this year. The schedule next fall dispenses with the usual type of opening game and starts with a conference foe, Georgia Tech.

Prospects are brighter than a year ago, with at least two letter men back at each position and losses from graduation relatively light. There will not be many reserves from last year on hand, but a number of promising freshmen are coming up. The schedule these boys face is a hard one, as Sewanee's always is, but it is unusually well arranged.

Alumnus Makes Gift For Athletic Field

Through the generosity of Mr. L. Kemper Williams, '08, of New Orleans, much needed improvements to Sewanee's athletic field are to be made. The surface is to be reworked and a proper drainage and watering system installed. Dirt will be applied to a depth of eight to twelve inches in the center and two to three inches at the sides, and the ground fertilized and grass planted. Work is starting immediately.

TRACK

Sewanee faces the 1935 track season with bright prospects. Woodrow Castleberry, who set a new Sewanee record last year in the shot-put, will be especially missed, as will "Doc" Cravens in the dashes and low hurdles. Despite losses, however, the team shapes up as well balanced and potentially strong, with veterans back in most events and promising material coming up from the freshman squad.

Lettermen returning are Eby (880), Young (high jump), Blair (220 and 440), and Vaughan (pole vault). Other old men back will be Ned Kirby-Smith, Chitty, Heathman, and Fleet Clark. From the freshmen Wyatt Brown and Camors are being counted on especially, but others who should be valuable are Colmore, Bolling, Thornton, Ravenel, and Turner.

TRACK SCHEDULE

April 12-13—Intra-Mural Meet
April 20—Vanderbilt, Nashville
April 27—Open
May 4—Vanderbilt, Sewanee
May 11—State Meet, Cookeville
May 17-18—Southeastern Conference Meet, Birmingham

Annual Report

REPORT OF SECRETARY

CONTRIBUTIONS BY CLASSES, 1933-34

Membership:

Our records for 1933-34 show 314 active members which is an increase of seven per cent over the previous year. This number represents less than ten per cent of our total alumni.

Alumni Fund:

The sum of $682.00 was contributed by 179 members of the Associated Alumni to the Alumni Fund for 1933-1934. This is an increase over 1932-33 of seven contributors and $134.00 in amount contributed. This sum represents the interest on an endowment fund of $14,532.00, taking the average rate of interest earned by all University funds.

The Alumni Council disposed of this fund in the following manner: $500.00 was given to the University for current operating expenses and $182.00 was added to the Associated Alumni Endowment Fund, the interest on which goes to the University. The Associated Alumni Endowment Fund now amounts to $1,833.00.

Class Leaders:

During the past year over forty class leaders were active and some classes had both an active president and secretary.

Other Activities:

The alumni office distributed some 15,000 pieces of mail during the year.

The office began keeping correct mailing lists for all fraternities.

The President's Cup was established. This cup is given annually to the fraternity having the largest percentage of alumni enrolled as active members of the Associated Alumni.

Other activities were directing alumni affairs during commencement, conducting the election of alumni representatives on the Board of Trustees, Board of Regents, and the Athletic Board of Control, handling the Alumni Student Loan Fund, and other matters that are of value to the University and to the alumni.

Respectfully submitted,

GORDON M. CLARK, '27,

Organizing Secretary.
