

Clara's Nears Completion As Other Building Stops

The new Claramont neared completion this week while icy cold stopped all other construction on the Mountain. Brice Construction Company turned the restaurant building over to the University last Saturday. Mrs. Clara Shoemate, who will transfer her Claramont restaurant to Sewanee from Monteagle, hopes to be open for business during the first week of March. However, it will take about a week for the interior decoration, started yesterday, to be completed. In addition, the University must still pave the drives and entryways. The paving must wait until the weather clears, and the ground thaws.

The same freezing weather has halted construction on the Chapel and also at Emerald-Hodgson Hospital.

Mr. G. M. Roberts, who is supervising the building program. Members of the board include the Rt. Rev. Theodore N. Barth, D.D., the Rt. Rev. Girault M. Jones, D.D., the Rt. Rev. Henry I. Leuttig, D.D., the Rev. C. Capers Satterlee, D.D., the Rev. Mortimer W. Glover, W. Dudley Gale, R. Merley Hart, William A. Kirkland, D.C.L., Albert Roberts, Jr., and Harding C. Woodall. J. Albert Woods is Chairman of the Board of Regents, with the Rev.

He still believes that the Chapel will be done by May or June of 1958.

Roberts estimated that about two weeks would be needed to complete the outside of the North Wing and Ambulatory to the height of the present Chapel walls. When that is accomplished, he plans to concentrate his forces on the north and bell tower. He hopes to have the tower completed by Founder's Day of this year.

The Rt. Rev. Frank Jehan, director of development, announced that the first spring events of the restaurant will be the following parties: a reception for the Board of Regents, a party in honor of the Vice-Chancellor, an open house for students and residents of the Mountain, and a supper for the football team.

Bishop Jehan said that "this fine facility is due to gifts of a few—a very few interested alumni," who wished to see a fine facility such as the new restaurant at Sewanee.

Board of Regents to Meet February 26-27 at Sewanee

Sewanee's Board of Regents will meet here on February 26 and 27. The agenda has not yet been drawn up but will certainly include further discussion of the building program. Members of the board include the Rt. Rev. Theodore N. Barth, D.D., the Rt. Rev. Girault M. Jones, D.D., the Rt. Rev. Henry I. Leuttig, D.D., the Rev. C. Capers Satterlee, D.D., the Rev. Mortimer W. Glover, W. Dudley Gale, R. Merley Hart, William A. Kirkland, D.C.L., Albert Roberts, Jr., and Harding C. Woodall. J. Albert Woods is Chairman of the Board of Regents, with the Rev.

Alfred Hardman serving as secretary. Both the Chancellor of the University, the Rt. Rev. Thomas N. Caruthers, D.D., and the Vice-Chancellor, Dr. Edward McCrady, will attend the conferences.

On Thursday, the group will travel to Chattanooga to an organizational meeting of the Chattanooga Newcomer Society where the University of the South and Dr. McCrady will be honored. The Vice-Chancellor will deliver the featured address and his topic will be "Domain of the University of the South."

WHAT SNOW! Midwinter weekend saw the most prodigious snow seen on the Mountain ever by four-year men. Many dates were kept away by the eight inches of snow and many others who did get here were temporarily snowbound. Accompanied the snow were below zero temperatures, which kept most people from enjoying the beautiful scenes, like that of blanketed Breslin tower.

Snowed Press Is a Day Late

Snow is the big word in Sewanee this week. Generally everybody agrees that this is a Good Thing, but it did create a few problems too. Such as putting out the PURSE. You will notice, if you are observant, that today is Thursday and that the PURSE usually comes out on Wednesday. We are a day late, and the excuse we plead is snow.

In the first place the snow kept us from getting our cuts from Nashville in time. In the second place the editor's date got snow bound, the editor got snowed, and the PURSE missed out again. Next victims of the inclement weather were several members of the University Press staff who came down with flu and assorted maladies. . . .

Anyway, putting all these factors together, we figure we have more or less enough of an excuse to augment that of our downright inefficiency, and we'll try not to do it again.

This Midwinters is bound to live forever in Sewanee annals whether we are here to record it or not anyway. JVF

Our recent stint in the hospital proved to be more embarrassing than anything else. We found out that we weren't quite so indispensable to the publication of the PURSE as we had at first imagined.

We want to give a word of thanks to all of our able assistants who got the editorials PURSE out on time, especially Battle Searcy, who took over at the helm, and Bob Greene, our news editor, who managed to cke out enough news to put a paper together. JVF

DEAR EDITOR,

I was delighted to learn from your note in last week's PURSE that you are concerned about electric organs, though you didn't mention what kind you had in mind. If you mean the electric organs of certain teleostomous fishes of the genera Malespiteria and Gymnotus, I'll be delighted to discuss them at length with you any time you want to come to see me. These are the only electric organs in which I have ever had any interest.

Cordially yours,

Freshmen Are Very Bad

DEAR SIR:

Freshmen and Gallor food have long been a topic of conversation and source of PURSE articles. Freshmen are not what they used to be. This year's group is really bad. They do not put up laundry nor answer the phone. They walk on the grass and use the front door of Gallor. What is more, they are the noisiest and roughest bunch in years. Something should be done. They cannot expect future freshmen to perform these duties unless they do. Is freshman fiber decaying, or are upperclassmen getting weaker?

It is no wonder that there are so few spectators at sports events. The freshmen do not have to go. If they did have to go they would get their fraternity brothers to go with them and get more upperclassmen there. It is obvious that the upperclassmen have not set any example for the freshmen. Compulsory attendance rules should be re-instituted!

This year's group would be probably no worse than others if they were made to observe the rules. This must be done. It is hoped that this will create some thoughts in the minds (?) of students.

BILL TURNER

It seems that this is a generally fair statement, except that we must remember that all of the things Mr. Turner objects to are really not in the hands of the freshmen at all. Such chores as laundry duty and phone-answering are determined by the individual proctors in the dormitories. Noisiness and roughness are matters left up to the action of the Discipline Committee of the OG, another upperclassmen's group. The matter of compulsory game attendance, even, is in the uncertain grip of our august governing body—ZD.

More on Otey

Sir:

Please accept my thanks for the PURSE's publication in its issue of 13 November of my letter refuting the unconditional statement in an earlier issue that the Right Reverend the first Chancellor ex officio of the University of the South was "a nationalist and an ardent foe of secession". The refutation consisted of excerpts from Bishop Otey's letters to a friend. In closing I cited the approximate date when he became "a champion of the Confederacy and an ardent secessionist" and I gave the reasons he offered for his change of mind.

By way of giving the benefit of the doubt to your correspondent who commented in your issue of 20 November last on my letter in the previous issue, I must assume that he did not read the last paragraph of my letter. I am unwilling to think that so conscientious a student and writer of history was trying to conceal the issue by leading his readers to the entirely erroneous conclusion that I was ignorant of the fact that when Bishop Otey entered the cause of secession he was changing his mind.

I must, however, record my profound regret that his motives were either judged or misjudged, and above all places on Sewanee Mountain. Certainly the insinuation that the Bishop may have changed his mind because "It became very non-U" (and a little risky) to oppose secession or even to think about it after it was fait accompli is as unfounded as it is undignified. No critic of James Harvey Otey, North or South, either before or during the conflict of the sixties, ever accused him, that I can recall, of a lack of courage either moral or physical. More valiant soldiers of the Cross, I am convinced, than were the first three Chancellors ex officio of the University of the South—Otey, Polk and Elliot—never walked this earth, much less climbed Sewanee Mountain. They abdicated, thank Heaven, by more than a century, the present era of "The Organization Man" nor can I believe that they would have been victims of it had that affliction occurred in their day and generation.

Your correspondent's "hope" that I would "seize" the originals of Bishop Otey's letters, from which I gave excerpts, and add them to Alma Mater's Archives, is a vain one for the following reasons:

- (1) The originals of those letters are not my property and, even if I could, I would not be willing to confiscate them.
- (2) Those letters first saw the light of print more than a quarter of a century ago. They are available today on the book shelves of public libraries from coast to coast, though not, perhaps in the Colleges and Universities, handicapped by inadequate Libraries.
- (3) The facts concerning Bishop Otey's change of mind regarding secession are clearly set forth in at least one book in Alma Mater's Library, inadequate as it is.

In conclusion let me associate myself with your correspondent in emphasizing the importance of dates, whether they involve the fair sex or the facts of history. John Ruskin gave us a compelling reason for the importance of historical dates when he admonished us:

"The only history worth reading is that written at the time of which it treats—the history of what was done and seen out of the mouths of the men who did and saw."

To give a local illustration of what Ruskin meant:

What is the date on which the Board of Trustees of Alma Mater unanimously adopted the following Resolution?

"Resolved, that if the great and beneficial results which our University was founded to secure, shall ever be accomplished in name only—And that God will be mainly due to the wisdom and foresight, the hopeful confidence and indefatigable labors of its Founder, the magnanimous and self-sacrificing Bishop Polk."

And what is the date on which the following declaration in the first official Calendar of Alma Mater was eliminated from subsequent Calendars?

"The University of the South owes its origin to the clear and comprehensive mind of Leonardo Polk."

Publication of the above dates by the PURSE might encourage the study of History so highly rated by those institutions of higher learning which have refused to become Liberal Arts Colleges in name only—And that God will be mainly due to the wisdom and foresight, the hopeful confidence and indefatigable labors of its Founder, the magnanimous and self-sacrificing Bishop Polk. Furthermore, the publication of the above and several other significant historical dates by the PURSE would at least expose more than one age-mate to the enlightening light of Truth and discourage the suppression of "the history written at the time of which it treats—the history of what was done and seen out of the mouths of men who did and saw."

Respectfully,
JOHN H. DENCAN, '41

- MORAL EXHORTATION
- FUN IN THE SNOW

By MIKE WOODS
Purple Sports Editor

We exhort all students, teachers, staff members, and mountain residents to make resolute and repeated attempts to see the tournament basketball games being played the next three nights. Basketball tournaments can be wonderfully exciting things to watch, especially if the field is well-matched, as this one appears to be. The local cagers have performed valiantly all seasons, and despite two losses last week, are seeded second to high-scoring Lambuth College. Tip from the Top (where ever that is: keep your collective eye on Southwestern. They defeated the Tigers earlier in the year and may just be the team to cop the championship.

I think the glaciers must be moving back down from the Arctic again. I spent the whole week-end, it seems, nursing either frostbite or bruises received during wee-small-hour house-hogging. Anyway, the snow certainly increased the variety of athletic possibilities. Some people invented novel ways of having good times in the snow, things like sliding automobiles into ditches or against brick walls. Others stuck to the more conventional sports. While picking up my date one afternoon I saw Dr. Bryant sliding down a long white hill with amazing speed. Mrs. Baird, my date's hot, went leotarding on the pond that same day, although she wasn't quite sure whether or not the ice was thick enough. I contended myself with falling down very frequently and very hard.

Sewanee Hosts Cage Tournament

Sewanee plays host to their first basketball tournament this week starting tonight in Juhon Gymnasium.

Lambuth College, with a 14-5 season record, is the tournament favorite, and Sewanee, with a 7-8 mark, is second-seeded. The other participating teams are Southwestern (7-10), Mississippi College (6-11), Howard (7-16), and Millsaps (3-15). In future years each school will alternate as tournament host. Coach Lou Varnell says that the tourney is primarily designed to permit teams to compete that ordinarily are unable to see action of this sort. Sewanee Director of Athletics Walter Bryant is Tournament Director.

In the upper bracket Millsaps will play Southwestern at 7:30 tonight, and the winner will meet Lambuth at the same time Friday night. Howard meets Mississippi in the second game tonight at 9, and the victor vies with Sewanee in Friday night's second contest. The Consolation Finals will be played Saturday night at 7:30 with the Championship Finals to follow.

Sewanee Loses To Two Teams On Road Trip

The Tiger cagers suffered a disastrous road trip last week, losing to Florence State, 72-62, and to Birmingham-Southern, 93-68. Sewanee had defeated both of these teams in home games earlier in the season.

In the Florence game, Tiger Captain Jack Moore scored 22 points, but this was not enough as the Lions jumped to a 14-2 lead after 11 minutes and were never headed. They led at halftime, 38-22. In the first game between these two teams, Sewanee won, 86-63.

Against Birmingham-Southern Jim Foster tallied 21, but both Glen Clem and Jim Ennor of the Panthers matched this, and all five home team starters hit the double figures. The Panthers led 27-12 after 12 minutes and 50-38 at halftime. Sewanee won the first game 72-66.

Florence game: Gestlon 11, Cummings 13, Roberts 4, Foster 9, Moore 22, Tomlin 3.

Birmingham-Southern game: Moore 15, Foster 21, Cummings 6, Gestlon 12, Roberts 0, Varnell 1, Burton 6, Joseph 4, Herschel 2, Tomlin 1.

Wrestlers Win In Birmingham

The Tiger wrestling team won their third meet of the season and their second over Birmingham-Southern last Tuesday night a week ago in Birmingham, 26-8.

In the 123-pound class Harries pinned his opponent to get Sewanee off to a flying start. Stoney followed with an 11-2 decision in the 130-pound division, and Connor proved the best of the 137-pounders with another pin. La-well was the first Tiger to lose when he was defeated 4-0 in the 147-pound class. Birmingham-Southern's 157-pound representative then pinned Taylor, but newcomer John Gibbs put Sewanee back on the winning trail with a decisive 7-2 victory. Gee and Scarrit both making their initial starts of the season at the 177-pound and heavyweight levels respectively, pinned their opponents to finish the meet.

The grapplers had their meet with Emory, scheduled for last Saturday night, cancelled, and their Chattanooga match, scheduled for Monday, postponed. They will face Auburn there tonight and Chattanooga in Sewanee on Monday. Pete Thomas, who has been injured for most of the season, will return to action in the heavyweight class, and Gee and Scarrit will return to their accustomed weight levels.

Intramural Basketball Passes Mid-Season

The intramural basketball season got off to a start with SN beating the Deltas 38-38. Daniels was high scorer with 36 points. The next game saw Bell and Nichols lead the Phi Gams to a 46-29 victory over SAE.

The next day, Haden, scoring 19 points, paced Alpha Tau past Kappa 46-21. This game was followed by a 45-33 victory of KA over Beta sparked by Finlay and Cox who both scored 32 points.

Phi Beat Delt

This Phi found the Deltas a tough match but managed to salvage a 32-29 win while Croce of the Deltas grabbed scoring honors with 15 points. The Independents received little competition from the Theologs as they surpassed them 57-29. Brown with 19 and Doughty with 19 led the scoring. With 15 points Pinsinger guided SAE to a 32-17 win over KS. The Faculty were soundly trounced by KA who were in turn defeated by the Phi Gams 44-22. High scorer was Nichols of Phi Gams with 18.

ATO barely survived the onslaught of the Deltas as Mayson scored 21 points for the losers. The final score read 52-48 with Devall leading the victors with 17. In overtime the Theologs edged out Beta 44-43 with Heers sinking 22 points for the Theologs.

Kappa Sigs Win

KS arose victorious from their contest with the Faculty by the score of 44-38. Daniels' 23 points proved the difference in SN's 44-41 victory over

PDT. PGD dribbled easily around the Theologs, 59-28. KA found KS a similarly easy foe, 50-30. Pearce of KA and Wood of KS shared the scoring honors with 14 points apiece.

Bronford dropped in 19 points in brooding SAE for their 41-22 conquest of the Deltas. The Faculty received their third defeat at the hands of the Phi. The Theologs racked up 51 points which was more than enough to compete with the 39 points of KS. Daniels continued his scoring wizardry with 20 points as SN slipped by SAE 34-27.

Tiger Swimmers Beat Emory Team In Juhon Gym Pool

Sewanee's swimmers ran their season mark to 7-0 last Friday night when they defeated Emory, 53-33, in the Juhon Gymnasium pool.

Coach Hugh Caldwell moved many of his swimmers from their specialties to other races and substituted throughout the meet, but the undefeated Tigers had little trouble in trouncing the visitors soundly.

Summary:

400-yard medley relay—Sewanee (Helen Bents, Peck, Bailey). Time—4:25.1.

220-yard freestyle—Veal, S. Rast, S. Pate, E. Time—2:26.7.

400-yard freestyle relay—Emory (Ellington, Skolnick, Davis, Pate). Time—4:12.5.

Although Brown scored 17 points it was not enough as PGD beat the Independents 34-28. PDT discovered that they needed more than 36 as Haden scored 13 of ATO's 42 points.

Paced by Wood with 15, KS defeated the Independents 29-26. The Theologs conquered EDT 27-20 as Breyfogle pulled down 10 points for the victors. The Faculty continued their losing ways as they dropped a 54-23 game to PGD. As SN beat KA, Daniels remained as hot as ever scoring 22 points. The Phi eased by SAE 30-27 while PGD remained undefeated by beating Beta 28-24. Unstoppable Daniels stuffed in 27 points as SN ran over with Theologs 51-28. PDT, sparked by Thompson with 17, overcame a stubborn KA team by a score of 33-28. KS suffered defeat 33-24 by the Beta.

ATO routed SAE 42-26 as Haden dropped in 20 points. With Daniels cooled down to a moderate 18, SN seemed unable to cope with the Independents losing 24-23. The Phi shaded the Theologs 37-21.

As the season passes the half way mark and heads for the finish, it shapes up as a battle between PGD and ATO which will be decided in their upcoming game.

Shoemaker Addresses PGM on Segregation

Monday night, Feb. 10, Pi Gamma Mu presented as a speaker Mr. Don Shoemaker, Executive Director of the Southern Education Reporting Service, an organization which studies the facts of the present segregation situation and publishes a magazine, The Southern School News, which makes public these findings. Mr. Shoemaker was formerly editor of the Asheville (North Carolina) Citizen. He is the author of With All Deliberate Speed, a book published by Harper's in November.

Alabama Builds New Cottages For Theologs

The diocese of Alabama is building near Woodland two houses for married theological students at a total cost of approximately $25,000, with another two for kitchenettes, heating arrangements, and simple furniture. One house has been designated the "Caroline Acree Johnson Cottage" and the other is the "Henry Jones Whitfield Cottage." Each is fittingly named for a person prominent in the diocese and closely associated with the University.

Mrs. Crawford Johnson of Birmingham, the former Caroline Acree, was with her husband, the donor of Johnson Hall, college dormitory. Both she and Mr. Johnson, founder of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company in Birmingham, left bequests to the University. Mrs. Johnson died in June, 1937. Mr. Johnson died in December, 1941. Their son, Crawford Johnson, Jr., served for a time on the board of regents.

Henry Jones Whitfield, who died October 4, 1937, received the B.A. degree from Sewanee in 1910. He was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. He then studied law at the University of Alabama, but spent most of his life as a banker in Demopolis, Alabama. In 1926 and 1937 he was a trustee of the University. In the diocese he held Lay Readers' License No. 1. He visited Sewanee frequently in recent years and was, in the words of Bishop Carpenter, a frequent and valuable leader.

Vestry Sponsors Movie Discussion

The first of the three scheduled Vestry-sponsored Lenten movie discussions was held Tuesday night in St. Luke's auditorium. A panel consisting of Dr. Bryant, Dr. Allison, Whitey Haugan, Kirk Finlay, DuPre Jones, and Bernie Dunlap discussed East of Eden, which was given in a public showing on Monday night for all those interested in the Lenten program.

The other two movie discussions on the agenda for this Lent are those of The Rock, which will be held March 4, and Tes and Sympathy, to be discussed March 18.

Students Visit Emory for Talks On Philosophy

The conference will be a joint meeting of students from Sewanee, Emory, Davidson, Agnes Scott, and the Univ. of Chattanooga. Meetings will be held on Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning.

The theme of the conference will be The Nature of Man, which will be worked into the conference in the following manner; papers will be read on the Nature of Man, on Sat. afternoon, by delegates from Emory, Davidson, and Sewanee, which will then be discussed by all members of the conference. Saturday night members from Agnes Scott and the Univ. of Chattanooga will read critiques, after which there will be a panel discussion. Colton Smith will represent Sewanee, with his paper, at the afternoon meeting.

Sunday morning will be devoted to a business meeting, and further discussion. The meetings, which are open to the public, are entirely run by the students. The object of the conference is not to debate, but merely exchange ideas.

Pic of Flicks

Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, February 19, 20, 21: Jeanne Eagels is the latest of the rags to riches and back to rags movies. The actress of the title was eminent in the early sound pictures until she met an untimely demise through an immoderate penchant for narcotics, alcohol, and other manifestations of riotous living. Kim Novak brings to the title role not much talent but a maximum of huge brown eyes. Jeff Chandler and Agnes Moorehead are others roaming through the general equator.

Friday night, February 21: High Society, one of the most popular of recent musicals, should prove a great favorite with the owflink lovers. Among the enormously talented people responsible for it are Bing Crosby, Grace Kelly, Frank Sinatra, Louis Armstrong. Perhaps the best scene, though, is one in which the late Louis Calhern, as an aging lecher on a hangover, addresses a cheerily chirping bird one morning with, "Shut up, you fool."

Saturday, Monday, February 22, 24: No Deans Payment explores, with some exaggeration but frequent high melodrama, the inherent dangers in the modern suburban housing development. The good cast includes Jeanne Woodward, Jeffrey Hunter, Pat Hingle, Barbara Rush and quite a few more. Recommended.

Sunday, Tuesday, February 23, 25: The Devil's Hairpin offers Cornell Wilde as an intrepid racing driver who puts out his engine and his girl friend (Jean Wallace) for an hour or so, then spends the rest of the movie in a climactic race sequence designed to leave you breathless. Try Smirnoff's.

Monday night, Cinema Guild: This week's really meritorious selection is Day of Wrath, directed by Carl Dreyer and concerning witch trials. One of the greatest films you will ever have a chance to see.
