Bishop Bratton Is Elected Chancellor of University

First Alumnus to Occupy Position

Of especial interest to Sewanee's alumni and friends who are scattered throughout the world will be the news that, at its recent meeting in June, the Board of Trustees elected as Chancellor to succeed Bishop Gailor the Right Reverend Theodore DuBose Bratton, D.D., Bishop of Mississippi.

Bishop Bratton is the first of Sewanee's sons to be her Chancellor. He comes to this high office after sixty years of intimate relationship with Sewanee in which he has known and served the University in many capacities. A student of the Grammar School, of the College, of the Theological School, Trustee and Regent over a period of forty-five years, a patron who has sent many boys to Sewanee including his own son and grandson, he brings to his task a wealth of knowledge of the institution and experience with it. He also brings a profound love and understanding of Sewanee. Throughout his life he has with whole heart and soul answered every call of Sewanee; in the same spirit of complete devotion, he has answered this last and highest call of his Alma Mater, to be her Chancellor and her representative and interpreter to the outside world.

Bishop Bratton was born at Winnsboro, South Carolina, on November 11, 1862. He entered the Grammar School in 1874, the University in 1879, and the Theological School in 1884. He received the degree of Graduate of Divinity in 1887 and of Bachelor of Divinity in 1890. The first eleven years of his ministry were spent at the Church of the Advent in Spartanburg, South Carolina. From 1899 to 1903 he was rector of St. Mary's School in Raleigh, North Carolina. In 1903 he was elected Bishop of Mississippi. The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him by the University in 1902 and in 1911 he received the degree of Doctor of Laws from the University of Mississippi. He is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and of Phi Beta Kappa.

Since the death of Bishop Gailor, Bishop Bratton is the oldest bishop in the Province of Sewanee. In the matter of seniority in the House of Bishops his rank is eleventh. He is universally regarded as one of the foremost leaders of the Episcopal Church in this country, a man of high spirituality and consecration as well as of wide experience and great wisdom, and in his long and active episcopacy he has endeared himself not only to the people of Mississippi but to those of the Church at large. On May 23 Dr. B. F. Finney, Vice-Chancellor of the University, announced at a Chapel service that he would in his report to the Board of Trustees in June state that upon the final adoption in June, 1937, of the proposed changes in the Constitution of the University regarding the reorganization of the Board of Trustees, he would retire from office. This announcement came as a shock to the students and faculty and to Dr. Finney's friends on the Mountain and elsewhere.

Dr. Finney has been Vice-Chancellor of the University since 1922 and during his administration the University has made great progress from both a material and educational standpoint.

A native of South Carolina, Dr. Finney entered the University in 1885 and remained for two years. He later studied at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and the University of Virginia. Upon leaving school he entered the field of chemistry. In 1908 he became secretary of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew and held this position until he came to Sewanee in 1922. He received the degree of Doctor of Laws from Hobart College in 1924.

The following extract from Dr. Finney's report to the Board of Trustees sets forth his reasons for his proposed retirement:

"By far the most important matter that will come before the Board of Trustees at this meeting as it will affect the future life of the University is that which will be presented by the Planning Committee proposing changes in the Constitution by which you will divest yourselves of your administrative duties, placing them in the hands of a smaller board, reserving to yourselves certain specific duties. May I as one who has served the University many years as Trustee, Regent, and executive beg you to allow nothing to prevent your adoption of the principle involved in this report, change the detail of it as you may.

"It has been pointed out to you on numerous occasions the impracticability of a group of 108 men attempting in a four-day session once a year to familiarize themselves sufficiently with the complex life of a university to ad-

NEW DEPARTMENT ESTABLISHED

A Department of Public Relations was established in the University by the Board of Trustees at its June meeting in connection with the adoption of a ten-year program for the completion of the first unit of the University. This program calls for the raising of three million dollars, one-half of which will be used for buildings and physical improvements and the other for endowment and retirement funds. The first project of the new department will be the building of the Gailor Memorial dining hall and social center.

Bishop Bratton, the new Chancellor, has agreed to be the director of the Department and will devote all of his time to presenting Sewanee to the Church and to its friends and alumni throughout the country and especially in the South and East. It is felt that the University is particularly fortunate in having such a person as Bishop Bratton to represent it. The new Department will be a permanent feature of the University and will be another fine means of advancing its interests.

Reorganization of Governing

Bodies of the University

At the June meeting of the Board of Trustees, the Planning Committee presented a report which embodied some radical changes in the government of the University. The principle changes are indicated below.

The Board of Trustees will hereafter elect a Board of Regents consisting of three Bishops, three Presbyters, and six laymen who must be members of the Episcopal Church. These Regents will be elected in groups consisting of a Bishop, a Presbyter, and two laymen, one group to serve two years, one four years, and one six years. The Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor are to be ex officio members of the Board of Regents. To this Board all powers and authorities granted in the Charter are delegated except certain specified ones remaining in the Board of Trustees.

The Regents will elect all professors and other officers except the Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Chaplain, who are to be elected by the Board of Trustees. The Dean and Faculty of the Theological School must, however, be nominated by a Standing Committee of Bishop members of the Board of Trustees. The Regents must meet at least three times a year and may be called at any time by the Chairman or by two members. They must be divided into standing committees to look after various concerns and departments of the University.

The Board of Trustees reserves to itself the power to elect the Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor of the University and the Chaplain. The Chancellor may be any Bishop belonging to the constituent Dioceses. He is elected for six years and may not succeed himself. The Board of Trustees also reserves control over all property of the University, and it alone can alter or amend the Constitution. All ordinances passed by the Board of Regents for the government of the University must be approved by the Board of Trustees.

These changes were adopted by the Board of Trustees at their last meeting but must be passed again next year to become effective. Their effect will be to place the immediate government of the University in the hands of a small, compact Board, selected for efficiency. Their mode of election makes the Board of Regents a more continuous body and gives it a greater consistency. The Associated Alumni will continue to be represented on the Board of Trustees, but will no longer nominate representatives to the Board of Regents.

Alumni Aid Sought for Regents' Scholarships

The committee appointed by the Board of Regents to secure from alumni funds with which to assist the University with the recently established Regents' scholarships has begun its work of organizing local committees and putting the matter before alumni.

Niles Trammell, vice-president of the National Broadcasting Company with headquarters in Chicago, is chairman of the committee, and the other members are Frank Hoyt Gailor, '12, Charles E. Thomas, '27, and Dr. W. E. Baldwin. A similar committee was appointed by Colonel H. T. Bull, president of the Associated Alumni, at the annual meeting in June, and is composed of Niles Trammell, Edmund Armes, Harding C. Woodall, and Dr. W. E. Baldwin. This committee is to assist the committee appointed by the Board of Regents.

In addition to the work that has been done through the local committees, a letter outlining the plan to be followed has been sent by the chairman to all alumni, urging their cooperation. The following excerpts are taken from Mr. Trammell's letter:

"As president of the Associated Alumni, I want to urge your financial and moral support of the plan recently approved by the Board of Regents to establish thirty-two scholarships at the University, to be awarded selected students with athletic ability. It is my opinion that this action by the Board of Regents is the most constructive program adopted at the University in many years.

"It will be impossible to continue the plan approved by the Board of Regents because of the financial status of the University, unless we receive adequate support from the alumni. With this thought in mind, as President of the Associated Alumni, I want to help the various local committees working on the fund by addressing this general letter to all of the alumni, urging their support."

The following is the list of the local committee chairmen:

HAVE YOU PAID YOUR DUES?

We are glad to report that the number of alumni who have paid dues for the current year exceeds the number at the same time last year and it is hoped that at the close of the fiscal year, August 31, last year's record of 398 will be excelled. A form is enclosed for the convenience of those who have not responded this year.

The list of alumni who had sent in their dues at the time this issue of the ALUMNI NEWS went to press is given below. The complete list for the year will be printed in the next issue.

To Benjamin Ficklin Finney

You answered to the call in time of need,
You led the cause when leaders were but few,
With service that more service won as meed,
With work that larger work reaped as its due.

Without surcease or respite, pause or rest
You urged a thousand tasks, with single eye,
You bore a thousand cares within your heart,
Deaf to no need that your care might supply.

Your years of service have not been in vain
That you have given for Sewanee's sake;
Full half the count is reckoned of her gain
Since that high trust you did not shun to take.

God sent you to us, in our sore need's hour;
May He reward you! That were past man's power.

—GARDINER L. TUCKER.

The foregoing lines which were added to the report of a committee appointed by the Associated Alumni to prepare a statement in regard to Dr. Finney's service as Vice-Chancellor, which was read at the annual alumni banquet in June, may well be taken as a summing up of the character of the work Dr. Finney has performed during his fourteen years as Vice-Chancellor of the University.

The statement in question appears at the conclusion of this article, the purpose of which is to furnish particulars in regard to the accomplishments in behalf of the University which justify the expression in the statement, "There was a man sent from God whose name was Ben Finney."

Few people realize today the extent of the "difficulty and danger" of the University's situation in February, 1922, when Ben Finney at the insistent demand of the Board of Regents and at a great personal sacrifice undertook the task of meeting these dangers and coping with the difficulties. With wonderful patience, with clear judgment, and with undaunted courage he assumed the task. The result is expressed in the words of the Alumni Committee: "Dr. Finney has, in the first place, preserved the University from the peril of dissolution." And more than this, he has enlarged its powers and increased its resources. Let the record speak.

Since 1922 the total capital assets of the University have been more than doubled. From $1,650,502.05 they have become $3,344,279.79. The productive endowment, or that which provides an income for general purposes, has been increased from $640,308.00 to $1,252,954.00, an increase of 96%. Up to 1922 the utilities, dormitories, and dining hall showed an annual heavy loss. In 1935, they showed a profit of $14,500.00. The operating deficit in 1922 was $60,336.16. In 1935 it was $25,895.29. The University now carries 50% more insurance on its properties at a cost of 10% less than the previous amount. The student body has increased from 216 in 1922 to 259 in 1935. Up to 1922 there had been 401 graduates while since that time there have been 458. In 1922, 18.75% of the student body left during the session while in 1935 only 9.91% withdrew. The scholastic average of the student body in 1922 was 76% which was the highest up to that time. In 1935 it was 80%. Instead of one national honor society we now have five, having added Omicron Delta Kappa, Pi Gamma Mu, Blue Key, and Phi Beta Kappa. The number of volumes in the library has been increased by 18%, and the library building has been beautifully refitted and modernized. Cannon Hall, Johnson Hall, Tuckaway Inn, the Academy gymnasium with its swimming pool, the Ormond Simkins field house, the Snowden wing of the hospital, and three professors' houses have been built while the Sewanee Inn has been completed and Quintard Memorial Hall, which houses the Academy, has been restored. Many thousand feet of water mains have been laid and new wells dug to afford an abundant supply of water at all times. A new playing field dedicated to the memory of Harris Cope has been provided, and three tennis courts have been constructed. The farm has been developed from 8½ acres to over 500, and a herd of 55 registered cattle now supplies guaranteed milk to the community. The Memorial Cross on the brow of the Mountain was erected in 1923. The citizens have erected a new modern public school building of stone valued at $30,000. The curriculum of the College of Arts and Sciences has been materially strengthened and distinguished men have been added to the faculties of both the University and the Military Academy. The standing of the University among the educational institutions of the country has had continued and enlarged recognition.

This is not a complete record, but it is enough to show that the alumni were warranted in their opinion that their association should do honor to a great Vice-Chancellor, who is one of their number. It is not complete because it would be impossible to do justice to those qualities of the man which have made the great work done by Dr. Finney possible. The wise counsel, the friendliness, the unassuming dignity with which he moved among his associates, his simple truth, his unswerving sincerity, and his Christian character, all contributed to a profound and far-reaching influence for good upon the minds and hearts of all the members of the Sewanee community.

The statement of the committee follows:

TO THE ASSOCIATED ALUMNI OF THE UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH:

Your committee appointed to prepare a statement for presentation at the Alumni Banquet concerning the character and services of Dr. B. F. Finney, Vice-Chancellor, offers the following:

On February 17, 1922, Benjamin Ficklin Finney undertook the duties of Vice-Chancellor of the UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH. At that time the situation was one of great difficulty and danger. Situations of difficulty and danger have recurred during the period of his administration. In these fourteen years of service Dr. Finney has, in the first place, preserved the University from the peril of dissolution. In the second place he has built up the University in endowment, in material equipment, in efficiency of operation, and in the morale of faculty and student body. In the third place, he has directed the University's course through the agonizing years of depression with a minimum of disadvantage and loss.

Dr. Finney has brought to the administration of his office the talents of a wise, prudent, and tireless administrator of financial and organizational activities, the cultural ideals of an educated man, and not least, the character of a consecrated, humble-minded Christian gentleman, whom one of the great organizations of the Church has made its national president.

It was said shortly after Dr. Finney's assumption of the office of Vice-Chancellor, "There was a man sent from God, whose name was Ben Finney." By the fourteen years of his service, and by the achievements of his work, the appropriateness of that saying has been abundantly justified.

It might be well said of him, as of another, "If you seek his monument, look around you."

The alumni of the UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH place Dr. Finney in the front rank of those sons of Sewanee that have brought honor to our Alma Mater by conspicuous service to the University, to the Commonwealth, and to the Church.

MALCOLM LOCKHART,
GARDINER L. TUCKER,
Committee.

ALUMNI ACTIVITIES

AT COMMENCEMENT

The 1936 Commencement season brought back to the Mountain a large number of alumni and all meetings were well attended. Twenty-four members were present at the meeting of the Alumni Council. The Executive Committee was authorized to decide upon the disposition of the Alumni fund.

The annual meeting of the Associated Alumni was attended by about twenty-five men. At this meeting reports of officers were made and new officers were elected. The Committee on publicity was continued and a committee to assist the Regents' Committee with the raising of funds for the Regents' scholarships was appointed. The amendments to the Constitution concerning the election of representatives on the Board of Trustees and nomination of representatives on the Board of Regents by ballot by mail were passed for the second time, thus becoming effective.

Appreciation of Colonel Bull

The following resolution of appreciation of Colonel H. T. Bull, the retiring President of the Associated Alumni, was passed at the meeting of the Alumni Council on June 7:

Resolved, That the Associated Alumni of the UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH hereby express their warm appreciation of the loyal, efficient, and devoted service of Col. H. T. Bull in his capacity as President of the Associated Alumni during the past seven years, feeling that his efforts in large measure have been responsible for the progress made by the association, the greater cohesion that exists, and the brighter promise of its future.

Ever mindful of the interests and advancement of the association, he has often traveled at great distances to participate in its activities. His unswerving loyalty and intelligent application of his ability have been an inspiration to all alumni.

L. NILES TRAMMELL, '19

New President of the Associated Alumni

At the general meeting of the Associated Alumni on June 8, Niles Trammell, a member of the Class of 1919, was elected President to succeed Colonel H. T. Bull.

Mr. Trammell entered the University in 1915 from Marietta, Georgia. In 1918 he left school to enter the army during the World War, serving as both Second Lieutenant and First Lieutenant. He resigned from the army in 1922.

Mr. Trammell is vice-president and general manager of the Chicago office of the National Broadcasting Company. He was nominated as a member of the Board of Regents by the Associated Alumni in June, 1935. He has been very actively interested in the affairs of the Associated Alumni and the University.

OTHER ALUMNI OFFICERS

First Vice-President: Charles Edward Thomas, Indianapolis, Ind. Mr. Thomas received his B.A. degree from the University in 1927. Since 1929 he has been editor of The Delta, the Sigma Nu fraternity magazine, and assistant general secretary of the fraternity. He is a frequent contributor to magazines and is the author of several books. He is secretary of the Board of Regents of the University.

Second Vice-President: Rev. Prentice A. Pugh, D.D., Nashville, Tenn. Dr. Pugh received the degrees of B.A. and B.D. from the University in 1905. In 1932 the University gave him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity. He has been rector of the Church of the Advent in Nashville since 1916. Dr. Pugh is a member of the Board of Trustees.

Third Vice-President: Harding C. Woodall, New York, N. Y. Mr. Woodall graduated from the University with the degree of B.S. in 1917. He served as Captain of Field Artillery during the World War. He is now engaged in the business of Investment Banking and is connected with the National City Company of New York.

Treasurer: Harry E. Clark, Sewanee, Tenn. Mr. Clark entered the University in 1914 but left in June, 1917, to enter the army during the World War. He was a member of the Sewanee Ambulance Unit in France and returned to Sewanee in 1919. He is now Assistant General Manager of the University Supply Store and Head Football Coach of the University.

Recording Secretary: Prof. Henry M. Gass, Sewanee, Tenn. Professor Gass graduated from the University with the E.A. degree in 1907. The next year he went to Oxford University as a Rhodes Scholar. He received the B.A. degree from New College, Oxford, in 1910. He has been awarded the M.A. degree by both the University and Oxford. He is now Professor of Greek and Acting Professor of Latin at Sewanee.

cesan activities have been wide and various. He has been especially active in his work among the negroes and is appealed to as an authority in interracial matters. He is the author of "Wanted Leaders, a Study in Negro Development." It has been said that Bishop Bratton's least known but finest work was his service with the Y. M. C. A. in France during the years 1918 and 1919, when he was officially the Chaplain of the port of Brest. In 1934 and 1935 Bishop Bratton wrote a life of Dr. William Porcher DuBose. This work was published in the spring of 1936 with the title "An Apostle of Reality, The Life and Thought of William Porcher DuBose."

Sewanee inspires in all of her sons and in all who come to know her well an ardent love and a genuine passion to serve her. Too often, unhappily, this zeal has been spent in vain through ill-organized effort. Not the least gain in the election of Bishop Bratton as Chancellor is the fact that he is a leader who is peculiarly qualified to unite and mold Sewanee sentiment. With one accord and one purpose, Sewanee men everywhere should rally to the support of the University, confident in the power of the new Chancellor to lead, sure of his consecration to his high office, eager to put aside all differences, and share with him in the upbuilding of the University.

Acting with this end in view, the Board of Trustees has passed on its first reading a plan of reorganization whereby the administration of the affairs of the University is to be placed in the hands of a small governing board. The end sought is greater continuity and efficiency in administration than it was possible to achieve through the rather large and unwieldy Board of Trustees representing the twenty-two dioceses of the Province of Sewanee. In the same spirit, a Department of Public Relations has been set up with the Chancellor as its chairman. The purpose of this department is to provide an agency through which closer contact may be established and maintained between Sewanee and her friends everywhere and which can speak with authority for Sewanee and interpret her educational ideals and objectives. In various ways, therefore, the 1936 Commencement season at Sewanee marks the beginning of a new era. Steps have been taken which will give Sewanee a united front, agencies have been created which will facilitate the future progress of the University, and, most important of all, a leader has been chosen.

Sewanee has a magnificent tradition. The story of her founding, of the wealth of love and sacrifice that have gone into her making, of the great ones who have gone forth from her towered city to lives of service in the world, is known to Sewanee men and friends everywhere. This past cannot be forgotten and it is eminently fitting that her new leader should be one who is in every sense the perfect product of this great Sewanee. But Sewanee has also her present and future. She must make in the future even more than in the past her contribution to an ever changing and progressing world. It is even more fitting that to lead in this task of carrying on, she has chosen a man of wisdom, a man of vision, a man of faith, a man whose voice is heard far and wide and creates confidence wherever it is heard.

minister wisely its affairs. The history of the past shows the impossibility of maintaining any continuity of policy when rarely do more than one-third of the 108 attend the meetings and this third is a constantly changing group.

"So strongly have I felt that almost the very life of the University is jeopardized by our continuation of this mode of government that last August I wrote the then Chancellor, suggesting that he call a meeting of the Bishops, who represent the more stable membership of the Board and more fully the diocesan ownership of the University, to consider this serious situation. A meeting of the Bishops of the Province of Sewanee was held in Lexington, Ky., and they adopted unanimously a resolution approving the principle of placing the administrative functions of the Board of Trustees into the hands of a small group of men chosen by the Trustees for their administrative ability. This principle later received the approval of most of the other Bishops on the Board.

"At that meeting I made the statement that if this principle should be adopted and the administrative functions be placed in the hands of a smaller board, this would carry with it my retirement from the office of Vice-Chancellor in order to allow the new administrative Board and a new executive to begin to function simultaneously. My own sense of self-respect compels me to take this position for I can not ask you to divest yourselves of your administrative functions and retain mine, so I am now announcing direct to you that with the final adoption of the change in the Constitution proposed which should be in June, 1937, my retirement as Vice-Chancellor will become effective. This should give sufficient time for you to find my successor in office and to lay plans for the future. To all of you, those who have not approved my administrative policy and those who have loyally supported it, to all of you who love Sewanee, I wish to say that I bear no malice or hatred in my heart and I call on you everyone to forget our differences and here and now let us put our heads together and consider what is best for the immediate future of the University. For our situation is serious enough to necessitate our best thought though it should not unduly alarm us, and with a strong united pull and the use of hearts and brains and energy, we can take care of our deficit, can increase our enrollment in the College and Academy, and make this next year one of the most successful in the life of the University."

Progress Marks the University's Sixty-ninth Year

One of Best Years in Sewanee's History

On the opening day of the University this year about two hundred and fifty students were greeted by the new Chancellor, Rt. Rev. Theodore DuBose Bratton, D.D. Of course, it is no news to alumni to remark that it is only as applied to the Chancellorship that the adjective "new" can be used about Bishop Bratton. The Bishop has lived almost all of his adult life in connection with the University and there is no man living who is more truly representative of its living spirit and its ideals. Sewanee gathers added strength from his presence on the Mountain.

The students, more in number than last year, came from twenty-eight states, scattered from Maine to Texas and from Kansas to South Carolina. Twenty-six of them are enrolled in the Theological School, twenty-three transferred from other colleges, and seventy-eight are new freshmen. The remainder returned to college from last year's enrollment. Among them are to be found representatives of about every Christian denomination, from Roman Catholic to Christian Scientist. There is a Swedenborgian, a Mormon, and a Universalist, while only four claim no certain faith. There are twenty-four sons of clergymen and thirty-three sons of alumni.

Probably of most interest to alumni are the thirteen recipients of Regents' Scholarships. Of these four are junior college men and nine are freshmen. The former group supplied an end, a guard, a tackle, and a back to this year's valiant football team and turned in the first two touchdowns made against a major team in several years. They will all be heard from next year. The nine freshmen average about 180 pounds in weight and no one of them is yet twenty-one years old. At least four of them will, after another year of Magnolia diet, tip the scales at 200 pounds. All these boys come from states of the deep South. No phonetic agility is required to spell or pronounce any one of their names. They are all English, Irish, or Scotch. Every one of the entire lot has been asked to join a fraternity, and except for their athletic ability they are in no wise different from the general run of freshmen. Already they have become as much a part of the Sewanee family as any like number of newcomers to the Mountain. It may be safely said that even if they could not play football at all the student body has been made richer by the presence of this group of fine young men. To this may be added the thought that if the Regents' Scholarships are to continue such additions, these scholarships will prove of incalculable benefit to the University.

Perhaps the two most striking events of the school year so far were, first, the flaming of the Sewanee Spirit at the Vanderbilt game, as exemplified by both the team and the student body, and second the fire at General Smith's. In regard to the first it may be said that the like has not been witnessed in over ten years. On that occasion the team excited the admiration of friend and foe alike by their wonderful battle against overwhelming odds. They were not beaten, they were simply worn out, and it took three periods and nearly three teams to accomplish this. All the while they received the enthusiastic backing of their fellows in the stands and the radio announcer spent much of his time wondering how such a tremendous volume of sound could emanate from so small a number. Beside

Dr. William Haskell DuBose died at his home in Sewanee on October 15 after an illness of ten days with pneumonia. He is survived by his wife who was Miss Deane Spencer of St. Louis, their son, Haskell, who graduated from the University in 1932, and two sisters, Misses May and Susie DuBose. His funeral was held in All Saints' Chapel at 1:30 p.m. on Friday, October 16, and he was buried in the University cemetery.

Born in Abbeville, South Carolina, on May 17, 1870, Dr. DuBose had been associated with Sewanee almost constantly since 1871, when his father, the Rev. William Porcher DuBose, S.T.D., became the first Chaplain of the University. He was a student in the Grammar School, College, Graduate School, and Theological School, receiving the degree of Master of Arts in 1891 and that of Graduate in Divinity in 1898. He spent the years from 1896 to 1898 in graduate work in theology at Oxford University. Since 1898 he had been professor of Old Testament Language and Interpretation in the Theological School. He had at various times also served as acting chaplain of the University and as acting dean of the Theological School. The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him by the Episcopal Theological School of Alexandria, Virginia, in 1923. He was a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and of Phi Beta Kappa.

Dr. DuBose had, in addition to his work in the University, served as rector of the churches in Monteagle and Tracy City for a number of years and had established a number of missions in the Sewanee field. It has been said by Bishop Theodore DuBose Bratton, Chancellor of the University, that his unique relationship with the people of the Mountain and surrounding country established him as a beloved friend and pastor of every inhabitant of the section.

The following is taken from a memorial tribute of the Hudson Stuck chapter of the English-Speaking Union of which Dr. DuBose was president for several years: "In a life so full and useful as that of Dr. DuBose, it is difficult to select any activity as of first importance. It is of more than passing sig-

COMING ELECTIONS

The constitution of the Associated Alumni now provides for the election of its representatives on the governing boards of the University by ballot-by-mail. Next year the following elections will be held:

Three representatives on the Board of Trustees to serve three years (two lay and one clergy).

Due to the fact that there is a possibility that the Board of Trustees will abolish alumni representation on the Board of Regents, the executive committee decided not to hold the election of the representative on this board next year.

The following extract from Article 6 of the Constitution gives the rules which will govern the election:

Section 4. Election of representatives to the Board of Trustees and nomination of representatives to the Board of Regents shall be conducted by ballot by mail as follows:

(a) A nominating committee composed of three members shall be elected annually by the Alumni Council.

(b) Only members in good standing shall be entitled to vote.

(c) On or before March 15 the nominating committee shall notify the Organizing Secretary of their nominees. They must nominate at least one candidate for each vacancy to be filled.

(d) Additional names for any election, when supported by the signatures of not less than ten active members, shall be put on the ballot, if received by the Organizing Secretary on or before March 15.

(e) On or before April 1 the Organizing Secretary shall mail a letter in ballot form containing the names and the biographies of the nominees to all members entitled to vote.

(f) The polls shall close on June 1, and no ballots received after this date will be counted. The Executive Committee shall thereupon canvass all ballots and the candidates receiving the largest number of votes shall be deemed elected.

(g) Notice of elections and vacancies shall be sent all members eligible to vote before January 1, preceding each regular election.

The nominating committee elected to serve for the coming year is as follows: Rev. Wm. S. Turner, St. Paul's Church, Winston-Salem, N. C., Chairman; Emmet Baker, 301 Hardeman, Macon, Ga.; and R. Morey Hart, 718 Johnston Bldg., Charlotte, N. C.

SIGMA NU'S WIN ALUMNI CUP

For the third consecutive year the Sigma Nu fraternity has won the cup given each year by the Associated Alumni to the fraternity having the largest percentage of its alumni enrolled as members of the Associated Alumni for the year. Figures showing the number of living alumni, the number of members in the Associated Alumni for the year 1935-36, and the percentage for each fraternity are as follows:

Opening of Two Summer

Schools Announced

Early in November Vice-Chancellor Finney announced the opening of a summer school at Sewanee which will specialize in the study of French. The school will be known as the Sewanee French School and is being arranged primarily for teachers of high school French in the South.

M. Rene Hardre of the University of North Carolina will be appointed director of the school and Mr. David E. Frieron of the University faculty will be dean. Mr. Hugo Giduz of the University of North Carolina will be a member of the faculty and other members will be appointed as the enrollment increases.

The school will use Quintard Memorial Hall. To be enrolled students must pledge themselves to read and speak French only. The particular courses which will be given have not yet been announced but they will include courses designed to give a complete mastery of the French language as well as cultural courses on French literature, history, geography, civilization, and methods of teaching French. They will lead to the degree of Master of Arts. The school will last six weeks.

SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY.

Dean Charles L. Wells has also announced the opening of a summer school in theology to be held next summer from July 26 to August 30 to provide "instruction and direction for clergymen who wish to continue their theological studies in a systematic manner."

Four courses will be offered next summer. Dean Wells will give a course in English Church History from Wycliffe to Cranmer. Dr. Royden K. Yerkes will lecture on "The Thomist Approach to Theology." Dr. James A. Montgomery, professor of Semitic Languages in the University of Pennsylvania will offer a course on "The Old Testament as History and Literature." Dr. Burton S. Easton, professor of New Testament Interpretation in General Theological Seminary, will teach a course on the Gospel of St. John. Completion of work in these courses will be counted for credit toward advanced degrees.

Sixty-ninth Year

them the Vanderbilt rooting was as the sound of sparrows upon a house-top. The fire which endangered Fulford Hall or Benedict or General Smith's, according to the generation to which you belong, was remarkable in that a very advanced conflagration was extinguished by the student fire company with a minimum of damage. Not a window was broken though the fire was on the third floor, and absolutely everything in the house was removed safely with no damage or loss. The fire was confined to the third floor and the only damage elsewhere was from water. The whole affair was a fine example of self-control and restraint on the part of the student body.

There have been a number of improvements in the plant of the University and particularly at the Sewanee Union. The MacKellar Little Theatre due to the untiring efforts of Tony Griswold, has been fully equipped and is now in constant use filling a long felt want. The Sandwich Shop, which is in no sense a shoppe, has been remodelled and fitted out so as to afford the best of service. The newly established student post office at the Union is a great convenience, and way was thus made for the enlargement of the quarters of the Athletic Director in Walsh Hall. The old Pi Omega Hall has been made into two commodious classrooms, and considerable congestion thus relieved. Other improvements have been made at the University Supply Store, in the dormitories, and other buildings.

From every standpoint the year has been, so far, one of progress and improvement. There has been a striking recrudescence of the Sewanee Spirit in the student body. This has been manifested in the functioning of the extra-curricular activities which have been carried on with unusual interest and success and in the character of the class work which has been far above the average. Never before, in all of Sewanee's sixty-nine years, has there been apparent on the Mountain to a greater degree the spirit of that unity of purpose which has always been characteristic of the University family.

significance, however, that his father founded the Theological School at Sewanee and that father and son have left the imprint of their personality and of their teaching on every generation of Sewanee men that has gone forth from St. Luke's into the ministry of the Church. For thirty-eight years, Dr. DuBose was an inspiring teacher, wise counsellor, faithful friend to all who passed through St. Luke's. In his death Sewanee, the Theological School, and the Church have suffered an irreparable loss. . . . If we look for the golden thread that runs through this fine, active, and useful life, for the central fact that gives it unity, it is not difficult to find. Dr. DuBose was a convinced Christian. That was the secret of the power and the consecration of his life as it was of the life of his father before him. We think of them as noble examples of the true spirit of Sewanee. We can best honor them by carrying on in their spirit."

Varsity Football

By HENDREE MILWARD, '37

The football season just closed was one of the most unique in the University's history. The Tigers failed to take part in the numerous upsets that marked this season for so many of the small schools and did not win a game, a team with a much weaker eleven being the closest they came to victory. And yet, with this unenviable record, the season will long be remembered by Sewanee students and fans who follow their team closely for it was marked by the fact that Sewanee spirit is not dead by a long shot and that spirit can make a football team. The past season saw one of the most remarkable changes ever noted in a Sewanee football team and though it is familiar to most of our readers, we would like to give a brief resume of what happened in order that future generations may have the record.

Sewanee's hopes for a good year were dashed early in the season when Georgia Tech defeated the Tigers 58 to 0 in the initial game of the season. The team did not play well and the Yellow Jackets had things very much their own way. A two-weeks' rest did little good for the Tigers fell before Tennessee Wesleyan 19 to 7 in a game that is usually considered a breather. There were eleven men on the field with potential football ability but they made many mistakes and seemed unable to play as a unit. The student body was not backing the team and did not appear to care what happened. A scoreless tie with T. P. I. was the result of the next game which was marked by better play on the part of Tigers but a noticeable inability to score when they had an excellent opportunity. To a partial extent the confidence of the students and team was restored but this encouragement was completely lost when on the next Saturday Sewanee suffered her worst defeat in recent years—a terrific 68 to 0 licking by Mississippi State. All appeared to be lost and spirit in the school hit its lowest ebb. A real crisis had arisen but, as is usually the case at Sewanee, it was met. New songs and cheers were written, meetings held, talks were made, and posters were drawn and though it caught slowly, soon the idea spread like wild-fire and everyone was possessed with the one thought, "Beat Vandy"! The team also had undergone a complete change and each man was worked up to a high pitch. The story of the game is well known—the tremendous yelling, the inspired way in which the team played, holding Vanderbilt scoreless for three and one-half quarters, the final 14-0 score and the praise afterward which was deserved in view of former performances. It was a moral victory in the real sense of the word and a new lease on life was gained by the occupants of the Mountain and their football team. Sewanee spirit was at its height now and everyone was firmly convinced that Florida would be beaten. Florida won 18 to 7 and the heat may have had much to do with their victory but the Tigers were by no means disgraced. It was a good game and those who saw it left knowing that they had seen a hard fought battle. To close the season, Sewanee lost to Tulane 53 to 6. No one expected the Tigers to win or to come close to it for they were a battered and bruised lot of players who had played their hearts out in the two previous performances. Nevertheless, before the game the spirit of the backers was as high as ever. Weakened by injuries, Sewanee held the Greenies to a 26 to 6 score at the end of three quarters but too many fresh men were always on the field for the winners and they pushed over four touchdowns in the last quarter. No one was badly discouraged when they heard the score for a defeat was expected. The school and team had found out what spirit could do for them and the Tulane defeat was forgotten almost immediately for everyone was looking forward to next year.

COLMORE HONORED

Rupert Colmore, '37, who played his last year of varsity football during the season just closed, has received many honors. He was elected Captain for the year and chosen the most valuable man on the 1936 team his teammates. In addition to his leadership, Rupert's play at left tackle was outstanding throughout the season. He was picked on a number of all-star teams and received honorable mention on several others. Among these honors were the following:

- Associated Press—All-Southeastern.
- Associated Press—Honorable Mention All-American.
- Ray Morrison—All-Southeastern.
- United Press—All-Southeastern (Second Team)
- Collier's—Honorable Mention All-American.

Rupert was also picked as an All-Southern man by many newspapers and was chosen All-American by Bert Bell, coach of the Philadelphia professional team, who stated that Rupert was one of the outstanding college players of the year. Rupert also received an offer to play on the Philadelphia team.

In picking him on his All-Southeastern Conference team, Ray Morrison, coach at Vanderbilt, said: "The choice of Colmore probably will be a surprise in that Sewanee lost every Big Thirteen game played and scored only thirteen points. However, here was a sixty-minute player Saturday after Saturday who took all the pounding that comes to a weak team and still emerged as a heroic figure in every contest. He was hard to move, was an unusually good open field tackler, and a talented place kicker."

Freshman Football

The freshman football squad this year numbered around twenty-two men, seventeen of whom earned their numerals. Most of these men displayed better than average ability and should furnish the varsity with more material than any freshman team since 1930. Due to injuries and lack of men to fill the guard positions it was rather difficult to develop a team although they gave a good account of themselves in the two games they played. The first game with the T. P. I. freshmen resulted in a 13-13 tie and the second was lost to the Vanderbilt freshmen by the score of 20-0. The freshmen who earned their numerals are:

Report of the Secretary

MEMBERSHIP

I am glad to be able again this year to report an increase in the active membership of the Associated Alumni over the previous year. The number who paid dues for 1935-36 reached a total of 433 which is an increase of 35 or 8.7 per cent over 1934-35. One of the most encouraging features is the large number of the graduating class who became members of the association. This class, 1936, led all classes with a total of 21 active members.

ALUMNI FUND

The amount of $1,002.51 was contributed by 196 members of the Associated Alumni to the Alumni Fund. This is the largest amount contributed in the history of the Fund and is an increase of $64.27, although the number of contributors decreased by 8. The Fund this year represents the interest on an endowment fund of $21,358.17, taking the average rate of interest earned during the year on all University funds. The Executive Committee disposed of this fund in the following manner: $120.00 was set aside to purchase memorial tablets for deceased Vice-Chancellors and the remainder was given to the University for operating expenses.

OTHER ALUMNI CONTRIBUTIONS

Contributions to other funds of the University also increased during the past year. Ninety-eight alumni contributed $9,507.27 to various departments of the University. This is an increase of 34 contributors and of $6,092.27 in amount contributed. The amount received from alumni dues, contributions to the Alumni Fund, and gifts to other funds of the University makes a total of $11,808.78 which was given by alumni during 1935-36, an increase over 1934-35 of $6,270.54.

GORDON M. CLARK,
Organizing Secretary.

RECENT BOOKS WRITTEN BY SEWANEE ALUMNI

THE GREAT TOM FULLER. By Dean B. Lyman, '20. University of California Press, 1935. $2.25.

This book was reviewed in the April-June, 1936 issue of The Sewanee Review by Dr. John M. McBryde of Tulane University who says: "Dr. Lyman not only perceived the need of an accurate, carefully documented life of Fuller, but has admirably filled it, carrying through his task in the spirit of the true scholar and the sympathetic interpreter. His book will, I trust, lead many readers to become acquainted with Fuller's writings, for, says his latest biographer, 'those who have not known him there have one of their finest literary friendships to make.'"

EUROPEAN UNIVERSITIES: OBSERVATIONS OF SOCIAL LIFE IN CONTINENTAL AND ENGLISH UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES. By Charles Edward Thomas, '27. Published by Bruce Humphries, Inc., Boston, 1936. $2.00.

The following is quoted from an announcement of the publishers of this book: "He visited the great universities of the Continent and of England with a view of investigating the social life of the student and its effect on his education. While he visited many universities all over Europe, it was in the English schools, colleges, and at Oxford and Cambridge that he thrilled in the traditional background of the social influence in education. This is all interpreted by a young man who knows the college world on this side of the sea as intimately as any of his age and time. Not only through his active fraternity work but as secretary of the Board of Regents of his own college, the UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH, he has an active influence in educational affairs."

REASON AND REVELATION. By Edward McCrady, D.D., '88. Eerdmans Publishing Company, Grand Rapids, Mich. 1936. $3.00.

In a review of this book, Dr. W. C. Morse, professor of Geology at the University of Mississippi where Dr. McCrady is professor of Philosophy, says of the author: "Leaving out of consideration his training in the languages, in philosophy, and in mathematics, the fact remains that he is thoroughly trained in both the physical and biological sciences, especially in evolution and the history of evolution. When in Reason and Revelation, he writes on evolution, in which he fully believes as interpreted by the leading scientists of today, it is with the authority of one perhaps without a peer in this phase of biological study. In his refreshing book he attempts no reconciliation between evolution and religion, for in his mind, emergent evolution leads straight through biological evolution to spiritual evolution—and on to Christ."

DEATH IN THE DEEP SOUTH. By Ward Greene, '16. Published by Stackpole Sons, New York, 1936. $2.00.

The author, who is executive editor of King Features Syndicate, Inc., of New York, has written several other books and is a contributor of fiction to various periodicals. In a review in a recent issue of the New York Times Book Review, E. C. Beckwith says: "Portions of the story—its intensely dramatic court-room scenes—read like verbatim transcriptions of an actual murder trial's progress . . . Starkly realistic throughout, the book is a distinctly novel departure from standardized crime fiction." A dispatch from Hollywood says that the book will be filmed by Warner Brothers.

AND FEAR CAME. By John T. Whitaker, '27. Macmillan Company, 1936. $2.50.

Dr. W. S. Knickerbocker, professor of English at the University, says in a review of this book: "It should be read by everybody connected with or interested in the UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH. It is a sincere, earnest, racy, soul-searching document of an intelligent young man who is agonizing in an effort to realize himself in the modern world. Its theme is the reeducation of a modern youth in a world for which his college education was, paradoxically, both sufficient and at the same time highly insufficient."

"Apparently three members of the faculty stand out as having made Whitaker's mind: Professors Ware, Kayden, and Long. All three are specifically cited by Whitaker in handsome tributes. Professor Long gave him his love for writing, Professor Kayden introduced him to the social and economic movements of contemporary life, Professor Ware fired him with an evangelical belief in the efficacy of the League of Nations."

Vice-Chancellor's Post Is Still to Be Filled

Dr. Guerry's Decision Makes Second Report of Board's
Nominating Committee Necessary.

Election of a Vice-Chancellor to succeed Dr. Benjamin F. Finney, who last June announced his intention to retire at the close of the current academic year, is expected within the next few weeks.

Dealt a temporary set-back by the decision of Dr. Alexander Guerry, who was offered the post by Sewanee's Board of Trustees last December 17, to remain as President of the University of Chattanooga, the matter was returned to the nominating committee of the Board for further consideration. The committee is understood to be preparing a second report to be submitted to the Board.

Dr. Guerry, whose name was the only one presented by the nominating committee at the December election and who was chosen unanimously by the Trustees present, has been closely associated with Sewanee for most of his life. Son of the late Bishop William A. Guerry, of South Carolina, who before his elevation to the Episcopacy was Chaplain of the University, he spent his boyhood here. Early prepared for college entrance, he matriculated in the University in 1906 and was graduated in 1910, at the age of 19, with the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

Except for an interruption during the World War, in which he distinguished himself as a first lieutenant in the American Expeditionary Force, Dr. Guerry has been in educational work ever since his graduation from Sewanee. After two years of teaching in McCallie School, Chattanooga, he became assistant-headmaster at Baylor School, Chattanooga, later being advanced to the headmastership, from which position he was called to the presidency of the University of Chattanooga in 1929.

Always loyal to his alma mater and active in the Associated Alumni, particularly as leader of the Class of 1910, Dr. Guerry was avowedly faced with a difficult choice when Sewanee's Trustees offered him the Vice-Chancellorship. In announcing his decision to decline he said publicly that he had dreamed that some day he might serve his alma mater as her executive head, but that he was determining upon his

Dining Hall Planned as Gailor Memorial

To honor the memory of a great friend and servant of Sewanee, and at the same time to fill a great need on the campus, the Board of Trustees has authorized an immediate campaign to raise at least $150,000 for the erection of a modern, fire-proof Student Center here.

Dedicated to the memory of the Rt. Rev. Thomas F. Gailor, D.D., who at his death here in October, 1935, had completed an official connection of fifty-three years with the University, as Professor, Chaplain, Vice-Chancellor, and Chancellor, the building will be known as the Gailor Memorial.

Bishop Gailor's surviving associates have expressed the conviction that no more appropriate memorial edifice could be erected than a social center which would strengthen the bond of friendship at Sewanee, and so perpetuate the late Chancellor's ministry of fellowship.

Plans for the proposed building, although still incomplete, contemplate a structure of Sewanee sandstone, in a style conforming to the general architectural plan of the University. More centrally located than is Magnolia, it will contain not only an adequate dining room and modern kitchen but also

Churchmen Cooperating in "Sewanee Day" Plan

Scores of Parishes Already Enlisted; Chancellor Urging Observance in Twenty-two Dioceses

That Churchmen throughout the South are cooperating in the initial step of the Ten Year Program inaugurated by Sewanee's Board of Trustees is revealed in information released by the Department of Public Relations, of which the Rt. Rev. Theodore D. Bratton, D.D., Chancellor of the University, is chairman.

Rectors of scores of parishes in the twenty-two dioceses which own Sewanee have already indicated that they will declare one Sunday this year as Sewanee Day, on which the aims and accomplishments of the University will be presented and a special offering will be received.

By personal appearances before Diocesan Conventions, by conferences with the Bishops and other clergy, and by letters to all Rectors of parishes within the area, Bishop Bratton is working to extend the observance of Sewanee Sunday to every parish concerned.

While the offering to be taken on that day is asked for the purpose of meeting an immediate emergency, the Chancellor points out that the Department of Public Relations is concentrating upon what seems to be the simplest and best solution for the prevention of "yearly deficits". On the theory that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure", he suggests that if every Episcopalian in the twenty-two controlling Dioceses would give one cent a week through their parish budgets to Sewanee, there would be no operating deficit, and other funds would be released for maintenance and expansion.

In analyzing Sewanee's present financial difficulties, Bishop Bratton explained that the University has not enough endowment to produce an income sufficient for operating and maintenance, and that this condition has been aggravated, during the depression years, by shrinkage of income from invested funds. Efforts of the administration, he said, to meet the reduction in income by a corresponding reduction in expenditures are well known. He cited, however, a recent report of the University's New York auditors, in which they emphasize the opinion (later re-enforced by that of financial experts) that it is impossible to limit expendi-

COMMENCEMENT

Commencement dates this year are:

Sunday, June 6—Commencement Sunday.

Monday, June 7—Alumni Day.

Tuesday, June 8—Commencement Day.

A detailed program will be published in the May issue of the NEWS and it is hoped that a large number of alumni will make their plans to be on hand. The Reunion Classes and their Leaders are as follows:

Reunion Year	Leader
'87 Fiftieth	Rt. Rev. T. D. Bratton
'92 Forty-fifth
'97 Fortieth	Rev. Gardiner L. Tucker
'02 Thirty-fifth	A. A. Carrier
'07 Thirtieth	Henry M. Gass
'12 Twenty-fifth	Frank Hoyt Gailor
'17 Twentieth	Frederick M. Morris
'22 Fifteenth	Robert Phillips
'27 Tenth	Rev. Wm. S. Turner
'32 Fifth	Rev. Wood B. Carper

THE RIGHT IDEA

"There is plenty to be done by the Associated Alumni—our organization—plenty of worthwhile programs and movements which it could launch and sponsor, if only more of its members would realize their identity and connection with it and their innate duties and responsibilities to it."

Extract from a letter from a member of the Class of 1933.

VICE-CHANCELLOR'S POST

course in the light of his obligation. While deploring his loss to Sewanee, faculty and students alike were quick to congratulate Chattanooga upon her gain and to honor Dr. Guerry for the motive which prompted his decision.

When Dr. Finney retires after fifteen years as Vice-Chancellor, he will leave behind him a record which will challenge emulation by his successor, whoever he may be, as the hundreds of alumni who have passed through these halls during his tenure of office will testify. His administration has spanned some of the most critical years in the history of Sewanee, years in which economic depression has vied with the devil for the hindmost; and the towered city is still set within the same old wood, her physical plant greatly augmented, her standards still aloft, and her morale undiminished.

The nominating committee charged with naming Dr. Finney's successor, subject to approval of the Board of Trustees, consists of the Rt. Rev. Theodore D. Bratton, D.D., Chancellor and Chairman; the Rt. Rev. Henry J. Mikkell, D.D., co-Chairman; the Rev. Bland Mitchell, D.D., Judge Arthur Crownover, Dr. Warren Kearny, and Charles E. Thomas.

Alumnus Directs Flood Relief

Sewanee and the nation responded to the call which Admiral Cary T. Grayson, '03 sent out in behalf of the sufferers stricken by the swirling waters of the swollen Ohio. Students at the University sent over one hundred dollars and residents of the Mountain increased this amount to over $400.00 as stirring reports of the horrors came by radio and by newspapers, and by telegrams.

Week before this crisis Admiral Grayson had directed the second inauguration of Franklin D. Roosevelt, and the very rains which were to spread destruction in Ohio and in the Potomac to a lesser degree marred the colorful inaugural ceremony worked out by Admiral Grayson.

Personal physician to three presidents and appointed head of the American Red Cross by Mr. Roosevelt, Cary Grayson has filled Sewanee men with pride and admiration. Not since the celebration of Bishop Gailor's fortieth anniversary as Bishop of Tennessee has he returned to his alma mater, but in his brilliant work and through his contacts he has helped keep Sewanee's name before the public eye.

Dr. Finney Elected Vice-President Of Southeastern Conference

At the regular annual meeting of the Southeastern Conference held in December at Tuscaloosa, Ala., Dr. B. F. Finney was elected Vice-President. He will also be a member of the Executive Committee which decides the policies of the Conference. Dr. Finney was being seriously considered for the Presidency but refused to allow his name to be placed in nomination due to the fact that he expects to resign as Vice-Chancellor soon.

"SEWANEE DAY"

tures further and still maintain a satisfactory degree of efficiency and the high standards that are traditionally Sewanee's.

"I feel," the Chancellor said in outlining for the ALUMNI NEWS the Department's plan for Sewanee Day, "that with the real cooperation of all the Alumni living in the Dioceses owning the University, much can be accomplished by this method of preventing a deficit this year. I have suggested that Sunday, May 2, or a Sunday near that date, be designated as Sewanee Day. Every alumnus can help in a fine, substantial manner by seeing the Rector of his own parish, or of the Episcopal parish nearest him, finding out what day is to be observed, and assisting the parson in making Sewanee Day a success."

GAILOR MEMORIAL

Matron's quarters, lounges, and student meeting halls.

Committees are already being formed in Nashville and Memphis for raising the Gailor Memorial building fund, and similar committees will be formed in other cities as rapidly as circumstances permit. In this, as in every other enterprise undertaken for the advancement of Sewanee, the alumni are playing an active part.

Sewanee's "own" orchestra, Kay Kyser, played for the fourth time here at Sewanee when he appeared in the Ormond Atkins gym on the first two days in February . . . the Rev. J. D. Zimmerman of Baltimore, Md., and the Rev. Valter Klein of Morristown, N. J., were two of the visiting lecturers who have filled temporarily the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. DuBose . . . The Kappa Alpha fraternity held a tea on Sunday afternoon, January 17 . . . Dean Davidson of Bard College, an experimental extension of Columbia University, spent his spring reading period at Sewanee with Dr. and Mrs. McDonald . . . the two French movies which have been screened at the Union were received with enthusiasm by students because of the shocking frankness of the French, by others because of an understanding and appreciation of France . . . Francis S. Coan, general secretary of the English Speaking Union, delivered a lecture in Persian Gardens at the Sewanee Inn on February 15 . . . "Among the Moonshiners", a typical melodrama of the twenties, was received with a great deal of glee by students and residents when it was presented in the MacKellar Little Theater late in the month of February . . . It was the first time that the new theater had been used for a dramatic production, but the new stage has been in constant use since September as a place of meetings for student organizations and as the hall in which debates are held . . . girl debaters from William and Mary and from the University of South Carolina brought large crowds out to hear minimum wages under discussion . . . during the month of April Sewanee debaters are taking a trip through Alabama, Georgia, and South Carolina . . . the annual highway survey of the Chattanooga-Memphis road which cuts through the center of the University was viewed by students and residents with passing interest . . . the Scholarship Society recently augmented its ranks by fifteen members . . . fifty-three pledges were initiated into their fraternities immediately after hell week in the month of February . . . Kappa Alpha led the way in scholastic achievement with an average of 81.95; the general average for the college was 78.91 . . . TRACK

Track practice began on March 8th as a fair sized squad reported to Coach Allen Lincoln. Good material is scarce but the returning members from last year's squad and some sophomore talent should make a squad that will show creditably in all their meets.

Last year's returning members are: W. Brown (440 and discus); Colmore (high jump and shot); Douglas (100 and 220); MacKenzie (hurdles); Turner (880 and mile); Gillespie (100 and 220); Bill Cochran and Ted Bratton are outstanding men up from last year's frosh team. The schedule is as follows:

- April 2 and 3—Intramural Meet.
- April 17—T.P.I. at Sewanee.
- April 24—Southwestern at Memphis.
- May 1—Vanderbilt at Nashville.
- May 8—T.I.A.A. Meet at Knoxville.
- May 15—Southeastern Conference Meet at Birmingham.

The Freshman track team will meet the Vandy Frosh at Sewanee on May 8th.

The Mid-South Prep School Meet will be held again this year at Sewanee on April 30th and May 1st. This meet will bring over 150 prep school boys to Sewanee from the outstanding prep schools of this section.

TENNIS

Tennis prospects for the coming season are quite bright at the present time. With three members back from last year's team and several up from the freshmen ranks, Sewanee should win the majority of her matches and show up well in the Conference and State Meets.

The nucleus of the team will be formed around Hugh Shelton, T.I.A.A. champion, Alex Guerry, sophomore star, Ruddy Cravens and Billy Crook, both members of last year's squad. Other players trying out for the team are: James Packer, Hill Luce, and Sam Brown. In addition to the Southeastern Conference and T.I.A.A. Meets the schedule includes matches with Vanderbilt, Tennessee, Kentucky, Miss. State, Mississippi, Southwestern, Alabama, Birmingham-Southern and Chattanooga.

precious audience . . . a new wrought iron lamp and new steps in front of All Saints' Chapel have greatly enhanced the appearance of the quadrangle . . . Alex Guerry, Jr., had little trouble in winning a table tennis tournament in which over sixty students participated . . . Sigma Nu walked away with the intramural basketball crown, and fraternities are now turning their thoughts to golf, tennis, track, and handball . . . Parr Hooper McQueen, a freshman in the University, met a tragic death near Roanoke, Va., as the car in which he was riding home for Easter overturned; Wallace Gage was critically injured while Finley Wright and Gilbert Edson suffered less severe injuries . . . Dick Jurgens and his orchestra played for the dances given after Easter . . .

VARSITY BASKETBALL

With the exception of the 1934 season when Sewanee did not win a game, the basketball season just closed was one of the most disastrous in the University's recent history. The Tigers' quintet, though they played many close games, lost all but one of their contests.

On the Mountain

ATHLETIC OFFICIALS OF DARTMOUTH College recently extended to Sewanee an invitation to play football there in 1938. Sewanee officials were forced to decline on account of a conflicting engagement.

AT A RECENT MEETING of the Athletic Board of Control, Joel Eaves of Auburn was added to the coaching staff of the University for the coming year. He will serve as an assistant coach in football and basketball. Eaves is a native of Atlanta, Ga., and will graduate from the Alabama Polytechnic Institute this June. During his college career he was an exceptional student athlete. Auburn and one of the most outstanding athletes in the South. The University authorities consider that he will be a real asset to our athletics and student life.

THE SEWANEE CHAPTER of the English Speaking Union has been instrumental in bringing several noted visitors to the mountain recently. Under their auspices Lord Phillimore and Mr. Henry V. McKinnon Raikes, members respectively of the British House of Lords and House of Commons, spent a week-end here, speaking in chapel and gaining a gathering at the home of Prof. Geo. B. Myers, head of the English Speaking Union chapter. The Union also observed Shakespeare's birthday anniversary, April 23, by presenting Dr. Edwin Mims, Professor of English at Vanderbilt, in an address entitled, "Bright Intervals in England".

THE MOUNTAIN HAS HAD its "bright intervals", too; among them: Dr. Henry D. Phillips, former chaplain, now Rector of Trinity Church, Columbia, S. C., paid Sewanee a visit . . . Dick Jurgens following Jimmie Joy and Kay Kyser) and his orchestra supplied the music for the Spring set of German Club dances . . . Phi Beta Kappa initiated six juniors—Bert Ephgrave, Dan Gray, Henry Manning, Harvey McClellan, Nesbitt Mitchell, and Billy Wilkerson . . . Students were assured of a Spring vacation next year . . . A series of four French movies was presented by the Department of French . . . The dramatic class, directed by H. Gruber Woolf, offered a melodrama, "Among the Moonshiners", and an evening of Shakespeare with all the characters in dinner jackets . . . Blue Key sang, acted, tumbled, magicked, and parquised its way through the "Follies of 1937", benefitting Emerald-Hodgson Hospital and panicking a capacity audience . . . The Sewanee Glee Club, conducted by Paul S. McConnell, sang at Tracy City, the Franklin County Clover Festival at Winchester, the Blue Key Follies here, and at Chattanooga . . . Not so bright are these items: Two Freshmen, Parr Hooper McQueen, of Silver Spring, Md., and Percy Bell, Jr., of Greenville, Miss., met sudden death . . . "Uncle Dunk" Tate of Jump Off, well known to many alumni, died recently . . . Dr. Finney's fifteen-year-long administration as Vice-Chancellor draws rapidly to a close, and his successor has not been named.

BENJAMIN PHILLIPS, JR., of Galveston, Texas, and Robert Emmet Gribbin, Jr., of Asheville, N. C., have been named by the Faculty of the University as valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively, of the Class of 1937.

THE S.M.A. COMMENCEMENT Program begins Thursday, May 27, with Literary Exercises at 7:30 p.m., and closes Monday, May 31, with Graduation Exercises in All Saints' Chapel at 9:00 A.M. The Rev. Prentice A. Pugh, D.D., (Sewanee '05), Rector of the Church of the Advent, Nashville, will preach the Commencement sermon in All Saints' Chapel, Sunday, May 30, at 11:00 A.M. Brigadier-General James H. Reeves, U. S. A., Retired, of Atlanta, will deliver the address to the graduating class on Monday. Cadet First Lt. J. L. Perry, Jr., of Nashville, is valedictorian of the class, and Cadet Corporal John F. Watkins, Jr., of Faunsdale, Ala., is salutatorian.

AMALGAMATION of Pi Omega and Sigma Epsilon, oldest literary societies on the Mountain, has been announced by Maj. W. H. MacKellar, Professor of Public Speaking. The joint society will retain both the old names.

DAVID E. FRIERSON, for the last seven years Assistant Professor of French in the University, has completed all the requirements for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, and the degree will be conferred upon him by the University of North Carolina in June. He is promoting, and will act as Dean of the Sewanee French School, scheduled to open here June 17, with Quintard Hall as French House.

THE REV. JOHN R. BILL, III, will be married in June to Miss Sarah Louise Starr, of Charleston, S. C., Episcopal student worker at the University of Georgia. They will live in Spokane, Wash., where the Rev. Mr. Bill will be rector of a parish.

HONORARY

Dr. W. E. Baldwin, Cleveland, Ohio
Rt. Rev. Wm. T. Capers, San Antonio, Texas
Rev. Oliver J. Hart, D.D., Washington, D. C.
Dr. F. J. Foakes Jackson, Englewood, N. J.
Dr. Warren Kearney, New Orleans, La.
Dr. William S. Keller, Cincinnati, Ohio
Dr. Albert H. Lucas, Washington, D. C.
General W. R. Smith, Sewanee, Tenn.
Mrs. Queenie Washington, Cedar Hill, Tenn.

PENDING SELECTION of a successor to the Rev. William Haskell DuBose, D.D., who died last Fall, three special lecturers on the Old Testament have been brought to St. Luke's in recent months. They are the Rev. John Zimmerman, of Baltimore, the Rev. Walter C. Klein, of Morristown, N. J., and the Rev. John R. Dallenger of Canton, Mass. It is thought probable that one of the three will be chosen to occupy the chair of Old Testament in the Seminary.

THE VARSITY TENNIS TEAM, composed of Hugh Shelton, Alex Guerry, Jr., Ruddy Cravens, Billy Crook, and Sam Brown, turned in another overwhelmingly successful season this year, with twelve victories, three defeats, and one tie. The team lost to Kentucky, Alabama, and Vanderbilt; won from Southwestern, Kentucky (return engagement), Ole Miss (twice), Mississippi State, Mississippi College, University of Chattanooga (twice), Wayne University, Augustana College, Centre College, and Birmingham Southern, and tied Southwestern in a return engagement. Individual players also performed creditably in tournament play. Shelton went to the semi-finals in the Tulane Invitational Tournament, where he was beaten by the national intercollegiate champion, Ernie Sutter—6-1, 6-4. (Sutter's score against his finalist opponent was 6-1, 6-1.) Guerry went to the finals, and Cravens to the semi-finals, of the T. I. A. A. tournament.

THE VARSITY TRACK TEAM made a better showing this season than in a number of years, taking third place in the T. I. A. A. meet with twenty points. This score includes two firsts: Wm. J. Cochrane in the 120-yard high hurdles and Wm. A. Douglas in the 220-yard dash. In dual meets the team won over Tennessee Polytechnic and lost to Vanderbilt and Southwestern.

IN THE T. I. A. A. MEET referred to above, Douglas ran the 220-yard dash in 22.2, tying the Sewanee record set by Bill Coughlan in 1922.

PHI DELTA THETA ATHLETES repeated last year's victory in the intramural track meet, scoring 85 5-6 points. The Sigma Nu's took second place with 68 1-2 points, and the Phi Gamma Deltas came third with 20 points. The meet was held April 1-3.

SEWANEE WAS HOST AGAIN, on April 30 and May 1, to the Mid-South Association (prep school) track meet, held on Hardee Field. More than 100 contestants, comprising five full teams, representing Baylor, Tennessee Military Institute, McCallie, Castle Heights, and Tennessee Industrial School, took part in the meet. Baylor won first place with 63 points, T. M. I. scored 58 points for second place, and McCallie took third place with 23 points. Eight new association records were set in the meet. This annual affair is growing in interest and attendance, and is regarded as one of the high lights of Sewanee's athletic year.

About Sewanee Alumni

THE REV. RUSSELL K. SMITH, Rector of Epiphany Episcopal Church, Atlanta, since 1909, died in Atlanta, May 13.

'97

THE REV. WILLIS WILKINSON MEMMINGER, D.D., Rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church, Atlanta, for twenty-seven years, died in Atlanta, May 4.

'01

DR. JAMES B. HACKLEY died on Feb. 4 at his home in Purcellville, Va.

'06

GUY A. BLOUNT, prominent Nacogdoches, Texas, business man, former president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce and long a trustee of the University, was fatally injured in an automobile accident near Kaufman, Texas, April 27.

'07

FRANK A. GUMM, who died in 1935, left three daughters—Mary Jane, Virginia, and Frances—who sang publicly as the Garland Sisters. Now the youngest of the three, Frances, aged 13, is described by critics as a "bright new singing star in the Hollywood firmament". Known now as Judy Garland, she was one of the featured players in "Pigskin Parade".

'12

MAJ. PHILIP B. WHITAKER, of Chattanooga, was mentioned in the newspapers as a possible successor to the late United States Senator Nathan L. Bachman, when the latter died suddenly.
